MANY GUNS BOOMING.

A Sudden Change of the Spirit of Esquimault's Dream.

How the War Ships Look; Reports of Armed Sealers Denied.

VICTORIA, B. C., July 8.—For many months the only British warship in Esquimault harbor has been the Amphion. But now all is changed as if by magic. The Champione suddenly steamed into Esquimault, closely followed by the Daphne, Nymphe and Espegle, all smart sloops of war. These ships are entering drydock one or two at a time, receiving scraping, painting and overhauling, and are taking on supplies, coal, provisions, ammunition and other articles requisite for extended cruises.

The Amphion is out in the Straits of Fuca every day at target practice and tons of powder and shot are being used up, perfecting the drill of her crew in handling her fine battery. Every day large numbers of people stroll along the beach off Beacon hill watching her maneuvers and following with their eyes her shells and solid shot as they ricochet from wave to wave. Judging from her practice, the Amphion could make it very interesting for any ship of her own class.

Besides these dogs of war, the Warsprite, carrying the flag of Admiral Holtham, will arrive at Esquimault not later than July 20. Her arrival will mark an era in the shipping of this port. She will be the largest steamer that ever entered these waters. Admiral Holtham is a fighter from away back, and his appointment to this station is very suggestive, in view of recent events and of the fact that some thirty Victoria schooners are hunting seals in Behring sea. Everybody here is wondering what this sudden gathering around Esquimault arsenal of all these British gamecocks portends.

Our sealing schooners went to Behring Sea with almost certain conviction that they could conduct their business of hunting seals in perfect peace. Now there is no use of attempting to disguise the fact that they are very nervous and expect seizures. Almost any news would be better than the prevailing suspense and uncertainty. Nothing new is at all likely to transpire in this section until the admiral arrives, unless some sudden and unexpected news is received from Behring sea.

Is Denied.

VICTORIA, B. C., July 8.—The statements appearing in American papers, dated Victoria, that schooners were arriving here and at Maple Bay for the purpose of resistance to American cutters are wholly without foundation.

MAY LIQUIDATE.

If the Government's Scheme Fails Uruguay is Bursted.

BUENOS AYRES, July 8.—The Uruguayan government legislature met in special session on Sunday to consider what course it was expedient to pursue in view of the suspension of specie payments by the national banks. The session, which was held behind closed doors, was prolonged until midnight. Finally a bill was passed which will be promulgated at once, sanctioning the suspension of specie payments for six months, and pointing out the necessity for adopting this financial policy.

This action alarmed the merchants and a deputation sought information in regard to the measure. The government stated it had no intention of resorting to a forced currency. It fears that the people will not accept paper currency, desires to save the national bank if possible. If the effort fails the bank will be forced to liquidate.

The premium on gold in Buenos Ayres advanced today from 175 per cent to 195 per cent.

May Come Too Late.

MONTEVIDEO, July 8.—There is no abatement in the financial panic here. In order to stop the run on the banks the government issued a decree making yesterday a national holiday. One million five hundred thousand dollars in gold is on its way here from Buenos Ayres, and it is hoped that upon its arrival the financial distress will be relieved.

The Turk Braces Up.

LONDON, July 8.—The Turkish government has sent a new note to the British government demanding that it fix the date upon which Egypt will be evacuated by British troops, and waiving the right to again occupy that country.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL WRECK.

Mail Train Collides With a Freight Car; The Latter Worsted.

CHICAGO, July 8.—The fast mail train from New Orleans over the Illinois Central, due in this city on the initial trip at 1 o'clock this morning, ran into a freight car near Monee, a few miles out of Chicago.

The freight car was totally wrecked, being distributed for yards along the track. The locomotive of the fast mail, though badly crippled, did not leave the track. The mail coach and baggage car also held to the track, the occupants of the car sustaining no injuries beyond slight bruises from contact with the sides of the car.

How the empty freight car came to be on the main track immediately in the path of the fast mail train is not known. An engine went from this city to bring the disabled train to Chicago.

Several newspaper men from New Orleans were aboard the train.

Wigginston Dead.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—P. D. Wigginston, who was the candidate of the American party for the presidency in the last campaign, and who has served two terms in congress as a representative from California, died at his home in Oakland yesterday.

A Michigan Lumber Fire.

FERRYSBURG, Mich., July 8.—Fire last night destroyed 1,000,000 feet of lumber and 10,000 cords of slabs, the property of the Grand Haven Lumber company.

The Grand Haven and Spring Lake fire departments arrived in time to save the mill. The entire village was only saved by hard work. Some fifty families moved their goods to points of safety.

SETTLING DIFFICULTIES.

Elks Meet in Cleveland to Make Some Changes.

CLEVELAND, July 8.—The rump of seceding members of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks met here today behind closed doors. The grand exalted ruler, Dr. Simon Quinlin of Chicago, John W. White of the same city, who was appointed grand secretary by Quinlin, after the latter had suspended the New York lodge, and other minor officers were present. The attendance of members of subordinate lodges was not large.

One of the most important matters to come before the gathering is the consideration of charges preferred by Frank E. Wright, in accordance with official orders, against the New York lodge; the latter was served several weeks ago with papers notifying it to appear and show cause why its charter should not be revoked, but it has made no response, and in the matter of sending delegates has utterly ignored the rump mandate.

It is given out that the present gathering proposes to adopt a new constitution and to introduce a new feature in the order in the shape of "herds," provisions being made for a great herd and subordinate herds.

THE CONVENTION OPENS.

Program of the Teachers' Convention now in Session.

ST. PAUL, July 8.—Fully 12,000 educators, male and female, from the humble school teacher in the Colorado mining camp to the professor of one of the big Eastern colleges were crowded into the eastern portion of Rice park this afternoon, when the annual convention of the National Educational association was called to order.

Governor W. R. Merriam welcomed the visitors on behalf of the state, State Superintendent of Instruction D. L. Kiehle on behalf of his department, Mayor Robert A. Smith, and D. D. Merrill, chairman of the executive central committee for St. Paul, and President Cyrus Northrup of the university of Minnesapolis, President Irwin Shephard of the state normal school at Winona, Professor L. C. Lord, president of the State Teachers' association and President J. W. Strong of Carleton college, in behalf of the educational interests of Minnesota. All the speeches were loudly and enthusiastically applauded.

Tonight the convention will be formally organized in the People's church by Professor Canfield, who will review the progress of education throughout the country during the past year.

H. Tyndale; treasurer and assistant secretary, G. A. Eades.

THE STRIKES ARE ON.

Several Strikes of Street Men and Plumbers Take Place.

But they Probably Will Not Last; The Men Want $2 a Day.

The annual strike among the street laborers is on again, but it is not probable that there will be a repetition of the troubles of a year ago. The trouble is confined almost entirely to Forrestal Bros.' contracts on Ohio avenue and Michigan street. Work is still going on on their contracts on Bench street and East Superior street, and they feel confident that matters will be settled by tomorrow.

Thirty men quit work late yesterday afternoon when they found that the contractors would not accede to their demands for $2.00 a day and at once began visiting the other contracts to enlist the sympathies of men. McArthur Bros' men are receiving $2.00 a day and they refused to join. E. A. Fritzgerald who is grading the alley above Second street from Fifth to Sixth avenues East reported that his men were satisfied but were driven from work by the strikers, and J. C. Morrison who is building the sewer in Eleventh avenue reported that the strikers visited the work this morning and when his men refused to leave they were driven from the trench with clubs. The police took charge of the matter and no further trouble is anticipated.

At the High school building and the Lyceum theatre excavation the walking delegates received cold comfort. So far as can be learned there are less than fifty men out not including those of the Street Railway company. If there is any indication that force is being used, the strikers will be taken in hand by the police.

The carpenters at work on J. D. Ray's house struck this morning because several steamfitters, also at work with them, were laboring ten hours.

At the street railway work of track widening at Eighteenth avenue west strikers gathered early this morning, and after considerable talk proceeded up town, coming back before noon. These men also got $1.75 and demanded $2. There are about 115 men in the employ of the company, laying track on Superior street.

A BIG TURNOUT.

Over Seven Hundred Clerks and Their Sympathizers March in Line.

The oft-announced clerks' parade in favor of early closing took place last evening, and was a much larger affair than had been expected. There were, besides the clerks' union of fifty-eight members, full representatives of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners; the Plumbers, Steam and Gas Fitters' union; the Co-operative Plasterers' union; The Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators; the cigarmakers', tanners' and coopers' unions. There were two bands and a marshal. There were fireworks also and a good deal of mirth and pleasure.

A large number of business houses along the line of march were closed, many of the windows being brightly illuminated and displaying placards which bore expressions of good will toward the movement. The parade formed at the corner of First street and Second avenue west, marched to Sixth avenue west on First, down to Superior and east to Third avenue east, and then countermarched back to Eighth avenue west and to the hall.

The parade showed nothing so much as the sympathy given the clerks by all other labor organizations and the general public as well, and was an unqualified success.

The stereopticon lecture at the Bethel this evening will be very interesting. Mr. Salter will take his tourists through Venice, Naples and Pompeii. During the lecture the flood at Johnstown and the destruction of Pompeii will be contrasted.

A runaway this morning caused an exciting time on West Superior street. The horses took the sidewalk in front of The Spalding, knocking down one man and scattering the crowd in all directions. One of the animals broke a leg. The wagon was demolished.

The following variations in temperature were reported at the Pioneer Fuel company's office, Hotel St. Louis, 326 Superior street: 12 m., 55°; 3 p. m., 61°; 6 p. m., 72°; 9 p. m., 71°; 7 a. m., 60°; 9 a. m., 63°; 12 m., 66°. Maximum, 72. Minimum, 48°. Daily range, 24°.

Dorothea Cronbury has brought suit for divorce from her husband, Nels C. Cronburg, basing her action on the grounds of desertion.

The case of the city against Anton and Casper Schulte is on trial in the municipal court. The defendants are the owners of the Minnesota Home on Fifth avenue west which the city claims encroaches upon the street, and the owners were arrested on the charge of obstructing the street.

VEST ON SILVER.

Mr. Vest Expresses Himself on "Parity;" Washington News.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The house committee on elections today disposed of two Mississippi contested election cases—Hill vs. Catchings from the Third district, and Kernaghan vs. Hooker from the Eleventh. The decision was in favor of the sitting democratic members, Catchings and Hooker. The Florida case of Goodrich vs. Bullock was discussed at length and the final decision was deferred until next week, although it was apparent that the majority is disposed to report in favor of the claims of Goodrich, the republican contestant.

Representative Lacey was instructed to notify Mr. Garland to appear and make argument before the committee next Tuesday in the case of Representative Breckenridge of Arkansas.

Brigadier-Gen. Benjamin H. Grierson was placed on the retired list of the army today.

In the house Mr. Rogers of Arkansas made the point of order that there was no quorum present. The speaker was able to count but 122 members, and on motion of Mr. McKinley a roll call was ordered. It disclosed the presence of 134 members—more than a quorum. The journal was read. The senate amendments were concurred in for the admission of Wyoming.

In the senate the conference report on the silver bill was taken up, and Mr. West stated the reasons why he should vote no. A large majority had voted, he said, for the free coinage of silver, but the conference report absolutely did away with all idea of free coinage, and condemned the system under which silver had degraded since 1873 He was anxious to see an absolute parity between the two metals. He would like to see the time when sixteen ounces of silver would purchase an ounce of gold. He had never been "a silver man" for the purpose of booming silver. He was against that and all other forms of subsidy. The conference might give an increased market for silver, but the principle for which the senate voted—that the two metals should be on a parity, had been given away in that bill.

Mr. Coke expressed his concurrence. He could not support the conference bill.

MILITARY AFFAIRS.

Rearrangement Caused by the Retirement of Gen. Grierson.

WASHINGTON, July 8—It is said that the retirement of Brigadier General Grierson which goes into effect today by reason of his having reached the limit of age, will be followed by a re-arrangement of the principal military commands. It is said that the plans which have been practically adopted by Secretary Proctor contemplating the transfer of General Howard to Chicago, and General Miles to New York, giving General Stanley, General Gibbon, General Ruger, General Merrett, or General Brook command of the division of the Pacific.

This plan will relieve General Schofield of his present extra duty as a divisional commander and allow him to devote his entire time to his regular duties as general commander of the army, as was the case before the death of General Crook.

It was generally expected that these changes in the military division commands would have followed immediately upon Crook's demise, but for various reasons Secretary Proctor preferred to postpone final action for nearly three months.

Holding Them Up.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Prominent railroad men representing nearly all of the western lines, are here today in response to the notification of the interstate commerce commission, that it will require them to show cause why grain rates should not be reduced to seventeen cents from Missouri river to Chicago and twelve cents from the Missouri river to the Mississippi. The present rates are twenty and fifteen cents, and many of the roads claim the proposed rates would be ruinous. From the report by the commission it is believed that a reduction will be ordered.

A FURNACE.

Chicago is Having Another Scorcher; No Deaths Yet.

CHICAGO July 8:—Yesterday was the hottest day of the season. It was more than that. It was the hottest day in Chicago since July 17, 1888, on that date the thermometer went up to 94 degrees.

At 10 o'clock it was only 79. The wind was from the south all day, blowing at the rate of from twenty to twenty-five miles an hour. This weather will probably continue for a couple of days. The maximum temperature will probably be somewhere around 90 degrees. There is very little humidity in the atmosphere. The rain is all up north.

Although yesterday was nearly a degree hotter than any one of the eight days of hot weather through which the city has just passed, there were comparatively few cases of sunstroke reported and no deaths. This was doubtless due in a great measure to the dryness of the atmosphere.

Reported Killed.

CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., July 8.—Several days ago D. W. Spalding, clerk of the courts of this county, accompanied by an Indian, left for the interior of the reservation to prospect for coal. Excitement was caused today by the report that they had been killed by Indians. Agent Anderson at once set out with Indian police to investigate.

School Election.

The annual school election will be held July 19, for the purpose of electing members of the board of education. Directors are to be chosen in place of A. W. Bradley and J. T. Hale and a vote will also be held on the further issue of $100,000. These are wanted for the new high school.

PYTHIANS AND SISTERS.

The Supreme Conclave Makes Things Lively in Beerville.

The Streets Run White with Foam and Knightly Helmets.

MILWAUKEE, July 8.—The Cream City presents a brilliant spectacle on the morning of the day appointed for the opening of the sixteenth session of the supreme lodge of the world of the Knights of Pythias and the first encampment of the Uniform Rank of that order. Public buildings and private houses are decorated profusely and with much artistic taste; the air is full of music and the thousands of visitors from all parts of the country that fill the streets are intermingled with brilliant uniforms, waving plumes and glittering decorations of the knights themselves.

At 9 o'clock the officers and members of the supreme lodge assembled at the Plankington house, and headed by a band of music, marched to the Exposition building. Here, after the sixteenth annual session had been formally declared opened, a royal welcome was extended to the delegates on behalf of the state of Wisconsin and the city of Milwaukee by Governor W. D. Hoard, Mayor Geo. W. Peck and Chancellor Hoskins, and appropriate responses were made by Supreme Councillor Wm. Ward, Howard Douglas, John A. Hinsey, Gen. G. W. Lindsey of Baltimore and others.

The weather is a shade cooler and the movements of the troops were more spirited in consequence. The gathering at the hall was very small—a mere handful—the visiting knights preferring to spend the morning in excursions to suburban resorts and in walks in the parks and well-shaded streets of the city. The ordeal of parading in uniform under a blazing sun is to be an experience of the latter portion of the day, and the knights who intend to participate in the parade and review wisely concluded to husband their strength.

The great event of the week, the parade of the Uniform Rank, will take place at 4 o'clock this afternoon. It will be one of the most magnificent military displays ever seen in the United States. The company will move forward over a line of march extending three miles through the principal streets of the city and will be reviewed by the supreme chancellor and Maj.-Gen. Carnahan. Two thousand men on horseback will lead the line, and 10,000 knights fully equipped in their attractive uniforms will follow on foot.

The experiment of placing the knights in camp has proven a decided success. There are sixteen brigades in all, consisting of about seven regiments each. The Louisiana knights are camped with their brothers from Illinois, Virginia keeps company with Kentucky, and the Southern battalions, which are not large enough to form a brigade, are brigaded with Tennesee and Missouri.

Indiana has the place of honor at the right, with Illinois at the extreme left. The knights lack nothing in the way of comfort and convenience and are ten times more enthusiastic over their quarters than if they had been assigned to hotels or private houses.

The supreme temple of Pythian sisters held its first meeting at noon today, but adjourned after the transaction of some routine business to witness the parade of the uniform rank. Its sessions will be resumed tomorrow morning.

This order was established a little more than a year ago, but it already has a membership of 4000 with seven grand temples. It aims to be to the Pythian order what the sisters of Rebecca are to the Odd Fellows. One hundred and ten sister delegates are here and "work" will be exemplified before the grand lodge on Wednesday evening by the degree staff of Temple No. 1 of Warsaw, Ind., which reached here last night in a special car. It is estimated that with the knights and their friends, there are fully 50,000 strangers in the city.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION.

A Utah Depot Goes Skyward; The Damage Heavy.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 8.—At Milford yesterday a lot of giant and other powders exploded at the railroad depot without any known cause. The shock was terrific, the freight house being almost blown to pieces. In an instant the whole building was a fire and all efforts to save it were fruitless.

The loss is very heavy, amounting to many thousands of dollars. The wind was blowing hard and it was only by prolonged and vigorous efforts that the round house and a long train of cars were saved. There were several narrow escapes and some persons were hurt, but none severely.

CONDITION OF THE IRON TRADE.

An article in The American Economist contains the statement that the furnaces of this country have made 4,250,000 gross tons of pig iron during the first six months of 1890, and that all but 250,000 tons of this has gone into consumption in the same time. Of this large production only 250,000 tons has gone into the building of new railroads, the greater part of it being used in current repairs, for building purposes and for machinery and rolling stock. "Notwithstanding this enormous production," says The Economist, "and the fact that the product of the last six months of the year is likely to exceed it by 20 per cent, there is no reason to expect that the year's activity will be followed by a depression. Stagnation in the iron market has always followed a season of heavy importation at high figures."

It is reasonable to suppose that instead of the present activity in the iron market being succeeded by a marked depression, an extended period of prosperity is being ushered in. In no stage of the iron trade are stocks of any kind being accumulated. A large amount of building is being carried on, and capital is thus being distributed at a moderate rate among the wage-earners of the country. Labor troubles are rare, and the farmer is promised a good crop and much better prices. It is easy enough to predict hard times, because if we are to experience them it must be in the future, but there is, certainly, nothing in the present condition of trade or in the mercantile methods of the day that has a tendency to hasten a business reaction.

Early in the season it was feared in the Lake Superior iron districts that the eagerness with which furnace men made contracts for ore, indicated only a temporary spurt in the iron market which would leave the business flat for the next year. The consumption of pig iron which has been referred to, will however, reassure the mine owners, and preparations for an increased output for 1891 will undoubtedly follow.

One of the evidences of the steadily increasing iron export business of this country is given in the following clipping from The London Iron and Steel Trades' Journal: "It is evident that British pig iron is not excluded from the Canadian market by native competition. For supplies of forge iron, Canadian manufacturers have long since sought deliveries from the United States, and were content to fall back upon Scotland for the best foundry iron, but this trade is now going from us. Ten years ago in the first months of 1880, we exported 22,601 tons of pig iron to Canada. In the first four months of the current year the shipments have been 902 tons.

Telegraphic communication now reestablished with Fargo brings the good news that the wreck made by the storm there was not as great as the first hasty reports gave reason to fear. The little city is hard hit, but not struck down, and will soon be in shape again. There is special congratulation also that so little damage was done to the standing wheat in the district round about.

Duluth's public library board is getting down to business. Last night, after a good deal of figuring and not a little careful work, it closed a contract for the first order of books. These will number about 4000 and include a wide range of subjects. It is believed by the board that there is not a book on the list that is not useful and valuable and that will not be used considerably. Seven or eight weeks will see the library opened for the circulation of books, and in a much less time there will be full reading tables, which will be made as attractive as possible.

A good deal of free advertising is being given to both sides of the bay by some lively letter-writers who are doing a rushing business in odorous comparisons. This may be cheap and valuable exercise in English composition for the letter-writers, but we fail to see how the public at large on either side of the bay is to profit by it. As The Herald is not chartered and run as a club paper, it intends to confine its columns as strictly as possible to news matter, and let the Superior club papers have their Kilkenny fair all to themselves. If they are let alone here, and have only the air on this side to club, their enlivenment will be gone unless they fall to clubbing one another, as is likely, just to keep their hands in. We are willing to pass the hat on this side for a fresh air fund for Superior, but not for a stale gymnasium. And we do not believe that clubs are trumps for either side. But if Superior insists on playing old sledge, let it be a solitaire game. Duluth cannot take a hand in it without wasting time and advertising the other side of the bay gratis. And The Herald for one does not want a hand in such a game.

The Kansas City Investment company in its recently published statement knocks a big hole through the stock poster that has been stuck on the campaign hearse in the rural districts. This investment company has been dividing its business in farm loans and loans on city property in Kansas. Its total farm loan business for the past thirteen years, since its incorporation, amounts to $6,755,000 and its total loans on city property to $4,837,000. Of this amount there are now outstanding farm loans of $3,772,000, and of city loans $3,418,000. The total amount of foreclosures and the total amount received by deeds to prevent foreclosures amounted on farm loans to $63,025. More than one-half of the amount has been disposed of at a profit, and the remainder will be disposed of at a greater profit. If this is the showing for Kansas farm loans, in view of the notorious fact that Kansas farms have been less profitable than those of any other western state, with the possible exception of Dakota, during the past ten years, where does the wailing and the funeral come in? Oh mortgage, how much slop has been spilled in thy name!

A wild wave comes up from the stomach of the solid South over the Federal elections bill. It carries a display ad of the probable opening of slaughter houses in the "black districts" and the shipping north of the surplus black vote, not otherwise disposed of. It will surprise the true believers in the North to see that the claim of the reconstruction of the black republicans into reliable democratic voters has dropped into the hole with McGinty. None of the shriekers show any faith now in the carrying of the black districts in any other way than by shooting or dumping out the whole black republican majority. Stripped of rot, the pith of the yell is that the solid South will get up on its ear if it is denied the great constitutional privilege of bossing the republic by puffing up its comparative representation in congress with the same voters whom it unscrupulously freezes out at the polls. Well, let it get on its ear! The spectacle will not knock the North off its feet, and an ass' ear will not make much of a campaign platform here. The nation has been swindled long enough by the threat that the South will make a jackass of itself, if it is not suffered to cheat the North.

SEEN AND HEARD.

Some years ago an effort was made to prevent fake shows planting themselves on the streets—generally at the junction of Superior and one of the western avenues. It is now claimed that Duluth has outgrown her village customs and should again make a move against allowing her streets to be disgraced in such a manner. The shows are a nuisance. They obstruct the streets. They draw crowds, and often create trouble, and have been the cause of accidents and runaways. If Duluth were a village the granting of licenses to such things might be excused, but for a city of, of—well, how many did you say? people—it is by no means excusable.

The importance of the lake transportation is now being grasped by the government. The chief of the bureau of statistics has been engaged since last winter in arranging to take statistics of the lakes. The tonnage through the Suez canal, carrying the commerce of all nations, is about 6,000,000 tons, while that through the Sault is 7,500,000 tons. The total tonnage of the lakes is estimated at over 40,000,000, while that of London and Liverpool together is only 30,000,000. An arrangement is now made whereby vessel owners will be asked for a statement of the tonnage carried by their vessels. Computations will then be made and a greater degree of exactness regarding the volume of freight carried on the lakes be made. It is a step in the right direction and only good can result from a wider appreciation of the immense strides which commerce is taking in the lake states.

Manager A. M. Miller Jr., during his recent visit to New York was a member of an excursion party which visited the new naval cruiser Baltimore, riding at anchor in New York bay. The deck of the vessel, he says, looks like a good sized village, while there are guns pointing in every direction and varying in size from a monstrous death-dealing rifle to an ordinary rifle gun or a pepper-box gatling. As versatile as Mr. Miller is in the role of theatrical impressario, he acknowledged that words failed him in describing the scene. The craft was literally covered with United States flags of all designs; a few rods away was the colossal statue of Liberty; the bands on the cruiser and the excursion boats were playing patriotic airs, and, everything considered, a person could think of nothing but liberty and that he was enjoying life in the United States.

There is no person upon whom a continued wet spell has a more depressing influence than a retail cigar dealer. One of them said last week that a succession of rainy days made him blue, because his sales fell off so. "You don't care to go along the street smoking," said he, "when one hand is holding your umbrella and when ever wind makes your cigar sputter."

The strawberry crop has been a failure this year, and grocery men declare their inability to procure good fruit. In a number of sections the crop has been large but the quality very poor. The weather may have had something to do with it, as it has been so changeable this season. Strawberries have caused much sickness too, and many people have complained of severe illness after eating of the lucious fruit.

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

George M. Eby: I was greatly tempted to go to Milwaukee Sunday with the rest of the knights, but I wanted to see that the labor parade was a success, and I am glad I did. I'll be back Sunday morning to attend the meeting of trades council in the afternoon.

A COMPLAINT.

A Taxpayer Wants to Know About Some Paving Jobs.

To the Editor of The Herald.

The board of public works has been claiming that it is doing the boss job of paving, etc. on work now being done on Michigan street from Second avenue east (its easterly end) through to a connection with the paving on the same street at Rices Point or West End. The work to be done is first class granite curbing, a foot or more of broken stones and then cedar blocks and sidewalks, both sides probably to follow, which ought to make this a first class heavy traffic street as we all believe it will be i. e. our best wholesale street.

We all know how our street grading has been done in the past. The streets have been graded and accepted by the engineer, and all paid for cash down all at once, or a 10 per cent penalty tacked on to our overburdened business and residence builders and abbutting lot owners. Then the Water & Gas company and sewer contractors come right along after the grading had been done and tore it all up to put in their pipes, with the usual results, a second class country road for taxpayers to walk and ride along and look at from their houses. This is the old racket that has been going on for years, and the people's only organization to prevent it, the Chamber of Commerce, has been mum about it.

There are those now living here who supposed such slipshod work, dignified by the name "engineering," and the approval of the board of public works was ended, but what are the facts? Just go down on to Michigan street and see. Here is this "boss job," without the gas, water and sewer connections being ordered in to the curb line, as was on Superior and First street, before paving. So that this fine work, which property holders are paying liberally for, will have to be torn up every time a connection of either is demanded, and this street will soon become more full of holes and uneven places than the roadway was before paving was attempted.

But they have carried matters worse than this. Warrants were sworn out to prevent the Gas & Water company from making connections with the new blocks going up on the upper side of Michigan street until after the paving had been finished and accepted. What blight is there resting on this street? Three times has the grade on Michigan been changed and buildings erected to correspond, as anyone can see on the lower side of the street between First and Second avenues west. Now comes this foolish paving arrangement.

Verily, what improved methods have resulted in the board of public works by the reform government. It's worse than funny, ain't it? TAX PAYER.

President Bunnell, when asked about the matter, replied that the sewer connections were all made to the curb line on Michigan street when the sewer was built, with a few exceptions, and these have now been made except in three places. The reason for not making all at the time the sewer was built was because there were heavy fills, and if the connections had been made they would undoubtedly have been broken by the sinking of earth. Gas and water connections were not put in because there is some doubt about the right of the city to make assessments for them. The Gas & Water company does not put in connections unless they know that they are to receive pay. Another reason, unless in sandy soil connections are apt to sink, and it would be no worse to tear up pavements for new work than to make repairs.

THE STATE PRESS.

Winona Herald: Governor Merriam has captured the Ramsey county delegation. He will capture the state convention just as easily. How about his election?

Le Sueur Sentinel: In the present mood Minneapolis will give Merriam a very black eye in the state convention, and it is probable that the local feeling against St. Paul will hold out until the election. No man from St. Paul need apply for votes in Minneapolis.

Faribault Democrat: That he (Merriam) will carry the state convention is no longer doubted; but what the result of the election will be, will depend upon the democratic candidate and the sentiment of the majority in reference to the influence of money in politics.

Mankato Review: Governor Merriam carried St. Paul. The caucuses were held on two days' notice. It will be so at the state convention, but when the cool breezes of November come, and the silent ballots are cast, William may learn that things are not just as he would have them.

ODDS AND ENDS.

A "fossil forest" has been discovered in Scotland. Thirty or forty fossil trunks have already been laid bare, most of which are gray freestone. One of the trunks is at least two feet in diameter.

Next summer, says the Toronto Telegraph, when the new Canadian Pacific railway steamships are on the Pacific, a passenger may go around the world by way of that line and the Suez canal in fifty-three days.

The largest single dock in the world was opened on May 12 last to the waters of Port Jackson in Sidney harbor, N. S. W. It has taken in one steamer of 6,000 tons and had room to spare.

Important revelations are expected when the prisoners who have just been released by the Mahdi reach European civilization once more. Among them are doubtless some who have long been mourned as dead.

The rat plague continues in the fen district of Linconshire, Eng., and a good deal of damage is being done. Thousands have been killed, but there is no appreciable diminution. When in close quarters the rodents are very vicious and attack people. A large number of chickens and ducks have been killed by them.

Mr. J. W. Powers, the cotton king of Webster county, Ga., proposes to grind up 700 bushels of peas, the balance of a great crop fed to his stock, and use the material as a fertilizer for his cotton crop. The peas are worth from 85 cents to $1 per bushel.

No Land on Which the Sun Shines

Possesses greater natural advantages than our own, but there are portions of the great grain-bearing west and fertile south where atmospheric influences prejudical to health militate against them, in some degree, as places of residence. Heavy rainfalls and the overflow of great rivers, which upon their subsidence leave dank vegetation exposed to the rays of the sun, there beget malarial fevers, and there also the inhabitants are periodically obliged to use some medicinal safeguard against the scourge. The most popular is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a preventive that has for over a third of a century afforded a reliable protection to those whom experience in the futility of ordinary remedies for fever and ague has taught to substitute for them. Whether intermittent or remittent, miasmatic fevers are conquered and averted by the superb anti-periodic and fortifying medicine as they are by no other preparation in use. Use it and abandon impure local bitters.

The ladies of the order of the Eastern Star will give a social at Masonic Temple on Tuesday evening, July 8. Strawberries and ice cream will be served, games played, etc. A general good time is anticipated. All members of the Masonic order and their friends are invited.

Bicycles for the Boys.

This advertisement is for the boys---and the girls as well---of Duluth, and any one of them who doesn't read it, and act on it too, will lose a good vacation chance.

Now to business, without any wait, for it's too near the Summer to wait long for anything now. The Herald has made arrangements with Crawford Bros., sporting goods dealers of 205 West Superior street, so that it can furnish any boy or girl in Duluth, who actually wants it, a good safety bicycle. All it will cost you will be a little work, and the work you can do in two or three days probably

Bicycles for the Girls.

As to the bicycles, they are good substantial machines, what are known as "Youths' Machines," and cost $35 at any of the stores. You can't get them for less. We are going to let you have a pick of three styles, a boy's safety, a girl's safety, and a boy's with the big front wheel. They are just such bicycles as are in regular and steady use here and everywhere else every day. We want to say right here that Crawford Bros. will tell you all about them, just what they are and how good they are. And they'll do more, they agree to make good any damage that comes to the machines the first year, except that brought on by careless or wrong usage.

At the Herald office on Lake avenue you can learn just how many subscribers you will have to get to secure one of these good machines. The number is a good many less than you'd think. Come and see, now.

CHAMBER AND COUNCIL.

The Chamber Talks Over a Number of Important Matters.

Council Allows Water Connections and the Henderson.

Chamber of Commerce this morning opened with communications from President Harrison, Senators Davis and Washburn and others acknowledging the receipt of the chamber's memorial regarding the Mississippi river improvements. The Cleveland board of trade also sent the copy of a memorial regarding the improving of Hay Lake channel and Sault canal.

Negotiations are pending between Duluth parties and the Northwestern Bedding company of St. Paul for the removal of the manufactory to Duluth. The concern does not seek a bonus but simply a location. The Beneteau building on Michigan street will probably be secured, and the factory will employ thirty men. The manufactured product is quilts, blankets, mattresses, springs, etc. Mr. Hirsch of The Spalding is one of the prime movers in securing this industry.

Daniel Cox addressed the meeting on the subject of car inspection. "Now that the railroad companies have issued a tariff allowing mixed car lots at vegetable rates," said Mr. Cox, "what is needed is a system of car inspection such as St Paul and Minneapolis enjoy. It is simply a question now whether the railroad will allow us to build up here a jobbing center. We are discriminated against, and it is time we received our rights."

G. G. Hartley opened a discussion regarding the improvement of Rices and Connors Point channel. Boats drawing over twelve feet must run fifteen miles to go from elevators to Eastern Minnesota docks. The secretary was asked to confer with Major Quinn about the channel, and if the government is not to dredge it out this season committies from the cities are to form plan of action, after which money will be raised and the channel dredged.

The committee on rivers and mining was instructed to make the matter of utilizing the northern Minnesota graphite beds a subject for serious consideration. There are three such deposits known to exist near Duluth, which can be worked to a large profit.

Mr. Hoopes thought that it was time to begin working up Chamber of Commerce excursions. Mr. Hartley was in favor of taking two trips, one to Montreal and one up the Duluth & Winnipeg. The short excursion will be taken immediately after the regatta, the one to Montreal some time in the fall, and the Canadian Pacific road has promised to arrange for it.

THE COUNCIL.

Two Actions of a Week Ago are Changed; Business Done.

At the meeting of the council last evening a communication was received from Consulting Engineer Boller, in which he stated that he had just learned that the council had changed the location of the canal bridge to 230 feet east of Lake avenue, instead of 30 feet, as he had intended. If this plan is followed Mr. Boller states that a new survey will be necessary and additional expense will be incurred. His location he considers to be the cheapest. The communication was placed on file.

Messrs. N. J. Miller, B. Silberstein and Morris Thomas were appointed a committee to condemn property necessary for the extension of Lake avenue along Minnesota Point.

The appointment of C. E. Shannon as railroad commissioner was approved and his name placed on the pay roll from May 1. Aldermen Long, Costello and Perry were appointed to represent the council in the chamber of commerce. The council reconsidered its action concerning the removal of the Windsor hotel and granted the petition by a vote of 8 to 2, Aldermen Mannheim and Long opposing the proposition. Seventy-two liquor licenses were granted. The application of Charles Musoli was denied and those of Charles Johnson, Thomas Timlin, Ole Olson and W. A. Wagner were held back for consideration. The ordinance granting to the Gas & Water company the right to connect with West Duluth provided it does not injure the Duluth supply, had its first reading. A petition from the fire commissioners asking for the purchase of three teams was referred. The new peddler license had its final passage, and the Gas company was ordered to remove all lamp posts.

LEARNING BY THE TON.

The Library Board Orders Several Tons of Books.

At the regular monthly meeting of the public library board, held last evening in the library rooms, a good deal of important business was transacted. The offers of half a dozen book firms of Chicago, New York, Boston and Cleveland were discussed, and it was finally decided to place the entire order of books, costing in the neighborhood of $6000, and amounting to between four and five tons, with the reliable and long-established house of G. P. Putnams Sons of New York. This firm made no specific cash offer, but agreed to furnish the entire list at a stated commission on the cost price. As Putnams are people who can get the very lowest prices, this offer was considered excellent.

There was a large list of monthly and weekly periodicals ordered, most of them of standard American, some English, and several French and German. This list, at wholesale prices will cost about $210 for the year. Bills of $576, were ordered paid, including a Hammond typewriter, salaries and supplies.

It is expected that in about three weeks the first lot of the books ordered will be on the way to Duluth, in fact the conditions of the purchase were that 75 per cent of the books be shipped one week after the order was given. Miss Angie Neff, now cashier of the Womans Exchange, was offered place as assistant librarian. Furniture for the library has mostly been bought, but several matters, of shelving, etc., were left with committees with power to act.

Amusement Notes.

OUR BIGGEST EVENT.

Gossip of the Regatta; More Entries Made in All Classes.

A Big Sailing Yacht; Sporting Notes; Some Amusements.

The New York Sun of late date, in an article on the regatta, says: "Billy Robertson, who heartlessly closed 'The Drum' during the dog days to go to Duluth and manage the monster regatta at that place on July 21 to 26, writes The Sun that he expects at least 300 oarsmen to compete during the week. * * * In the postscript Mr. Robertson adds pathetically: 'When I first came here I was known as Mr. Robertson, manager of the regatta. But the newspapers here got on, and the consequence is that everybody now familiarly addresses me as the Sparrow. One consolation is I am the only sparrow out this way; the English species is never seen here.'"

Each day continues to bring entries for the regatta. Yesterday Hugh D. Wise entered himself, Hanlan, Teemer and Hosmer, making already eleven professional entries, the others being Ten Eyck, Hamm, Gaudaur, McKay, Ross, Sargin and Vail. It is expected that there will be fourteen oarsmen to compete in the professional events, Dempsey, Courtney and Plaisted being the probable ones. The association has just had a lot of posters printed, and the Sparrow goes to Chicago and other cities tomorrow to see to extensive advertising.

A movement is on foot to arrange a sculling match for the meet of the Mississippi Valley association at Duluth between Kilby of Ottumwa, Corbett of Chicago, and Turner of Marengo. Kilby is debarred from entry in the senior singles of the association, having won the medal twice in succession. Corbett holds the single scull championship of the Mississippi, and Turner is a rising oarsman.

A low estimate of the number who will attend the regatta, is 25,000. All these people must be cared for most of them in Duluth. The association wishes to procure at once the names of all those who will take boarders during the week, and the names received will be advertised in the papers. All those boarding house keepers who can accommodate visitors, can have their addresses put in the list by leaving the same at The Herald office, together with $3.50 to cover the cost of the advertisement, the sum remaining after paying the cost of publication to go to the regatta association.

Notes of Sport.

A contemporary suggests a steam-yacht race for an extra attraction at the regatta. The Pickett, Alcyone, Electra, Dashing Spray, Altamont, Mermaid, Samuel Cook and others will be here.

Messrs. VanNorman, Williams and others have purchased a fine sailing yacht, which will be here in a few days. She is handsome, swift and roomy, fifty feet over all and forty-eight on the water line.

Hanlan may be here tomorrow.

The West End Boat club, through its secretary, James J. Watts, entered for the professional fours this morning.

Among the entries for the yacht race will be a fishing boat owned by William Marlton, Goderich, Ont.

James P. Elmer, a St. Paul business man, has entered a boat for the yacht race.

Richard K. Fox has offered to back Joe McAuliffe against Slavin for $2500 or $5000 a side. A match is likely to be made.

The California Athletic club will give a sparring exhibition tomorrow. The best legal advice in San Francisco has been taken in the matter.

The noted stock farm, Fairlawn, the home of the late Gen. W. T. Withers and his famous horse Almont, is about to be cut up and sold as town lots.

Thomas P. Hallihan, secretary of the Catlin Boat club, Chicago, writes to enter his club in the regatta for amateur events.

Invitations are being sent out to the noted men of the country to attend the Duluth-Superior aquatic carnival.

THOSE DIVIDED ELKS.

Sectional Feeling in one of the Best of Orders Causes Trouble.

New York, July 8.—The split in the order of Elks becomes a fact today. The order had its origin in New York. Under the constitution and charter of the organization this city is designated as the location for the annual meeting of the grand lodge, and no meeting can be held in any other part of the Union until the constitution and charter have been amended. Until within a year or two no objection has been manifested, while the Eastern lodges have conferred the principal offices upon Western brethren. To such an extent has this feeling been carried out that at the present time all supreme officers save one are west of the Alleghanies.

A movement was started by a few Western members looking to the removal of the headquarters from this city. The majority of the supreme officers issued a call for the grand lodge to assemble at Cleveland today. This movement was largely promoted, and has been fostered by Allen O. Myers.

The parent lodge immediately commenced legal proceedings, and in the outcome two injuctions were granted affirming the allegation that under the charter and constitution no meeting of the supreme lodge could be held elsewhere than in this city, and restraining the transfer of the records of the supreme lodge to Cleveland or any other place.

In retaliation for this movement, the exalted grand ruler, Dr. Simon Quinlin, of Chicago, issued an order removing the supreme secretary, Arthur C. Moreland, from his office, suspending the New York lodge, forbidding the recognition of its members, appointing a committee to formulate charges against the lodge, notifying it to appear at Cleveland to show cause why its charter should not be permanently revoked, and appointing a secretary in the place of Moreland.

This morning the grand lodge was opened. Delegates were present from several cities. The adjacent rooms were crowded with prominent members of the theatrical profession. A general sentiment was expressed that every actor and actress in the country should positively refuse to play for the benefit of any lodge of Elks officially represented in the rump meeting at Cleveland, and that every professional who refused to comply should be boycotted by the profession.

MARINE NOTES.

The Fine Lockwood in Port; Hesper Coming; Wheat and Corn Freights.

The propeller C. C. Hadley has been chartered for grain to Buffalo at 2½ cents. This is about equal to 95 cents for ore from Ashland, the going rate for which has been $1.20. The scarcity of dock room at Cleveland has checked the shipment and ore cargoes are obliged to look elsewhere for cargoes.

The elegant new steamer C. B. Lockwood arrived in port this morning and during the day has received the admiring glances of the mariners at the head of the lake. Her dimensions are 285 feet keel, 303 feet over all, 45 feet beam and 21 feet moulded depth. Her triple expansion engines are 23, 37 and 62 inches with a 42-inch stroke. She is equipped with a Providence steam windlass and capstan and a Williamson steam steerer. She has three light spars and extra heavy steel arches and chord inside and out. Capt. Richard Jellie is in command. She will take ore from Ashland.

The fine new steamer Hesper passed the Sault this morning and is expected to reach Duluth tomorrow.

F. H. Peavey is to load 40,000 bushels of corn, to load on vessel at Duluth. Says Mr. Peavey "the corn will be there, because we will buy it and ship it there before the steamer now in Montreal reaches Duluth."

The engine of the Colgate Hoyt is now nearly placed in the boat. The smoke stack is built and the engine will be ready to steam up in a few days. An after cabin is being built. It is expected that she will not leave port until some time after the regetta.

SANBORN, N. D., July 8—[Special to The Herald.]—A very bad wind storm, accompanied by rain and in some places hail, swept over the country yesterday morning. Several dwelling houses, school houses, barns and outhouses of all descriptions were blown to pieces. No loss of life is reported. Fifteen miles south a streak of hail, five miles long by ten or fifteen wide, swept away all kinds of growing crops, loss complete. Nearly all the growing crops are insured in the Farmers' Mutual Protective association of Grand Forks, N. D.

A Differential Flour Rate.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The interstate commerce commission was today engaged in hearing the case of the Kauffman Milling company of St. Louis vs. the Missouri Pacific and about twenty other Western and Southwestern railroad companies. The charge is that defendant companies collect for the transportation of flour from St. Louis to points in Texas, a greater rate than for wheat between the same points making a differential rate between wheat and flour, of five cents. Defendants deny that this rate is unjust, but hold that it ought to be greater because of the increased cost of handling flour over that of handling wheat.

Praise From Sir Hubert.

A more agreeable journey through diversified and attractive scenery than that which can be made by one of the two daily vestibuled fast trains of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, between Chicago and Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York would be hard to find. The Baltimore & Ohio railroad of today is a vastly different institution from that which it was a few years ago. The antiquated locomotives and cars which then constituted its equipment have given place to rolling stock of the latest and best patterns and the through trains, vestibuled from engine to rear sleeper and including dining cars and Pullman cars of the most modern and luxurious character, compare favorably with those of any in the world. The sleeping cars especially built for these trains a few months ago have some admirable improvements. The elegant simplicity of the interior decorations is in marked contrast to the louder ornamentation which not long ago was considered the height of art in such places. The wood is of mahogany with little carved or raised work, but brought down to the highest finish, carefully selected for fine grain and texture, and showing highly artistic cabinet work which the eye does not tire of admiring. The improvement in the locomotive equipment is equally remarkable. In order to climb the Alleghanies, from whose heights the passenger enjoys views of sublimity and beauty which he never forgets, heavy grades and numerous curves were necessary in constructing the road and until recently it required the help of extra engines to get a train to the summit. Now when the foot of the mountain is reached, instead of two or more engines being called into service there is attached to the train a single engine weighing 67 tons, having six coupled drivers and cylinders 12x26 inches in size, and this powerful machine takes the heavy train up the long stretches of grades, reaching as high as 118 feet to the mile, at a lively pace. The daylight ride over the mountains, especially in the time of verdure, shows a wonderfully attractive panorama in which grandeur and beauty are constantly mingled, and indeed the entire journey between Washington and Chicago proves the propriety of calling this road "Picturesque B. & O."—Railway Age.

Police Court.

There was quite a falling off in the number of prisoners in the police court this morning. Six drunks paid the usual penalty and five box car lodgers were allowed to leave the city. Gust Peterson, Harry Nordby and Geo. Fox, three boys aged 6, 10 and 11 years, were arraigned for tapping the till in Geo. A. Johnson's tea store for $20. Nordby's companions intimated that he took the money and divided with them.

A Cold Wave.

The following telegram was received from Washington this afternoon by Observer Fallon: "Charge signals to cautionary northwest at 2 p. m.; northwest wind and decided fall in temperature tonight."

LATER FROM FARGO.

A Loss of About $75,000 and Nine Lives; $26,000 at Moorhead.

Hail Also Does Damage to Crops West of the Red River.

FARGO, N. D., July 8.—[Special to The Herald.]—This city was visited by the severest wind storm yesterday morning it has ever known. It began at 2:30 o'clock and continued about half an hour. Early in the night there were some indications of rain and about midnight it began to thunder and lighten, but few anticipated any severe storm.

The wind first began to blow from the south, but suddenly shifted to the northwest and in a very short time was blowing a hurricane. Three electric light towers were soon blown down, leaving the city in inky darkness, that was relieved only by vivid flashes of lightning. The frightened inhabitants were aroused from their sleep and lights were shining from windows all over the city, but outside there was nothing but darkness and tempest and nothing could be heard but the angry roar of the wind and the crashing of flying debris. By four o'clock people were hurrying in every direction to ascertain the amount of damage done. Some appalling discoveries were soon made, the saddest being the death of 7 children of the late Capt. James McCarthy who died only a few weeks ago. The children who were at home with their mother, sought safety in the coal bin where they were all crushed to death. The mother was also seriously injured, but it is thought she will recover.

The Northern Pacific through westbound passenger after being stopped by the force of the wind in the western suburbs of the city, was blown from the track and all of the twelve cars turned over. Many of the passengers were seriously, but not dangerously injured, their injuries consisting merely of cuts and bruises. The Northern Pacific repair and machine shops were damaged $20,000 worth. The freight depots of the Great Northern and the Milwaukee roads were demolished. Several churches and other buildings were more or less damaged. The total damage throughout the city is estimated at about $75,000.

The storm destroyed the fronts of the Davis block, the Opera house, the Continental, the Garfield, the Webster, unroofed the Northern Pacific freight depot, also The Republican office and the Chapin company's hardware store. The court house tower is badly twisted and deposited on the sidewalk. Plymouth Congregational church is destroyed, the Luger Furniture company's warehouse is damaged. The Deering binder warehouse is damaged, as is Alfstad's hardware store and Vacher's restaurant and the rear of the Bank of North Dakota lies on the ground.

The following are the most seriously injured: George E. Manning, Fort Falls, Idaho, knee hurt and badly shaken up; J. F. Roundtree, Pingree, bruised and knee hurt; Mrs. Nordstrom, badly cut; Victor Montgomery, Chicago, scalp wound; John Riddis, cut; Albert Lee, bruised; Mrs. C. R. Mann, Milwaukee, arm bruised; Mrs. C. R. Griffith, Miles City, Mont., badly bruised; Dan Sipe, fireman, porter of Vice President Purdy's car, spine injured.

The storm extended over northern Minnesota and was felt at Detroit. At Moorhead $25,000 damage to property was done, besides a number of people injured. The most serious damage to property was the blowing down of the foundry, also the Great Northern round house.

Considerable damage was done to the hotels. Buildings in the country were blown down and considerable damage was done to grain.

To Nervous People.

Pick up any newspaper, from Maine to Texas, or Florida to Alaska, and you will find seductive advertisements with the above heading. Presumably these are for people whose nerves are weakened by disease, but there are many other kinds of nervous people in this queer world. Some are subject to all sorts of apprehensions when about to take a journey. The train may run off the track. The boiler of the locomotive may burst. They have heard the bridges on some roads are not safe. The train may start ahead of time and they get left. They may miss their connection with another line. The road does not run into a union depot. The conductors and brakeman are holy terrors. The "candy butchers" on the trains are insolent. Their baggage will surely be smashed. They know their trunks will get lost. They will be misdirected when they "change cars." To such people we would say, buy your railroad tickets over "The Burlington," dismiss all your fears, go to sleep in their vestibuled Pullmans, and you will wake in the morning, you and your belongings all safe, have an excellent breakfast in the dining car, and arrive at your destination on time. For rates, tickets, or any information, consult your nearest ticket agent, or address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

WHAT DULUTH IS WORTH.

The Total Personal Property Valuation Just Completed.

What it and Realty Show; An Interesting Comparison.

City Assessor Cooley has completed the footings of the assessments of real and personal property and the figures presented cannot fail to be gratifying to all interested in the growth of Duluth.

Mr. Cooley deserves great credit for the manner in which the work has been carried on and the assessment is based upon actual values. In real property the valuation shows an increase of about 20 per cent over the assessment two years ago and this increase has been for the most part on unimproved property. The assessor has the valuation of every division in the city.

The total valuation of personal property is $4,480,000 as against $3,887,000 last year showing an increase of $597,000. Adding real and personal we have the grand total of $27,900,177 as the valuation of the city, and deducting from this $1,053,880, the value of exempt property there remains $26,846,297 as the total value of taxable property in the city of Duluth, a fact as astonishing as it is gratifying.

The total valuation of real property for the city is $23,420,177, from which must be deducted $1,053,880, the assessed valuation of school, city, state, railroad, church, government and cemetery property exempt from taxation, leaving a total of $22,366,297 for taxable property, divided as follows: Property exclusive of strictures, $19,085,772; value of strictures, $3,280,525. The valuation of taxable property at the last assessment in 1888 was $18,160,000, showing an increase in two years of $4,206,297.

The value of the personal property under the different headings may be seen by the following table:

	No.	Ass'sor's Value.
Horses and mules, 3 years and over	1,300	$ 116,000
Cows, sheep and hogs	570	17,185
Wagons and carriages	800	28,000
Sewing and knitting machines	1,650	25,000
Watches and clocks	2,000	28,000
Melodeons, organs and pianos	750	74,000
House and office furniture		500,000
Agricultural tools and machinery		7,000
Gold and silver plate		10,000
Diamonds and jewelry		10,000
Franchises, annuities, patent rights, etc		3,050
Steamboats, sailing vessels, etc		100,000
Goods and merchandise		1,100,000
Manufacturers' tools and machinery		85,000
Credits of banks, brokers, etc		225,000
Bonds and stocks other than bank		450,000
Shares of bank stock		1,125,000
Shares of stock of companies not incorporated		6,500
Stock and furniture of saloons and eating houses, including billiard tables		45,000
Other personal property		80,000
Elevators and other improvements on lands owned by railroad companies		425,000
Improvements on lands of the city		6,000
Dogs over 6 months old	450	2,000
Total		$4,480,000

There is a noticeable increase in all of the above departments, noticeably in goods and merchandise which is placed at $1,100,000 this year, as against $875,000 last year. Altogether the assessment reflects great credit upon the city as well as upon the assessor and his assistants for the thorough manner in which the tedious work has been done.

A NEW SUGGESTION.

San Francisco Paper Indirectly Recommends a Pacific Mail Subsidy.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—The Journal of Commerce has an editorial this morning calling attention to the fact that the colonies of New South Wales and New Zealand intend in November next to discontinue the subsidy which they have paid for the past twenty years to maintain the regular line of mail steamers between San Francisco and the colonies.

The paper states that this action on the part of the colonies is due to the failure of the United states government to pay at least one-half the cost of maintaining the present service.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

An engineering corps which has been running lines near Chambersburg, Pa., for several weeks past, has been surveying a pipe line for the Standard Oil company from the West Virginia oil fields to New York.

Yesterday at Norris basin, Mammoth Hot Springs, Wyo., there was a severe shock of earthquake and the geyser called "New Crater" had an eruption. It is throwing up a column of steam, stones and water about 200 feet in circumference and to a height of about 150 feet.

Mrs. Welke of Trenton gave birth to a male child with two perfect heads, the left one about five inches in diameter, the right three. There was a bifurication of the spinal cord in the middle of the back running to each head. The child died.

Dr. Barlow, a dentist of Poughkeepsie, has taken no food except a glass of milk or a cup of coffee each day for over forty-five days. When he began fasting he weighed 209 pounds. He now weighs 191 pounds. He says he feels well and has worked hard every day since the fast.

A lengthy shutdown is looked for at the National Tube works, McKeesport, Pa. The firm refuses to sign the Amalgamated scale, but are willing to pay union wages.

A violent wind storm struck Cleveland last evening, causing damage estimated at $200,000.

The state convention of the South Dakota Equal Suffrage association is in session. One hundred and twenty-eight delegates are present. They seem to favor Loucks for governor and Wardell for senator.

The president of the Argentine republic has authorized the issue of bank notes to the amount of $100,000,000 for the purpose of relieving the financial situation. The rejection of the proposed sterling loan has caused great excitement on the bourse here.

THE MILWAUKEE ENCAMPMENT.

Knights Get Down to Business; Work in the Coming Session.

MILWAUKEE, July 9.—After the parade of yesterday afternoon and the festivities of the evening the supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias of the world got down to business. The body consists of delegates from each of the grand jurisdictions in the United States and Canada, and there is a full representation in attendance.

One of the most important matters on the docket for its consideration is the question of declaring illegal all associations doing a life insurance business in the name of the order, with the exception of the endowment rank which alone is recognized by the supreme lodge.

In numerous states life insurance associations have been instituted in the name of the order thereby trespassing on the field which it is claimed properly belongs to the endowment rank. No other society permits such action and even in this order there is a division of opinion on the subject which is sure to give rise to a heated debate. An effort is to be made to increase the efficiency of the endowment rank by elevating the members of the board of control to the position of supreme lodge officers.

Another matter on the program is the claim of the Uniform rank to representation in the supreme lodge. Another, which creates general interest is that of sustaining or over-ruling the action of Supreme Chancellor Ward in suspending the celebrated Kokomo division. Up to the Cincinnati session of the supreme lodge, the Kokomo division had for some years carried off all the best competitive drill prizes. At Cincinnati they were awarded the second prize.

The sessions of the supreme temple of Pythian Sisters was resumed this morning. Tonight the Noted Degree staff of Temple No. 1. of Warsaw, Indiana will give a special exemplification of the ritual.

The city is crowded with visitors, but so complete and elaborate are the arrangements made for their convenience and comfort by the local committee that there are no complaints. This morning prize drills commenced at the Cold Spring Drive Park, fifty divisions competing. The cash prizes aggregate $5,000. This afternoon there will be a grand full review when the entire Pythian army will be drawn up in line for inspection by Supreme Chancellor Ward, and Major-General Carahan.

THE EDUCATIONAL CONVENTION.

Program for the Day; Frances Willard Takes a Hand.

ST. PAUL, July 9.—The business sessions of the national educational convention opened in earnest this morning. A special committe, consisting of Wm. T. Harris, United States commissioner of education; Lillie J. Martin of San Francisco, and George P. Brown of Bloomington, Ill., presented an elaborate report upon "Physiological and Pedagogical Observation," which evoked considerable discussion. The results of a specific inquiry on the "Relation of Instruction and Will-training" was presented by Charles de Gormal of Normal, Ill. A paper on "Examinations as Tests for Promotion" was read by W. H. Maxwell of Brooklyn, and in the discussion which followed E. E. White of Cincinnati, G. S. Albee of Oshkosh and J. W. Johnson of the Mississippi University took a prominent part.

This afternoon and evening Miss Frances E. Willard of Illinois will discuss the White Cross movement in education, and the moral value of art education will also be considered.

Litigation Imminent.

NEW YORK, July 9.—The sessions of the Eastern contingent of the Grand Lodge of Elks were continued this morning. In view of the fact that the Western members of the order have gone ahead with their convention at Cleveland in defiance of the injunction issued by Judge Lawrance, the meeting today will consider the advisability of taking the dispute into the United States courts. Eminent counsel have advised that the litigation can be so transferred, and if this program is followed out, the Western element can be proceeded against in the United States court of every city where it may attempt to conduct the order under the authority of the grand lodge to be elected at Cleveland. It is possible, however, that a compromise between the discordant elements may be affected.

Believes in Faith Cure.

CHICAGO, July 9.—The case of the Rev. J. C. Johnson, pastor of the Humbolt Park Baptist church, is attracting considerable attention in religious circles. He has been confined to his bed with pulmonary consumption for over a month, and at times has been so low that his death seemed imminent. From the first indication of his illness he has been a believer in prayer cure, and has persistently refused either to employ a physician or take any medicine. Several times daily he has terrible paroxysms.

Minister Rostan Returns.

NEW YORK, July 9.—The French minister at Washington, M. Roustan, sailed for Paris today. The task of collecting the statistics in relation to labor and the relations of employers and workingmen in this country which have been called for by the French government, and previously referred to in these dispatches, has been left to the attaches of the legation.

A Prohibition Town Too.

PIERRE, S. D., July 9,—A peculiar phenomenon occurred in this city on Sunday evening. About 7:30 the rain commenced accompanied by a strong wind. Small snakes, from twelve to sixteen inches long, fell to the ground in various places. Several parties killed some of the snakes and exhibited them. The snake shave a bluish color, and seem to have a peculiar light about their heads, looking like a halow hen in the dark.

Sir Julian talks.

NEW YORK, July 9,—Sir Julian Pouncefote was seen by the New York World correspondent yesterday. He repeated the diplomatic denial which he made Monday night but said that he preferred to add nothing to it which would lead to friction or be misconstrued. He added however: "There is no doubt that our vessels in the North Pacific are there to protect the British flag and our sailors."

The magnificent passenger steamer Nyack will leave Duluth (Northern Pacific dock) Thursday, July 10, 10:30 p. m., for Sault Ste. Marie, Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo and all lower lake ports.

Terrific Cyclones in Iowa; Muscatine Suffers Greatly.

New York Towns Also Have Much Loss; The Details Given.

MUSCATINE, Ia., July 9.—A terrific cyclone has occurred here. Great damage was done. Many houses both here and on the plantations were demolished. The loss of life is appalling. Reports thus far received show that over 70 persons were killed.

In New York.

WHITEHALL, N. Y., July 9.—The cyclone did considerable damage at Plattsburg last night, but no details have as yet been learned.

The new Champlain hotel at Bluff Point was damaged to some extent and the trees in the park were injured. A valet named Valley was out on the lake fishing when the storm struck him overturning his boat and drowning him. The damage cannot yet be fully estimated. A large barn owned by Mr. Fordham on Cumberland head, and the large ice houses of Brown Bros. and others are total wrecks. Camp Idlewild on Grand Island was demolished. A great deal of damage is reported from Grand Island county, Vermont. There are no wires working in the Adirondacks.

At Rouses Point.

ROUSES POINT, N. Y., July 9.—About 3:30 p. m. yesterday this place was visited by the worst wind and hail storm ever known, demolishing houses, etc. A few moments before the storm, which came without warning, the steam yacht Lattle Nellie, left this port with a pile driver for the Vermont shore. When about a mile out she was lost to sight. As soon as the storm was over search was made for the missing vessel. The search was vain, as she had gone down. It is feared there were other casualties as several fishing parties on the lake have not yet put in an appearance.

Michigan Storm.

MACKINAW CITY, Mich., July 9.—This section was visited by a terrific westerly gale, lasting from 10 o'clock to midnight. Rain fell in torrents and lightning flashed incessantly. A dock fifty feet in length, belonging to an ice company, was torn away and several other local mishaps occurred. It is feared disasters occurred on the lake.

In Vermont.

VERGENNES, July 9.—A terrific storm passed over doing great damage. Scores of shade trees were blown down and the streets during the storm were filled with flying signs, slate and brick. H. T. Roth's windmill was leveled. The steamer Water Lily was caught but lost no passengers.

BEHRING SEA CONTROVERSY.

Chairman Hitt Talks of What is Being Done in Congress.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Highly important action was taken at the capital yesterday with regard to the Behring sea controversy. Chairman Hitt called the foreign affairs committee together and agreed to report to the house at once a resolution calling upon the President to send to the house all the correspondence on the subject of the Behring sea question that might properly be made public.

Mr. Hitt last night said: "I have no doubt the resolution will be adopted early in tomorrow's session. It is possible that all the correspondence between Great Britain and the United States will not be sent to the house, as the resolution is so drawn that the president may at his discretion omit such part as in his judgment should remain confidential."

In The Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 9,—In the senate the presiding officer announced his signature to the bill for the admission of Wyoming. The bill now goes to the president. The senate proceeded to executive business. The sundry civil appropriation bill was reported and Mr. Allison asked for its consideration tomorrow. The consideration of the conference report on the silver bill was resumed and Mr. Cockerell continued his argument against the report.

An Explorer Safe.

ZANZIBAR, July 9.—Dr. Peters, the explorer, reached the coast from the interior of Africa yesterday. He is well.

TALKS CANADIAN POLITICS.

A Well Known Canadian Educator Visits Friends in Duluth.

Dr. Thomas O'Hagan, professor of English literature at Ottawa university, arrived in the city last evening on the United Empire, and will remain in the city several weeks. He is a noted educator and well up in politics.

The professor says that the Canadian people are greatly interested in the carnival, and he is anxious to see what kind of a regatta Duluth people can get up. He is very favorably impressed with the city and thinks the people of Duluth must be very enterprising.

The professor is a recognized authority on Canadian politics and is a very entertaining converstationalist on this as well as all other subjects. Owing to the dissimilarity between the different parties it is a difficult matter to form a comparison between the United States and Canada as regards the political situation the majority of the people in Ontario are in favor of reciprocity and annexation, but the French in Quebec offer the most opposition. The revenue in Canada is not a revenue for protection, but means a great deal more to the monopolists, hence it can easily be seen that while the masses of the people might favor free trade, it would be political suicide for a politician to declare himself openly in favor of free trade and annexation.

Professor O'Hagan speaking of James G. Blaine said he regarded him as one of the brightest men in the country, and while he was a great admirer of the "grand old man," he cannot help but think that Blaine got the best of Gladstone in his discussion on the tariff. The people of Canada are not very much in love with the McKinley bill, and are anxious to see it defeated.

ARGUMENTS MADE.

The Prentice Case Goes to the Counsel; Testimony Completed.

ST. PAUL, July 9.—[Special to The Herald.]—The Prentice trial was resumed this morning. John M. Gilman testified to buying one half the property in dispute by Prentice in 1860 for $500, and he afterwards bought a quarter for $1000. He first heard of the Prentice claim in 1872.

Defense rested. Wm. Whiteside went on the stand for the plaintiff. The witness was with Armstrong in Duluth in 1854. The latter's eyesight was badly impaired. Prentice himself then took the stand and identified the deed of the property. The "Buffalo" tract was not mentioned until the deed was partly made out. A detailed description of the land was given.

Later the arguments of counsel began, Mr. Root speaking first for the Prentice side of the case. The arguments will be rapidly given.

HORNY HANDED TILLERS.

North Dakota Alliance Party; President Loucks Leads.

HURON, S. D., July 9.—The first state convention of the independent party or Farmers alliance opened here today. W. J. Loucks, president of the state alliance, called the gathering to order outlining the political conditions which had brought the new party into existence. He emphasized the necessity of presenting a straight ticket in the field, and there is no doubt that the convention will adopt his remarks as a part of its program.

The new party is made up of the Farmers alliance, the Industrial union and the Knights of Labor. Its membership is drawn from both of the leading parties, but principally from the farmer element of the republican party.

The convention will favor the issue of currency by the general government of full legal tender to increase in volume with the increase of business and be issued directly to protective industries without the intervention of banks of issue; furnishing of telegraph and telephone service and railway transportation at actual cost, and the owning and operating by the government of the same; the adoption of an absolutely secret vote system, state and national; free and unlimited coinage of silver; passage of laws prohibiting the alien ownership of land and the confiscation of all lands owned by aliens and foreign syndicates.

Independent resolutions will also be presented favoring woman suffrage, a graded civil service pension, prohibition of the liquor traffic and a tariff for revenue only.

President Loucks is in the lead for governor. The convention will make provisions for an energetic state campaign, and Ignatius Donnelly, Ralph Beaumont, national lecturer of the Knights of Labor, and half a dozen other speakers of national reputation have already agreed to stump the state.

GEN. FISK DEAD.

Clinton B. Fisk Dies at His Home in New York.

NEW YORK, July 9.—Gen. Clinton B. Fisk died at his residence, No. 175 Fifty-eighth street, this city, at 10:30 this morning, in the 63d year of his age. The funeral services will be held at the Madison avenue Methodist church on Friday at 3 o'clock. The burial will be at his old home, Coldwater, Mich., next Saturday.

He was prominently identified with the prohibition movement, being the candidate for president at the last election. He was a brave soldier in the war and afterward was a commissioner of the Freedmens bureau and the Indian commission.

ORDERS DISOBEYED,

And Six People Lose Their Lives in a Railway Wreck.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 9.—Disregard of orders caused a collision between a freight and passenger train on the Louisville & Nashville forty miles south of this city this morning. Five people were instantly killed and a sixth fatally injured.

The killed are Engineers John Green and John Webb, Firemen Jim Armstead and Bob Wilson, and a pumpman named Parr. Ben Swipe was fatally injured. No passengers were seriously injured.

Fight It Out.

CHICAGO, July 9.—The recent strike of lake seamen, tying up the commerce of this port for several days, has brought about "a state of things" between the sailors and the Vessel Owners' association. The latter met yesterday afternoon and resolved that after August 1 they would employ only non-union men, and that, in default of help of that sort, they would tie up their vessels. It was also decided to advertise for men on the Atlantic coast.

They're all on the Way.

BOSTON, July 9,—All the professional scullers who took part in the city regatta, with the exception of Joyce, have started for Duluth. Among the party are John Teemer, John McKay, James Ten Eyck and Jerry Casey. Casey will take a hand in the quarter mile dash and will also row in one of the four. He may also row double with Teemer, and will have for rivals Gaudaur and McKay and Hanlan and Hosmer.

London Carrires Strike.

LONDON, July 9,—The letter carriers attached to the Central post office went on a strike today. Delegates were appointed by the carriers to interview Postmaster General Raikes and lay the grievances of the men before him.

Business for Britain.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—The steamship Gaelic arrived this morning from Hong Kong. A rumor was prevalent that Russia had seized an island on the coast of Corea, and H. M. S. Leander and Severn are under orders to keep up steam and be ready to proceed to sea at moment's notice.

She is Starring Now.

CHICAGO, July 9,—The appellate court handed down a decision in the famous Carter divorce case this morning. The decision of the lower court is affirmed. Mrs. Carter is defeated and Mr. Leslie Carter retains possession of the child.

Gave Themselves Up.

NEW YORK, July 9.—To the surprise of a great many, Billy Maloney, reading clerk on the board of aldermen of '84, and Alderman DeLacey walked into the district attorney's office this forenoon. Both were indicted for complicity in the Broadway surface road bribery case.

PICTURED DULUTH.

For regatta week now near at hand The Herald will issue a special finely illustrated edition, setting forth graphically and vividly the multiform picturesque attractions of Duluth and the adjacent summer resorts. To tourists and campers out and sportsmen of all kinds the head of the lakes thus pictured in The Herald will be a magnet of extraordinary attracting power. The visiting humorist who once thought of Duluth as "a monstrous angle worm on a rock," has been converted by his own eyes into a trumpeter of the grandeur and beauty of picturesque Duluth, but all have not had the chance to see with his eyes. For the strangers who have no idea or a weak and dim one at best of the landscape treasures which Duluth holds fast, this illustrated Herald will be a revelation of unimagined beauty, and even those who have lived for years at the head of the lakes are commonly far from realizing how superb its scenery is.

The leading landscape gardeners of the country who have surveyed Duluth and its possibilities during the past year have done much to awaken appreciation of the treasures in our midst, and it will be the aim of The Herald to extend and deepen this appreciation by its carefully chosen exhibit. No one who sees it, although the pictured scene inevitably falls far short of the real, will bear away the notion that there is any lack of picturesque attractions here—not merely as a great commercial center, but as a marvel of grandeur and beauty, this city set on a rock will surely be known. In its commanding site, its crowning driveway unequaled in the world, its grand ravines and rushing water falls, and the beauty of its suburbs bordering lake and river and stretching over the hills, Duluth has natural advantages which any city in the country might envy. That it will some day stand in the front rank as a charming summer resort and the center of summer resorts The Herald will show, and make plain at once how pleasant it is even now to live in.

Many thousand copies of this illustrated Herald have already been ordered, and the issue will be far in excess of any paper ever before published at the head of the lakes. Throughout regatta week it will be sold everywhere at the head of the lakes and on the entering railway lines, and sent out to every part of the country. It will be a banner showing for Duluth from a novel field of view to the country at large.

There is a surprising unanimity of sentiment between the morning papers. Each heads its report of the Pan-Hellenic banquet, "Greek meets Greek."

The assessment just completed of real and personal property in this city shows a total valuation of $27,900,000 and a taxable valuation of $20,810,207. That is a jump of nearly $5,000,000 since the last assessment valuation, and shows in figures that are not puffed up the extraordinary advance of Duluth in the past year or two.

It begins to look as if the Great Northern extension to the Pacific was pretty near accomplishment, Jim Hill's ambition nearly satiated, and Duluth's second transcontinental railway a fact. Vice President Clough of that road states that the $10,000,000 needed to extend the road from Helena to Seattle has been provided and the only delay in beginning the work is in determining which is the best of the several already surveyed routes.

The Herald's special from Washington today gives a full summary of Major Quinn's annual report, which strenuously urges the prosecution of pending improvements in St. Louis bay without delay, and makes some timely and important recommendations. The head of the lakes is highly fortunate in the stationing here of an engineer in charge so wide-awake, earnest and competent. It will not be his fault if the head is not cared for as it should be by the national government.

The Herald's new "Dispatch" press has just arrived, in time to roll off its great illustrated edition for regatta week and push its regular editions through so fast that no subscriber will have cause to complain of delay in receiving his evening paper. The Herald's rapidly advancing circulation has got beyond its present facilities for prompt service to all, but when its new press is in place newsboys and carriers will have a chance to do their best and the hindmost will be close to the foremost.

The Arctic and North Atlantic are not hot pots, but both Newfoundland and Alaska are in hot water all the same. The row present and prospective over the seals in Behring sea is a lively one, and so far the poachers have the best of it. It is reported that the British government has instructed its naval squadron at that point to oppose armed resistance to any interference with Canadian or English sealers, and that means license to depredate our sea coast fisheries there, for our boundary lines are disputed and uncertain. On the coast of Newfoundland France has come directly to loggerheads with Great Britain. A French war ship, finding two French fishing vessels and forty Newfoundland vessels at Port au Port, drove all the latter out of the harbor, after which the French fishermen cut the lobster trawls and robbed the traps. This smart slap has made Newfoundland tingle all over, and there are mouthings of secession if the imperial government does not resent the slap satisfactorily and protect the lobster pots. But the British government so far gives only very cold comfort, which makes Newfoundland all the hotter. It looks now as if the North would have a warm summer, however the thermometer may stand.

The usual pot of misstatement and nonsense is spilled by an unrestricted coinage journal, the Indianapolis Sentinel, over the present silver bill in this wise: "When the relative values of gold and silver began to change, the money-lending classes surreptitiously deprived the people of this option, and restricted them to the use of the dearer of the two metals, which was still further enhanced in value by this very restriction." Before any reader swallows this rubbish, he should be told by somebody the unquestionable truth that the occasion for discontinuing the silver coinage in 1873 was that silver, at that time, at the ratio at which it was coined, was worth more than gold, and to keep our subsidiary silver coin in the country it was necessary to debase the quality of the coinage. The fact is that at that time when, as alleged by The Sentinel, the people of the country were surreptitiously deprived of the option of using silver, the silver dollar was an inappreciable factor in the currency. From 1793 down to and including 1873 the whole number of silver dollars coined in the country was only a trifle more than 8,000,000, or less than four months of the coinage compulsory under the existing law. When the silver men therefore talk with idolatrous affection of the "dollar of our fathers," they speak of something which our fathers rarely saw. There was only one year in this long period, and that was 1872, when so many as a million silver dollars were coined, and then the number was but 1,112,961. In 1860 our whole silver product amounted to only $150,000, and in 1870 it was hardly more than a quarter of what it was last year. It is the silver eighty cents of the sons, not the appreciated dollar of our daddies, that the silverine men are trying to clear the way for as the dollar of the day.

SEEN AND HEARD.

"If this thing keeps on," said a book man who sells lots of maps, "we'll have to go into bankruptcy. We hadn't got our United States maps fixed up with North and South Dakota before the Brazil revolution knocked South America endwise, and now Wyoming and Idaho are turned into states. Africa has to be fixed over every six months, and the latest and most serious change of all is in this German arrangement to knock out Heligoland. That isn't a big change, but it is big enough to spoil all our maps of Europe. I used to think that Duluth, with new additions, new streets, and so forth, was about as rapid a map changer as they made, but I'll confess the International game knocks Duluth cold."

Jay Cooke told a newspaper correspondent recently that he regained his wealth by never changing the temperament and mind of his early life. "I have always been of a hopeful temperament," Mr. Cooke said, "never living in the cloud. I have always had a reasonable philosophy to think that men and times were better than harsh criticism would suppose. I believed that this American world of ours was full of wealth, and it was only necessary to go to work and find it. I took an interest in the Horn silver mine in Utah, and it developed splendidly. At one time I could have sold my interest there for $800,000. But I kept my faith with my fellow stockholders, and finally, when they let go, my profits shrank to about $200,000. I had another mine which made me $200,000. Many of the things I took hold of yielded a reward from the hopefulness and the reality we gave and received. During those dark days after the Northern Pacific failure and the panic of '73 I kept up my belief in a good Providence, a good country and good intentions. Thus I rescued the graves of my parents, the homes where my children had enjoyed themselves, and they are mine again. When I was selling the Northern Pacific loans a large portion of the banking fraternity jeered at me and attempted to undermine my credit, and the other day I took up the list of new directors and backers in the same property and found the names of these men there."

"The horses of Duluth are just getting the grip, or the distemper, or something that strongly resembles that malady," remarked the foreman of one of the largest livery barns in the city yesterday. "Everyone of our horses has already had an attack or is just beginning to show symptoms, and it is the same in all of the other barns of the city. The symptoms are a sore throat, accompanied by a severe cough, which lasts several days. A number of our horses are now unfit for use."

"It seems to me that there is one feature of this $2 a day demand the men don't look at," said a business man yesterday. "I am anxious to see every man get as large wages as his employer can afford to pay, but I want to see resident laborers get the work that is to be done. When prices get up to a figure above other places it has a tendency to bring in more people than are needed. The season is so short that we can not afford to induce a large number of men to come here to remain idle."

Company K was out on Superior street last evening for the usual weekly drill, and a great many people who had read of the strike now in progress, at once jumped at the conclusion that the riots of a year ago were to be repeated. No such trouble, however, is anticipated this year.

* * *

Hosmer has changed but little in the last ten years. He hardly looks a day older. I remember seeing Hanlan and the Bostonian row at Cozenovia, N. Y., some ten years ago. Both men were then in the prime of their strength and were magnificent specimens of physical manhood. Hanlan was then first exhibiting his water-walking shoes, but I recollect that his attempt that day ended in being soused in the lake.

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

Mr. Forrestal: Our contracts do not call the completion of the work on Michigan street Bench street and Ohio avenue until Sept. 1, and on east Superior street Nov. 1. We will have them all finished on time. The public has been entirely too unjust in criticising us.

H. C. Hope: We will have 100 American District Telegraph boxes in by July 20, and we expect to have over 300 in working order inside of thirty days.

FROM THE ALLIANCE STANDPOINT.

Brainerd Tribune: It is claimed by alliance men that Governor Merriam is preferred to Ignatius Donnelly; that Knute Nelson is an objectionable candidate; that Schelfer has gone back on his principles and is therefore not available and that the majority of the farmers do not desire a state ticket unless there is a good prospect of bettering their condition.

National Republican: Every day farmers ask what is the meaning of Donnelly's support of Governor Merriam, and his efforts to disrupt the alliance. Having long known him and watched his course in politics but one answer can be made: Mr. Donnelly is not steadfast; he is vacillating. If he is honest he is too unsteady to be a leader.

Winnebago Press-News: J. B. Wakefield of Blue Earth will accept the farmers' alliance nomination for congress. He is popular with the farmers, and if he engages in it will make the campaign lively.

Mankato Review: Mr. Daniel Buck is not a candidate for governor in seeking and working for the nomination at the hands of the alliance. If the honor should be conferred upon him with reasonable unanimity, he would be justified in accepting.

FEMININE MENTION.

Mrs. Martha Gray of Virginia has been found by the census man. Mrs. Gray is now living with her third husband and her record at rearing children is thus scheduled: Six triplets, eighteen; six twins, twelve; seven singles, seven; total, thirty-seven children.

Queen Victoria is a believer in late dinners. She sits down to that meal at 9 o'clock every evening. She retires at 11 o'clock.

Two new cooking schools will be opened in Boston next fall. It is evident that the coming generation of Boston girls will make good housewives.

A number of women at Washington, at the suggestion of Susan B. Anthony, have formed an organization called the Wimodaughsis, with a capital stock of $25,000 in $5 shares. Its object is the education of women in political science, in art, literature and physical culture. A building is to be procured for the use of the association.

The late Princess of Thurn-and-Taxis, sister of the Empress of Austria, was a few years ago regarded as the handsomest and most intellectual woman in Europe. She was once engaged to Emperor Francis Joseph herself, but he jilted her to marry her 16-year-old sister.

SCROFULA

Is that impurity of the blood which produces unsightly lumps or swellings in the neck, which causes running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. It is the most ancient of all diseases, and very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. If you suffer from scrofula, try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, my little boy, three years old, being a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was one mass of sores from head to feet. We all took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and all have been cured of the scrofula. My little boy is entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy." W. B. All that the manufacturers request is simply one trial, or, still better, a comparative test with whatever other cocoa it may be; then VAN HOUTEN'S COCOA itself will convince every one of its great superiority. It is because of this superiority that the English paper Health, says: "Once tried, always used."

No Land on Which the Sun Shines

Possesses greater natural advantages than our own, but there are portions of the great grain-bearing west and fertile south where atmospheric influences prejudicial to health militate against them, in some degree, as places of residence. Heavy rainfalls and the overflow of great rivers, which upon their subsidence leave dank vegetation exposed to the rays of the sun, there beget malarial fevers, and there also the inhabitants are periodically obliged to use some medicinal safeguard against the scourge. The most popular is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a preventive that has for over a third of a century afforded a reliable protection to those whom experience in the futility of ordinary remedies for fever and ague has taught to substitute for them. Whether intermittent or remittent, miasmatic fevers are conquered and averted by the superb anti-periodic and fortifying medicine as they are by no other preparation in use. Use it and abandon impure local bitters.

Bicycles for the Boys.

This advertisement is for the boys---and the girls as well---of Duluth, and any one of them who doesn't read it, and act on it too, will lose a good vacation chance.

Now to business, without any wait, for it's too near the Summer to wait long for anything now. The Herald has made arrangements with Crawford Bros., sporting goods dealers of 205 West Superior street, so that it can furnish any boy or girl in Duluth, who actually wants it, a good safety bicycle. All it will cost you will be a little work, and the work you can do in two or three days probably

Bicycles for the Girls.

As to the bicycles, they are good substantial machines, what are known as "Youths' Machines," and cost $35 at any of the stores. You can't get them for less. We are going to let you have a pick of three styles, a boy's safety, a girl's safety, and a boy's with the big front wheel. They are just such bicycles as are in regular and steady use here and everywhere else every day. We want to say right here that Crawford Bros. will tell you all about them, just what they are and how good they are. And they'll do more, they agree to make good any damage that comes to the machines the first year, except that brought on by careless or wrong usage.

At the Herald office on Lake avenue you can learn just how many subscribers you will have to get to secure one of these good machines. The number is a good many less than you'd think. Come and see, now.

HIS DETAILED REPORT.

A Herald Correspondent Gives the Meat in Quinn's Annual.

Valuable Document Full of Important Recommendations.

WASHINGTON, July 7—[Special Correspondence to The Herald.]—Major Quinn's annual report of Lake Superior harbors has been received by the secretary of war.

The document strenuously urges that certain improvements be made in Duluth, that commerce may not be hindered or progress stopped by delays. The amount expended under project up to June 30, 1890, was $267,882. One hundred and four acres have been dredged to a depth of sixteen feet, and this area requires deepening to twenty-two feet at an early date. In the channel on the north shore of St. Louis Bay 12,900 feet have been dredged to a depth of fourteen feet, and in the new channel east of Rices Point 5040 feet to a depth of sixteen feet. There have been no repairs to the canal, as the ownership of certain lots is in doubt. The report says that the head of the pier on the south side of the channel is badly damaged and must be replaced by a new structure at once, or the lighthouse is in danger of being carried away. To maintain the piers after they are rebuilt $10,000 reserve fund is necessary, and annually increased, for the superstructures are in decrepit state.

There has been no work on harbor basin this year. In enlarging this basin $50,000 could be wisely expended. It is very important that it be connected with the other channels of Suppeior and St. Louis bays. The new Rices Point channel has not been carried beyond the old dyke, because of insufficient funds. Many interests await the completion of this work. The estimated cost of finishing this channel is $119,562. The amount allotted for this work under appropriation of 1888 was $28,000. The remainder of the amount can be judiciously used during the present year. The North shore channel of St. Louis Bay has been dug the same width as a dredge between deep waters at Rices and Grassy Point to a depth of fourteen feet, but it is not wide enough for vessels to safely pass. Here are important manufacturers at Grassy Point, and these are anxiously awaiting the completion of the channel. It should be widened and deepened at once. The estimated cost of this work is $163,000.

To improve the canal piers, etc., $2,343,843 will be required. The width of the projected Rices Point channel should be increased from 200 to 400 feet, at $100,000 increased cost. A deep navigable channel should also be dredged to Fond du Lac. This is a most essential improvement.

In the resume of recommendations are the following: Reserve fund for canal, $51,000; reserve fund for Rices Point channel, $91,552; for north shore channel, $123,000; for enlarging of basin, $50,000; total, $274,552. Sum expended to date, $552,209.20.

The total expenditures at Grand Marais up to date has been $93,675. Account spent this year has only been $711. The report recommends that $156,475 be appropriated to complete the work.

For Two Harbors 150 feet additional should be built on the pier which is now 350 feet long. The estimated cost for this work is $14,837, and to complete the east pier $82,500. On Superior and St. Louis bays, Wis., $495,047 has been expended up to June 30. Last year $37,670 was used in improvements. The entry piers need some repairs and $207,660 is the sum recommended for next year. Major Quinn also asks $197,587 for Ashland.

IS IT TRUST?

A Lumberman Meeting at Minnetonka Today That Raises That Question.

Several Duluth lumbermen left last night for Minnetonka to attend an adjourned meeting of the Lumber Manufacturers association of the Northwest, formed at a recent meeting at Minneapolis. This adjourned meeting is, as one of those who went down last night told a Herald reporter, a rather peculiar session, and a good deal of matter of high interest to the trade—and to the consumers as well—is liable to be brought out.

"The fact is," said the Duluth man, "when we met in Minneapolis some weeks ago, we were under the impression that there was a great overproduction and overstock of lumber in the Northwest. We found this was all wrong, that there was no overstock, the yards full at some places being balanced at others, and while some fellows were selling way down, others were getting good prices, and all could do so if they'd just make some kind of a standard price and grade."

"Sort of a trust, is it?" queried the reporter.

"Oh, no," continued the loquacious lumberman, "its no trust. The fact is I don't like that word trust, it sounds bad, and looks bad. It grates upon my ear so to speak. But the adjourned meeting Wednesday will be important in more ways than one. The committee will report in favor of a uniform price of lumber and a higher price, and a uniform grade as well. Now sugar had its consolidated company; whiskey had its combination—and if this be trust make the most of it.

"But the funniest part of the meeting will be in another line. The combined manufacturers have had, even with the first meeting last month, three men out among the lumber dealers looking up grades. These men, according to a little circular I've received, made some interesting finds, grades in some places being about as good as nothing at all. I'm afraid that some of our Duluth people will get a good raking fore and aft when these grade explorers make their report, for they'll spare no names, I can tell you."

An Artist Returns.

David Ericson, the talented young artist, returned yesterday from New York, where he has been studying in the Art League and elsewhere for several years. Mr. Ericson, his numerous Duluth friends will be glad to know, has greatly profited by his last year's study and work and is as enthusiastic as ever in pursuit of his ambition. He is undecided whether to go back to New York next fall or to try a few years in Paris and other continental cities.

Another Logging Road.

A north shore logging road is among the projected lumbering improvements for this fall. J. C. Howard is negotiating for a line to be built from the Duluth & Iron Range tracks near the New London planing mill into the woods to the north for a distance of ten miles, where the Howards own several thousand acres of land.

WESTERN SUBURBS.

Those Sloped Girls; at the Car Works; From West End; Notes.

Some of the "bright young men" on the morning papers denied the truth of the "double elopement" of which The Herald spoke yesterday. George Kandler, the father of one of the girls who so mysteriously disappeared, denies that he ever was cruel to her, as The Tribune of this morning stated. Monday the two young men referred to came to his house where he and his daughter resided. He ordered them off and the girl to retire. When he awoke in the morning Josephine was gone. He informed the police and engaged an attorney. He searched the town for the fellows but was unable to find them. It is said that they have returned, but the whereabouts of the girl is not known. There the matter rests for the present.

Health Report.

The health report for the six months shows some remarkable facts concerning the general health of the people. There were 41 births to 11 deaths. It is noticeable that none of these were from malarial diseases.

School Matters.

Work was begun yesterday by James Dreeland on the addition to the Central school building. Five rooms will be added, one of which will be for recitations. The grounds will be nicely sodded and fenced. The annual district school meeting of district No. 1 will be held at the city hall July 19.

Finally Discharged.

In the case of Bernard Allen an order for a writ of habeas corpus was first allowed by Judge Ensign. He also issued an order to the jailer to bring up the prisoner. Late yesterday afternoon Judge Ensign discharged the prisoner. Hereafter all prisoners who have been tried and convicted in the municipal court must not be sentenced to the watch house but to the county jail.

Looks Like Business.

Foreman Durgin of the Car works blacksmith shop, was ordered back, and arrived this morning. He has begun fixing things up in his shop. A good deal of other activity is beginning at the car works.

Personal and Brevities.

A petition is being circulated to have streets in Dodge's addition opened. In about thirty days it is expected that some wonderful changes will be made.

The Bachelors' Club held their first annual reception last night. The building was nicely decorated with evergreen and flowers. Refreshments were served and music and games were indulged in. Everyone present enjoyed the affair greatly.

A petition is being circulated for the purpose of purchasing band instruments. West Duluth should surely be able to afford a band.

Miss Anna Birch has gone to Princeton to spend the summer.

J. H. Cooper has completed work on Main street and has now begun moving to Hazlewood where he has the contract on Cliff avenue.

Misses Addie and Hattie Lawyer left yesterday afternoon for St. Paul where they will spend their vacation.

BIRTHS AND DEATHS.

June Report Shows Twenty-One Deaths and Fifty Births.

The mortuary report for June has just been completed by the health officer. There were 21 deaths, of which 14 were males and 7 females, 12 single and 9 married. Eight were born in Duluth, 6 in other states and 7 were of foreign birth. There was 1 death each from the following causes: Marasmus, meningitis, old age, heart disease, cancer of the liver, inanition, entritis, accidental, amyloid degeneration of the liver, cholera infantum and arsnical poisoning; 2 each from tuberculosis, typhoid fever and 4 phthisis. Seven were under 1 year of age, 1 between 10 and 20 years, 6 between 20 and 40 years, 5 between 40 and 60 years and 2 between 60 and 80. The annual death rate per 1000 was 6.3. During the month there were 5 cases of scarlet fever, none of which resulted fatally, and 6 cases of typhoid with 2 deaths.

There were 50 births, of which 29 were males and 21 females, 1 illegitimate and 3 still-born. During the corresponding month in 1889 there were 21 deaths and 47 births.

The Repertory.

The sale of seats for Maude Granger's engagement is still brisk. The announcements for the engagement have been decided upon, and will present a a change of bill each night. Tomorrow evening her new play "Inherited;" Friday night "Camille" and Saturday night "The Creole." This will be a particularly pleasing announcement to her admirers here as it gives them an opportunity of seeing her in three of her strongest roles.

The Police Court.

There was a light run in the police court this morning. Four drunks were committed for the usual length of time and one paid his fine, Gus. Taylor for fighting on the street paid a fine of $5. Adie Dickson pleaded not guilty to the same charge and his case was continued until this afternoon.

Van Houton's Cocoa—largest sale in the world.

A PAIR OF "PROFS."

Eries This Afternoon; Boat Clubs Annual; A Broken League.

Ned Hanlan and George Hosmer were the first men to arrive in Duluth for the big regatta. They came in last night and were at once surrounded by a big crowd anxious to see the great oarsmen. The champions were greeted by a party of friends, who took them to the club house where their boats were stored. They bring with them three shells, two Warin's and a Ruddock, the latter belonging to Hosmer.

The men tip the beam at 175 and 153 lbs., Hosmer the lighter. When Hanlan was here last he weighed 208 pounds. When in good rowing trim Hanlan weighs about 163 pounds, Hosmer's best condition being at about 150.

The men have been busy today getting their boats in order for training. Hanlan jammed a hole through his on a stump at Sioux City July 5th, but O'Connor, the Duluth crew trainer, will repair it. Hosmer and Teemer will row double during the regatta. The McKeesport man has started for Duluth and will arrive here tomorrow. He is in good condition, and writes: "When the men pull over the home line John Teemer will be among the first."

"I'm glad to get up here again," said Hanlan. "We have been sweltering in the heat for the past month. I left the 'Dark Secret' company in May and have been rowing exhibition races ever since. Hosmer and I have been together for the past two weeks. Before that I was with Plaisted in the South. I am in fair condition now, but expect to train down about ten pounds. There will be an enormous crowd here and many Canadians will witness the races. I may not win, but I'll make the boys pull a fast stroke. I will row with Wise, Hosmer and Teemer in the fours, and with Wise in the doubles. Wise will be here this week."

"I've never been to Duluth before," Hosmer remarked this morning, "but think from what I have seen it's a beautiful town. Hanlan says the course is a remarkable one. I have been rowing exhibition races this season. The last professional race I entered—and won—was at Halifax during the water carnival last season. I am going to work at once and get myself in condition. We will take daily spins of fifteen or twenty miles."

Their training headquarters are at the Boat club rooms. A storehouse for shells is being erected on the Northern Pacific dock, west of the club house, and will be ready for use by Saturday. By next Monday all the oarsmen will be here. Their colors will be selected by the Regatta association. Gaudaur may get in Saturday. He is probably now in better condition than any man who has entered. The Erie crew of Buffalo got here this afternoon on the China. Cummings, Ware and the Roth Bros. making the team. They make a strong four, and are champions of the lakes. Peculiar interest centers in this entry, for the crew is rival to the Mutuals and West Ends, also of the Queen City. These three crews will be backed by cliques of Buffalo sports, and the winner of the three will probably receive good compensation, even though it does not win the race over all competitors.

The quarter-mile sprint race will likely go to Albert Hamm. Over a short distance course he is reported to be the fastest oarsman in the world. He will be closely followed by Kuntz, the Duluth oarsman, who has a record of having beaten Hanlan on a short course. Kuntz is now in training, having returned from Saginaw with his scull. His quarters are in West Duluth. The Winnipeg crew will be here July 20, perhaps before. The course will be marked out 350 feet wide, and ropes will be stretched.

The Fourth Annual.

The fourth regatta of the Duluth Boat club will be held Saturday. There will be races in all classes. The course will be from dock No. 1. to elevator H, and the McDougall yard. Hanlan and Hosmer will give an exhibition skim, and this event will call out an enormous crowd.

A League Collapsed.

DETROIT, July 9.—The International Baseball league has collapsed and was yesterday officially declared dead.

Sporting Notes.

San Francisco has played in fifteen games without making an earned run, Stockton figured in ten games without earning a run, Oakland in ten contests with the same result and Sacramento in nine games without scoring on clean hitting.

If the proposed three days' bicycle tournament is held in New York in the fall it will be one of the greatest in the history of the sport.

The Chicagos have struck a winning gait and the team is playing in championship form. Third base is the weak spot for the present, however.

The championship race in the Brotherhood is growing interesting, and the prizes are beginning to come up for discussion. The club that wins the championship will receive $6250; second in race $4800; third, $3500; fourth, $2500; fifth, $1750; sixth, $800; seventh, $400; eight, soup.

Paul Blackmar arrived in the city this morning from the East. He immediately inquired about the regatta, and gave the association $500 for himself and W. W. Townsend to help the affair along.

IN NIGHTS OF JOY.

But a Remarkably Strong Time After All by Forty Jolly Fellows.

Dkes and Psiu's predominated at the the first semi annual banquet of the Duluth Pan-Hellenic frat last evening, but seventeen or eighteen of the Greek letter secret societies were represented by from one to half a dozen men. There were forty present as follows: Chas. d'Autremont, D. G. Cutler, John Morrow, W. M. Roberts, H. C. Wood, S. F. Wadhams, S. I. Gilbert, S. T. Harrison, Fred Reynolds, R. H. Hunt, L. C. Hunt, Hon. O. P. Stearns, Col. A. B. Jones, W. B. Silvey, J. F. Merriam, James W. Green, A. G. Warren, Everett Totman, S. M. Chandler, Thomas H. Fairfax, C. F. Hopkins, W. B. Dixon, C. H. Finnigan, Dr. Charles Slaughter, W. C. Kilgore, Hon. James T. Hale, J. K. Persons, C. H. Eldridge, L. N. Wood, M. A. Hays, E. C. Jones, L. A. Barber, A. L. Moore, Rev. Putnam Cady, W. S. Birch, E. L. Pelter, D. B. R. Chapman, Phil H. Perkins, A. E. McCordic, J. P. Morrow.

An organization was had, Hon. O. P. Stearns made president, C. d'Autremont vice president, C. H. Eldridge secretary and A. L. Moore of West Superior treasurer. In addition Rev. Putnam Cady of West Superior, Phil H. Perkins of Old Superior and Fred Reynolds of Duluth were elected, and with the officers were to constitute the executive committee of the organization. The next banquet is to be in November. Judge Stearns presided at the banquet. He gave reminiscences of fraternities of early days. He expressed himself as wanting to have them all college boys and nothing else. After a college song, C. d'Autremont responded to the toast of "The Eastern Greek—His Characteristics." Other toasts were: "Pioneer Western Greek," R. C. Mitchell; "The Greek in College Politics," C. P. Craig; "The Greek at the Bar," Hon. D. G. Cash; "College Social Life," Rev. C. H. S. Dunn; "College and Fraternity Suppers," M. A. Hays; "The Benefits of College Fraternities," Hon. J. T. Hale.

The college songs sung were roistering ballads that were rolled out with vigor. There was "cocachelunk-chelunk," "rigagig," the touching tale of the "bull dog," "vive l'amour," "Solomon Levi," and "alma mater."

There are eighty-nine members of the association and about a dozen more Greek letter men in the city. There are probably 400 college graduates in Duluth.

She is here to watch the outcome of the present suit at St. Paul, and is said to feel a good deal more confident of and a good deal more anxious for the success of the case than either her husband or his lawyers.

The entertainment given by the ladies of the order of the Eastern Star at the Masonic temple last evening was attended by a large crowd and proved to be a very enjoyable affair. Refreshments were served during the evening by the ladies of the order, after which dancing was in order until nearly midnight.

Farmers Review Makes Its Report; It is a Trifle Bullish.

Local Market Quiet and Fairly Steady Trade Notes.

CHICAGO, July 10.—The following will appear in this week's Farmers' Review: The majority of our correspondents in Kentucky, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota report local showers sufficient for the immediate needs of growing crops in those states. "Very dry" is the reports from all parts of Illinois and Missouri, as well as portions of Indiana, Ohio and Kansas. Good rains have fallen in many of the previously drouthy districts of Nebraska, and corn shows marked improvement in consequence. The condition of spring wheat remains the same as last reported in Wisconsin and Minnesota. Considerable improvement has taken place in Nebraska. In Iowa, rust has caused a decline in several counties that has lowered the average for the state.

Corn has not changed materially from the fair average last reported in Illinois and Iowa. Nebraska, Wisconsin and Minnesota correspondents report considerable improvement. Reports from all other states covered by our bulletin show a decline of two to five points. Relative to oats, Illinois reports show a slight improvement on the very low averages last reported. Minnesota and Iowa reports condition improving and prospects good for an average crop. Reports from Michigan and Wisconsin indicate considerable decline, but the averages for those states are still high. In all other states condition is very low and apparently declining.

We summarize as follows reports of condition: Spring wheat: Iowa, 88 per cent; Nebraska 78¾, Wisconsin 89½, Minnesota 92½. Corn: Illinois 90 per cent, Indiana 86¼, Ohio 78, Kentucky 83, Missouri 87½, Iowa 92½, Kansas 91¾, Nebraska 95, Michigan 95, Wisconsin 91½, Minnesota 88. Oats: Illinois 53 per cent, Indiana 60½, Ohio 64, Kentucky 28, Missouri 48, Iowa 93½, Kansas 69, Nebraska 59, Michigan 94, Wisconsin 90, Minnesota 94½.

Local Market.

It opened ¼ below yesterday's close for cash, August and September, and unchanged for December, prices ruled very steady. Several round lots of cash 1 hard and July 1 northern were taken by shippers. Sellers predominated and while the market was dull, prices were well sustained up to within a few minutes of the close, when August wheat declined ½. Cash 1 hard closed nominally at 91¾. No. 1 northern closed at 90½. No. 2 northern at 86¼. July 1 hard closed nominally at 92. July 1 northern, sales 60,000 bu early at 91, ruled steady, closed with sellers at 91. September 1 hard closed at 92¼. December sold steadily at 91.

THE STRIKES

Progress Quietly and With Little Outside Interference.

There is very little change in the strike situation today. The men are, of course, considerably excited, but not inclined to make trouble. The strikers probably number about 350 men and include all of those employed by Forrestal Bros. on the Michigan street, Bench street and Ohio avenue contracts. The men visited the works on East Superior street this forenoon, but did not succeed in gaining reinforcements. They visited the new city jail and induced four men to quit work, who were satisfied with their wages, but were afraid of violence. Their fears, however, were groundless, as Capt. Clements has a reserve squad of officers on duty at the Central station, and any attempt at violence will be promptly suppressed.

Mr. Forrestal, in speaking of the strike this morning said that he was confident that work would be resumed in a day or two. The men have all been paid up to date. Some of them are receiving higher wages than others, according to their ability and the firm is perfectly willing to take any of the strikers back at the old wages but will pay no more. They say that a great many of the men are willing to go back, but are held out by the leaders. He says there are plenty of men to be had at the wages they have been paying. About fifty teams are idle on account of the strike, but their owners are not in sympathy with the strikers. Mr. Forrestal is very anxious to resume work.

More quality in Superior.

At Superior this morning Contractor Anderson at the new plant of the barge works held off a mob of 450 men who threatened violence to the laborers there. The rioters were only stopped by a display of Winchester rifles and a threat to shoot. There is great excitement, but the rumor that several were shot is not true.

IN MEMORIAM.

Brief Sketch of the Life of the Late James W. Hovey.

From Kansas City Journal, Sunday, June 29, 1890: On the 13th ult, our readers noticed the account of the death of Mr. James W. Hovey, at the family residence, No. 3014 Walnut street. This death was a particularly sad one, on account of Mr. Hovey being a young man of fine ability, and who was esteemed by all with whom he had any connection. He leaves a grief-stricken family to mourn his death, but who, while they sorrow for the departed, cannot fail to get some comfort from the rare foresight and love which he showed for them while he was enjoying the best of health, and with prospect of enjoying many years of loving companionship with them; but it seems that Mr. Hovey realized the uncertainty of life and tried to make such preparations as would leave his loved ones in independent circumstances, should he be called from their side. With this idea in view he applied to the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Trust company to build him a home upon the original and admirable plan which they offer. His application was accepted and on Oct. 1, 1888, this company built the home where Mr. Hovey died. To secure the company for the money they had advanced him Mr. Hovey gave the company a mortgage payable through a period of ten years in installments of $33.55 each month. This mortgage provided that in case of Mr. Hovey's death within the next ten years the debt should be cancelled and the home go to his family free and unincumbered. At the time of Mr. Hovey's death he had paid twenty-one monthly installments, amounting to $704.55, which left a balance of $3,321.45 still due the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Trust company. On the 25th inst., just twelve days after his death, the actuary of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Trust company called at the county recorder's office and released the debt on the home of Mrs. Hovey and presented her with the papers, duly cancelled.

Mrs. Hovey has written a letter to the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Trust company, thanking them for their prompt and honorable dealing with her, and we desire to congratulate the management of the Trust company upon the manner and promptness with which they have fulfilled their promise to Mr. Hovey, and to commend the plan of this company to the people of Kansas City. All can now own their own homes and pay for them without felling any deprivation, as they only pay what is equal to a fair rent and leave an unincumbered home to their families in case they should die.

Transient guests can find choice rooms with board at 301 East Third street.

To Nervous People.

Pick up any newspaper, from Maine to Texas, or Florida to Alaska, and you will find seductive advertisements with the above heading. Presumably these are for people whose nerves are weakened by disease, but there are many other kinds of nervous people in this queer world. Some are subject to all sorts of apprehensions when about to take a journey. The train may run off the track. The boiler of the locomotive may burst. They have heard the bridges on some roads are not safe. The train may start ahead of time and they get left. They may miss their connection with another line. The road does not run into a union depot. The conductors and brakeman are holy terrors. The "candy butchers" on the trains are insolent. Their baggage will surely be smashed. They know their trunks will get lost. They will be misdirected when they "change cars." To such people we would say, buy your railroad tickets over "The Burlington," dismiss all your fears, go to sleep in their vestibuled Pullmans, and you will wake in the morning, you and your belongings all safe, have an excellent breakfast in the dining car, and arrive at your destination on time. For rates, tickets, or any information, consult your nearest ticket agent, or address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

CROSLEY PARK.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THIS SPLENDID ADDITION.

One year ago there was nothing at Lester Park but the depot and the Fish Hatchery. Crosley Park was not platted and all that section beyond London was almost wholly unimproved. Today Lester Park is nicely built up and hundreds of the best people of Duluth have built homes there. Within one year it has become one of the most fashionable and popular residence places at the head of the lake. Within that time streets have been opened and graded, sidewalks built and now water, sewers and electric lights are to be put in, so that people living at London, Lester Park and Crosley Park can have all the advantages of the city. In all these matters Crosley Park will keep step with the adjoining additions and already many good houses are being built. The advantage this addition has is that the property is cheap and lies beautifully. From nearly every lot in the subdivision you get a charming view of the lake and there are neither hills, ravines nor rocks to mar it. It is the cheapest purely residence suburban property about Duluth, and in the near future will become some of the most valuable. Then the charm of it is that you can buy on the easy payment plan—one-tenth down and the balance one per cent a week till paid WITHOUT interest. It is better than a savings bank, as it is ten times as profitable. The most liberal inducement will be offered to those who wish to build. For further information call on

THE KNIGHTS' ELECTION.

Shaw of Eau Claire, Made Chief Grand Mogul for the Year.

Some Doings at Today's Session in the City of Foam.

MILWAUKEE, July 10.—Despite the intense heat and the fact that the camp is entirely devoid of shade the Knights of Pythias are putting forth every exertion, and with success; to make the present encampment the most notable one in the history of the order. This morning the prize drills were resumed at Cold Spring park and the sessions of the supreme lodge were continued.

A class of six candidates were vested with the degree, and after transacting a little routine business the lodge ad journed till the afternoon.

This afternoon the members of this body will be given a carriage drive about the city and neighboring resorts. The pyrotechnic display which takes place at the park this evening will be one of the finest ever given in this country. The bombardment will occupy one and a half hours.

Among the set pieces will be a gigantic equestrian knight in full armor with the shields of the order in appropriate colors, and bearing aloft the emblematic banner. The kindly features of the beloved and lamented founder of the order, Justus H. Rathbone, will be displayed in a magnificent fire portrait, an accurate representation of Niagara falls 150 feet long and fifty feet high will also be given showing the spray rising from the foot of the falls, with the roar of the cataract perfectly counterfeited.

The report presented to the supreme lodge by Maj.-Gen. Carnahan, and which makes a printed pamphlet of 250 pages is an interesting document. Since the last report 286 new divisions have been organized. Of these Colorado has 4, Illinois 25, Indiana 21, Kansas 7, Kentucky 8, Michigan 8, Minnesota 15, Michigan 10, Missouri 4, Nebraska 13, Montana 3, Ohio 27, Pennsylvania 12, Tennessee 9, Texas 8, Wisconsin 14, Wyoming 1.

Brigade organizations have been completed in Minnesota, Tennessee and Wisconsin. Ohio has the largest number of divisions, 100; Indiana next, 66, and Illinois third with 52.

The report takes decided grounds against the proposal to change the title of the rank and says that the present name should stand for all time to come.

At the election of officers, Past Supreme Chancellor Howard Douglass of Cincinnati presented the name of George B. Shaw of Eau Claire for the position of supreme chancellor, in a stirring speech, and upon motion, H. C. Barry, the oldest living past supreme chancellor, cast the ballot of the lodge for the Wisconsin man. Then came the election of supreme vice chancellor. Representative Lee of Rhode Island presented the name of W. W. Blackwell of Kentucky, Representative Shepard of Louisiana seconding the motion, and as J. S. King of Ontario declined to be a candidate the ballot was unanimously cast for Mr. Blackwell.

WOULD GO SLOW.

Democrats in McKinley's District in Convention This Afternoon.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 10.—The democratic congressional convention in the Sixteenth (McKinley's) district, met and adjourned until this afternoon. There are several candidates for the nomination among them being ex-Lieut.-Governor Warwick and Representative John E. Monot of Starke county and Judge Stillwell of Holmes. Monot will probably lead in the start, but the convention will get into deadlock.

There is a disposition on the part of the party managers to go slow for the reason that it is feared that unless a wise selection is made, Major McKinley's prominence and popularity may overcome the democratic majority in the district. This argument is being used against Monot.

THE ITALIANS' MONUMENT.

To be 100 Feet High and to Cost $200,000; A Design Chosen.

NEW YORK, July 10.—A meeting of Italians who are subscribers to the fund which is being raised for a monument to Christopher Columbus was held last evening at the Germania assembly rooms. The projector of the scheme, Carlo Barsotti, presided. The object of the meeting was to choose between two designs which had been sent over from Italy by the committee which the king appointed to conduct a public competition. Alexander Oldrini spoke in favor of the design submitted by Gustano Russo of Rome, and the subscribers, by a unanimous vote, decided in Russo's favor.

The monument will probably be erected in the lower part of the city, near Bowling Green. It will cost $200,000. Its total height is 100 feet, 75 of which composes the shaft, 25 the pedestal. The base, which is 15 feet square, is composed of Italian granite brought from Bareno, near Lake Maggiore. From this rises a column. Surmounting the column is a large bronze statue of Columbus, attired in the costume of an Admiral, with the right arm extended. A group of Italian genii hovering about a globe in bronze, is at the front of the base, and at the back is another bronze group representing America pointing upward to the navigator.

An order will be sent to Rome at once. The statue is to be brought to this country on an Italian man-of-war, and is to arrive by Oct. 12, 1892, the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America.

How's This, Ye Perspirers?

SUMMIT HOUSE, Mt. Washington, N. H., July 10.—The signal station thermometer indicates this morning 25 degrees above zero and the top of Mt. Washington is white with snow.

Would Fight Outsiders.

SUSQUEHANNA, Pa., July 10.—Grand Master Workman T. V. Powderly delivered a lecture here last night on the objects and aims of the Knights of Labor, to a large and enthusiastic audience. In closing his address he said that the Knights of L bor were at war with no other labor organization, and that if they wanted to fight they could well find an enemy outside of the ranks of the workingmen.

EXPLAINS THE DELAY.

Means of Raising Money for Carrying on the Appeal.

CHICAGO, July 10.—The abstract of the evidence in the trial of Burke, Coughlin and Sullivan for the murder of Dr. P. H. Cronin, and which must be filed in the supreme court at Ottawa before further progress can be made with the appeal, still reposes in a pigeon hole in the office of Lawyer Forrest of this city. This is owing to the fact that the treasury is empty and that the lawyers do not propose to let the documents go out of their possession until at least $2000 is forthcoming.

A picnic is to be held here next month which it is expected will net at least the amount required to enable the case to move forward another stage. Meanwhile the present condition of affairs is a commentary upon the lack of interest shown by the triangulars in the fate of their dupes who are now behind the walls of Joliet with a life-sentence staring them in the face.

IN LEARNED DEBATE.

Questions of Educational Import Discussed at the Convention.

ST. PAUL, July 10.—The sessions of the National Educational convention were resumed this morning with the reading of a lengthy paper by Oscar H. Cooper of Austin, Texas upon compulsory educational laws. In the discussion which followed Aaron Gove of Denver, I. G. Hoit of Sacramento, B. B. McElroy of Oregon and J. B. Thayer of Wisconsin took a prominent part.

The committee on nomination reported in favor of the following officers: President, William P. Garrett of Nashville; vice-presidents, James H. Canfield of Lawrence, Kas.; W. H. Beadle of Madison, S. D.; Mrs. D. L. Williams of Delaware, Ohio; J. M. Baker of Denver; T. A. Futrall of Marinna, Ark.; John T. Buchanan of Kansas City; H. S. Jones of Erie, Pa.; Mary E. Nicholson of Indianapolis; J. R. Preston of Jackson, Miss.; E. B. McElroy of Salem, Ore.; M. C. Fernald of Orono, Maine; Solomon Palmer of Montgomery, Ala.; secretary, E. H. Cook of New Brunswick, N. J.; treasurer, J. M. Greenwood of Kansas City, and a director from each state represented in the convention.

Another lengthy debate was instituted by the reading of a paper by J. W. Stearns of Madison, Wis. upon the co-relation of subjects taught in the elementary schools. F. L. Soldan of St. Louis, Chas. McMurray of Winona, Minn. and S. L. Pickard of Iowa City, Iowa, took an active part in the debate.

Another question which will create a good deal of interest is that of the place and functions of the agricultural college, which will be considered this afternoon by delegates from Minnesota, Kansas, Iowa and Maine.

The Lucky Who.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—It is expected that President Harrison will send to the senate nomination for minister to Spain to succeed Hon. W. Thomas Palmer of Michigan, soon after his return from the sea shore. Prior to his departure he had several conferences with Secretary Blaine, but it is not believed that any name has been finally decided upon. Among those who are favorably mentioned are Col. Elliot F. Shepherd of New York and ex-Senator Warner Miller. It is believed, however, that the President prefers a Western man. He is believed to look favorably on the Hon. Horace Rublee of Milwaukee, ex-minister to Switzerland and an accomplished diplomat, and Stephen A. Douglas, Jr., of Chicago, the son of the "little giant," is also regarded as a possible candidate.

A Millionaire Philanthropist.

NORFOLK, Ct., July 10.—The will of William L. Gilbert, Winsted's millionaire philanthropist gives $400,000 to the Gilbert Home for the Friendless at Winsted. Mr. Gilbert founded this home three years ago and spent upon it $100,000. He bequeathed $40,000 to the Gilbert school for colored girls at Winsted, La.; $500,000 to establish and maintain a public school of high order in East Winsted. The town of Winchester gets $48,000 for the purpose of tunneling the mountains at the west end in order to obtain a better water supply from the lakes. Mr. Gilbert bequeathed $12,000 to the Congregational church at Northfield and $3,000 to the Episcopal church of the same town.

Bottle-Blowers' Convention.

BALTIMORE, July 10.—The annual convention of the National Trades District No. 149 of the Knights of Labor of Green Bottle-Blowers, which was informally opened yesterday, reassembled this morning. Master Workman Louis Harrington of Massillon, Ohio, is president, with William Longtoff of Lockport, N. Y., as secretary. One hundred delegates, representing sixty local assemblies scattered all over the country, are in attendance.

Locked His Jailor.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., July 10.—Archibald McDonald, who has committed burglaries and who is wanted in Canada for murder, has recently been confined in Canton jail for burglary. He was so desperate he has been compelled to wear a ball and chain. Today he obtained a piece of file and freed himself from the ankle, and when the turnkey started to lock the cells McDonald siezed him and thrust him into a cell and locked him in. Then the prisoner escaped and has not been recaptured.

The Usual Slow Action.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—No advices have yet been made to the state department concerning the alleged arrest and imprisonment in Havana of the Rev. Albert J. Diaz, an American Baptist missionary in Cuba. Diaz is alleged to have been incarcerated during the last week in June although no reports of the case have been so far forthcoming. He has been very successful, having established twenty-one stations and made over 3000 converts. He has paid several visits to this country. It is thought that the state department will take prompt action if official representions are made on the subject.

Treated as a Jest.

NEW YORK, July 10.—The principal officers of the American Book company or "trust" laugh at the reports that bribery has been practiced in the boards of education of Virginia and the state of Washington in their behalf, and say that the allegations are absurd and false and instigated by rival, jealous firms. They say, however, that when the agent implicated, J. W. Omack, returns to Cincinnati, an investigation of the matter will be made.

The Older Duluth.

CHICAGO July 10,—An even $10,000 a front foot was refused last week by the owner of one of the corners at the intersection of State and Madison streets, and it is a well-known fact that much of the property in this portion of State street could not be purchased at double the amount offered and refused.

VAN HOUTON'S COCOA—largest sale in the world.

IN THE PRENTICE SUIT.

Rulings and Arguments of Today; What the Judges are Saying.

Educational Convention Elects Officers for the Year.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 10—[Special to The Herald].—In the Prentice case today Justice Miller instructed the attorneys to give authorities bearing on the modification of the boundary line and descriptions in the deed by a reversal of the courses, in order to correct possible mistake. A change of course in the Armstrong deed, for example, might make the deed harmonious.

Judge Nelson held that a cause of equity might change the course under proper conditions so as to correspond with the intention of the deed. Justice Miller ruled that this action would not debar the trial of another case involving the rights of Prentice. Arguments were then resumed by Gordon W. Cole.

The whole case rests upon the identification of this stone, which was known as "Buffalo's rock." The first part of the description in the deed merely refers to a rock as the starting point, and Prentice testified that deeming this insufficient, he inserted the following clause at the end of the regular description: "And being lands set off to the Indian chief, Buffalo, under the treaty of 1854." Root, of the plaintiff's counsel, asked the witness if he had ever had any conversation with Armstrong about the location of this rock prior to the time of his purchase. This was objected to by the defense and a lively discussion ensued. Justice Miller settled the controversy by asking Prentice the question himself.

THEY MUST RETURN.

Chinese Fail to Get Satisfaction in American Courts.

PHOENIX, Ariz., July 10.—Application was made yesterday before Judge Kibbey for a writ of habeas corpus in the cases of twenty-four Chinese who recently attempted to enter the United States from Mexico.

The United States attorney raised the point that the Chinese in question cannot claim the privilege of habeas corpus, they being aliens and being in the United States illegally and in direct violation of the congressional enactment. Judge Kibbey sustained the point. The counsel for the Chinese then made an application for a writ of certiorari, which the court also denied on the same grounds. The Chinese will be taken to San Francisco today and sent back to China.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

The eldest son of the Sultan, Burhan Eddin-Effendi, will probably pay a visit to the United States during the coming fall by the direction of his father. The voyage will be made on the Turkish ironclad frigate Orkaneih.

The French minister of the interior, M. Constans, has issued orders for the rigid enforcement of the decree directed against the importation of cholera from Spain and France. The importation of fruit and vegetables is strictly forbidden and special measures are to be taken regarding travelers and merchandise coming from Spain.

The village board of St. Vincent considers a bonus for building through that place a cut-off of the Northern Pacific. It is to run between Red Lake Falls and the West line. It would save the Northern Pacific about fifty miles on their Winnipeg route and give them a nearer route than the Great Northern.

The report of a cyclone at Muscat, Arabia, is confirmed today and it is said that 700 people were killed.

The statistical report for June, of the department of agriculture shows improvement in the condition of cotton, the having advance from 88.8 to 91.4.

A Missouri Scare.

ALEXANDRIA, Mo., July 10.—People living north of this place have been frightened recently by the appearance of a wild man. A report comes from Keokuk that the man has been seen also on the outskirts of that city, on which occasions he badly frightened women and children. He is described as being old in appearance, with a shaggy beard and a ferocious cast of countenance. He has occasionally begged for food at farm houses, but has been driven away. It is believed that this man is none other than William Mars, a prominent old resident of Palmyra, Mo., who disappeared from that place some weeks ago.

Clerk Spalding All Right.

CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., July 10.—A settler reached here yesterday and states that he met Clerk of the Court Spalding, who was reported to have been killed by Indians, and that Spalding was on his way home. The sensational story of his killing, first brought here by a Sioux, undoubtedly started from the finding of an Indian's body in White river.

In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—In the senate Mr. Stewart offered a resolution, which was agreed to, calling on the secretary of the interior for information as to the selection of sites for reservoirs by the director of the geological survey. The senate resumed consideration of the conference report on the silver bill and was addressed by Mr. Morgan in opposition to the report.

Chicago's Population 1,100,000.

CHICAGO, July, 10.—Supervisor Gilbert has completed the census of Chicago, and 550 books were forwarded to Washington this morning. The supervisor now beleives that his former estimate, 1,085,000 was too low, and that Chicago has a population of at least 1,100,000.

The Governor Stalled.

BATON ROUGE, La., July 10.—The New Orleans Picayune this morning editorially says: "The right of the governor to veto an amendment has been formally denied by the general assembly. We firmly believe that this decision is solidly based."

She was a Forgeress.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 10.—Nettie Clarke, the young and beautiful forger of a $6,000 note on the Mechanics' Savings bank of this city, who was brought from New York last night, was arraigned before Judge Cook this morning on a charge of uttering a forged note with intent to defraud. She waived examination and was bound over.

THE FIRE FIEND.

Fort de France Almost Destroyed; Great Suffering and Loss.

FORT DE FRANCE, Island of Martinique, June 29.—Immediately after the fearful burning of this place, a brief cablegram concerning which was sent out two weeks ago, Governor Casse of Martinique sent an appeal for assistance to the governor of Trinidad, assuring him that three-quarters of the town had been burned and that more than 5000 persons were without homes and food. Governor Robinson at once convened the legislative council, which voted $2000 to aid the sufferers.

Sunday morning, June 22, a terrific fire was raging. The palace of justice was threatened, and with it the northeast of the town. Details of the fire were terrible and all the assistance possible was rendered. The whole population suffering from hunger, thirst and cold, for rain had fallen, chilling those unfortunate people who had no other shelter than that afforded by the trees.

The steamer Energique, however, soon arrived from St. Pierre with twenty tons of food.

The cause of the fire is unknown. In the opinion of many had prompt measures been taken and the surrounding houses been blown up, the town would have been saved. The loss is very considerable, 1700 houses having been destroyed, valued at $2,000,000.

It is impossible to tell the number of victims. Twelve bodies have, however, been recovered, charred beyond recognition and others fearfully mutilated. Fifteen soldiers are receiving attention at the hospital, many of them seriously, and one, it is said, fatally wounded.

The number of civilians wounded is considerable, fully three-quarters of the town is destroyed and seven-eighths of the inhabitants are homeless.

ENGLAND'S MINISTRY.

Arrangements for Changing the Ministry are Perfecting Slowly.

LONDON, July 10.—The press association announces that the arrangements for the reconstruction of the cabinet are making progress. It also says that the Rt. Hon. William H. Smith will probably be succeeded by Lord Randolph Churchill as government leader in the house. Lord Hartington has again been offered office, but he prefers to remain outside. He was consulted yesterday during the meeting of the cabinet and he advised that Lord Randolph Churchill be asked to resume office.

Lord Salisbury, the press association also states, went to Windsor castle last night and obtained the Queen's assent to the proposed changes.

Letter Carriers Resume Work.

LONDON, July 10.—Notwithstanding the fact that the Postmen's union decided last night that a strike would be inaugurated today unless the "blacklegs" in the employ of the postoffice department were dismissed, the carriers as a body this morning resumed their duties. The postoffice authorities state that they have applications from men desiring positions sufficient to fill all vacancies that may occur.

Two hundred parcel postmen have been dismissed from the service. A number of non-union postmen are working with the union postmen. The nonunionists, however, are protected by policemen. The union postmen seem to be weakening. The delivery of letters in new sections was suspended this morning. In other sections the deliveries were delayed for four hours.

Religion and Politics.

LONDON, July 10.—There is a good deal of comment in political circles over the changes that Mr. Parnell is gradually making in his faithful band of parliamentary representatives. As fast as vacancies arise he is filling them with Irish Protestants and men of English University training. The Irish electors of course are always willing to vote for whoever may be selected by their great leader, but the priests and the Catholic element of the present Irish parliamentary party are somewhat suspiciously wondering what Parnell's next move is to be.

Rigid Dueling Laws.

LONDON, July 10.—The revised laws of Greece go into effect today. Among them is one providing that any person engaged in a duel, although death may not ensue thereby, shall be carried publicly in a cart to the gallows and set thereon for one hour, and to be imprisoned not to exceed one year. Any person, moreover, sending or receiving a challenge, although no duel be fought, shall be fined 500 francs and be imprisoned for a term of not less than six months.

Anarchs in Three Countries.

LEIPSIC, July 10.—The trial of three men and one woman, who are accused of taking part in the plottings of anarchists, began here today. Evidence was submitted proving that the prisoners were connected with anarchists in St. Petersburg, London and America. The woman also made a confession revealing the plans of the conspirators.

A Mountain in the Atlantic.

LONDON, July 10.—The English steamer Clan Alphine reports that while making soundings in the Atlantic ocean about twenty-six miles northwest of Cape Frio, on the southwest coast of Africa, it suddenly struck bottom at a depth of only twenty-four feet. The discovery is a remarkable one, as no shoal had hitherto been suspected to exist in those waters. On all sides of the points where their soundings was made the ocean bed sinks rapidly to its normal depth in that region. It is evident that a peak of a submerged mountain has been discovered, and if it were elevated a little further it form and island.

Boston Lathers' Strike.

BOSTON, July 10.—The members of the Lathers' Protective union voted last night to inaugurate a strike July 14 for $3 and $3.50 per day. The men are getting $2.50 and $3 and struck April 1 for this advance, but finally returned at the old wages.

Gave Themselves Up.

NEW YORK, July 9.—To the surprise of a great many, Billy Maloney, reading clerk on the board of aldermen of '84, and Alderman DeLacey walked into the district attorney's office this forenoon. Both were indicted for complicity in the Broadway surface road bribery case.

Nominations.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—The President today sent to the senate the following nominations: Postmasters—Wisconsin, Henry Giebel, Cliftonville; Frank M. Charlesworth, South Kaukauna; George H. Fowler, Wamcatosa.

The Louisville Strike.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 10.—There is no new developments in the railroad men's strike except that at the Louisville & Nashville road has brought fifty men to the city, gathered from various parts of the country, who will be put to work this afternoon or tonight.

FOR BACKBONE AND COMMON SENSE.

The insane mob movements across the bay yesterday show the weakness of the police protection there and the call for backbone and plain common sense in dealing with such outbreaks. If it had been believed that the city government was prepared and determined to stamp out rioting at once and protect every law-abiding and working man in the city, it is safe to say that no such flaunting of contempt for the law and the rights of every citizen under the law would have occurred. Every such outrageous defiance of the law and breach of the peace is an inevitable damage and disgrace to the city where it takes place, and it behooves the the city therefore as a body politic and every sane and loyal member of it to forestall this damage and disgrace by such outspoken condemnation and show of determined resolution to keep the peace that even the most reckless and blinded insurrectionists will not dare to defy such blended strength of law and public sentiment.

It is before an outbreak that this demonstration should be made. The rallying for law and public safety should not be put off till the assault forces it, and damage and disgrace and death attend it. It is a pitiful and horrid sight to see the shock of actual conflict and men maddened with passion and weltering in blood. However righteous the defence, and however just the retribution, we mourn the madness and the misery of the outbreak and its crushing. Stamp it out without a thought of faltering when it comes, but let us do all in our power to stop its coming. And to this end let every man who has the city's safety in trust resolve to do his duty unflinchingly, and let every loyal citizen resolve to hold up the hands of the city's government and to let his resolution be known.

We question no man's right and privilege to get all he can by peaceful combination or in any other lawful way, for his labor with hand and brain. We want to see the high American standard of labor maintained in this country, by barring out degraded labor if need be, and welcome every rational move for the advance of our American standard. We believe that no country, however rapid its material advance, is making headway rightly where the people in mass are not rising with it. We want to live in no community and no country where wealth accumulates but men decay. If for no other reason, for the sake of the most personally selfish considerations, we want to live among self-supporting, self-respecting, well-employed and well-satisfied men, and there can be no abiding pleasure or safety even in any society beneath this standard.

But no advance toward this standard will be made or can be made by combining to set a city in an uproar, bully the police, defy the law and club every man who is willing to work for $1.75 a day while the strikers want $2. So far beyond reason in fact were the rioters yesterday that they were actually proceeding to club men who were getting all that the bullies were demanding. If any man thinks it will advantage him to quit work and test peaceably the question of demand and supply, he is, of course, free to do it; but if any man thinks he is free to club another man out of a job and club an employer into raising his wages, he should be made to understand that he is not free to do it, in this city or in this country.

If peaceful striking and combination can win the push for two dollars a day, all right. The profit or loss of any particular contractor is of no particular concern to The Herald. Every man who takes a city contract does so with his eyes open to the possible advance of the cost of labor, and must cover his own risk himself. But in fairness to the contractors, and to judge temperately of the situation from their standpoint, every man at work or out of work can learn if he chooses from the board of public works that the present East End road contracts were placed at exceptionally low figures for the work to be done, and it is not thought that the contractors will make a dollar out of them. Let any striker put himself in a contractor's place, if this is so, and ask himself coolly whether he would like to agree to stand a loss. And every striker in this free-for-all country may find himself in a contractor's place some day.

The pleasant little talk with one of the editors of The St. James Gazette, who made a flying visit to this city last evening, shows how level-headed Englishmen look at the Behring sea stir-about and other British-American wrangles. The Gazette is a tory paper of the simon-pure order and so close to the present administration that its utterances are commonly regarded as directly in line with government opinion if not semi-official. Editor Parker would no doubt insist properly that he speaks only for himself, but his views are none the less likely to be representative and as such of importance as well as of interest.

The noble red man of the Winnibigoshish pattern threatens to shoot the Duluth & Winnipeg if the road runs over his preserves. As a matter of fact the road does not touch his preserves, but the noble Winnibigoshish does not intend to have any possible poacher hanging round anywhere in the neighborhood and gives notice of his intention to shoot the first man he sees with the shot furnished him by Uncle Sam for big game. Then Uncle Sam will send his troops up to be plugged with his own gift enterprise shot, and rock his ward to sleep again. But on this particular occasion we think the noble Winnibigoshish will conclude that lying low is more healthy for him than shooting.

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

N. B. Merritt: Real estate is better this month than it usually is at this season and I look for a lively time this fall.

Judge Morris: I dont understand why there were no drunks this morning unless it was that the bums knew that the judge was out on a little toot himself last night and might be too severe this morning.

Chief McQuade: I never experienced such hot weather in my life as I did in St. Paul this week. It was simply terrible.

Miron Bunnell: I do not know what we are going to do if the people do not stop petitioning for street improvements. We will simply have to put our foot down upon some of them. The valuation is so high now that the people are hardly able to stand the taxation.

Comptroller Ten Brook: The valuation as given in last night's Herald is all right, but it does not allow us to issue many more bonds. The bonded indebtedness now amounts to $83,000 and this includes only the $50,000 of the $300,000 park bonds which have already been sold. It will have only $150,000 for its permanent improvement fund, and we require $500,000 for the bridge.

SEEN AND HEARD.

President Harrison is coming West soon. Why doesn't he come up here to see the regatta. He was sent yesterday an invitation to become the honorary guest of the association. The invitation was a work of art designed by G. H. Crosby, the East Superior street art dealer. It was made of white satin, the front face of the two leaves having a hand painted design, depicting the head of the lakes, with the entire world bound in this direction. The second and third pages contain the invitation, with the signatures of the members of the association. The fourth page has on it a marine design.

* * *

The Pioneer Press sent up its 1000 invitations last Saturday, that paper's donation to the regatta. They have a frontispiece, giving a view of the harbor, Duluth and the Superiors. These invitations have been sent to notables of the United States, England, Canada and Australia.

I understand that Walker's band is acquitting itself very creditably at Milwaukee. The boys, so Will Foote tells me, are prime favorites for one of the best Pythian prizes for good playing and appearance, and will come back to Duluth laurelled with honors. There's no earthly reason why this city shouldn't give the organization good support.

A slot machine that swallows your five cents and then repudiates its contract and refuses to disgorge is pretty mean, but not half so mean as the dime-in-the-slot contrivance that plays the same trick. One of these high-toned machines attempted to defraud me the other night. It was at the opera. "Josephine" was going at full blast. I wanted an opera glass. After rummaging around my clothes I discovered the magic coin. Somewhat reluctantly I dropped the coin into the little box in front and turned the knob according to directions. The coin disappeared through the slot, but the knob would not turn. I fussed with the thing for five minutes or so, but it was no use. It dawned upon me that I was out ten cents. I so informed the man who sat directly behind me. "I think I can restore your good nature and your dime too," remarked this accommodating individual. "How so," I inquired. "I observe," replied he, "that the machine in front of me has worked somebody out of 10 cents, without giving any adequate return. Just wait a second and I'll see what I can do." Thereupon my benefactor took out a penknife, inserted it in the slot of the machine on the back of my chair and fished out a genuine 10 cent piece, which he handed over to me. That's the only time I ever quit even on the brotherhood of slot machines.

IN HOTEL CORRIDORS.

Gilbert Parker editorial writer on the St James Gazette, of London, and for several years previously chief political editor of the Melbourne, Australia, Star, arrived in Duluth last night from the West, on his way to Eastern Canada. Mr. Parker is a journalist and political writer of great ability and is here to write a series of articles on America for the St. James Gazette and the Nineteenth Century, the noted English review. A Herald reporter had a pleasant talk with him last evening on the startling topics of the day.

"What of these bloodthirsty dispatches re to trouble over Behring sealeries, Mr. Parker?"

"There is a good deal of smoke," answered he, "and where there is smoke must be fire. But the spark is small, and I haven't the remotest idea that it will be fanned to anything like flame. You Americans are too closely allied to us English for any sealing or codfish privileges to bring on trouble. They may talk bombast till Behring sea freezes over, but there'll be no war. A little showing of tusks and growling hurts no one. But newspapers are too prone to exaggerate. The St. James Gazette has very close government relationships and I know what I am talking about when I say that the newspapers have badly swelled the disturbance.

"The Australiane want federation. I believe they will have it. If they do Australia will be an immense market for American goods, as it is fast growing to be anyway. The people there like your manufacturers better than our own. England does not want to see federation but she will probably have to grant it, especially when Canada is an example the Australians can point to.

"A great deal of excitement has been caused all over England by the McKinley bill and the temper of people and government is such that I expect to see reprisals against American products. This you can hardly stand. England will not permit the ruin of scores of thousands in Wales if she can help it.

"I find a very strong annexation feeling in the Northwest Territory—except on the Pacific—in Manitoba and in Ontario. It is also among Quebec French to some extent. I doubt if it comes in my day but it will come, it may be, in years. A United America would be a spectacle fit for the gods. But we don't want that at all, you know."

Mr. Parker is a brown, strong, active man of 45, he would hardly be taken for an Englishman at first sight.

W. W. Tracy of the great seed house of D. M. Ferry & Co. is in the city. Mr Tracy's business is a peculiar one, he is in fact the only man in either Europe or America who follows out his own peculiar lines of investigation. He is a botanical scientist whose writings are recognized as authority both in this country and Europe.

Mr. Tracy is what may be called a "seed tester." He has charge of some 20,000 acres of farms throughout the country where seeds are being grown for Ferry & Co. and it is his province to graft, impregnate and otherwise work on established varieties of flowers, fruits and vegetables, so as not only to improve existing plants and fruit, but to make new and unheard of varieties. Nearly all the "new" vegetables and flowers are the result of Mr. Tracy's scientific skill, while every vegetable garden shows his work in the larger bulbs and finer heads it produces.

He has just come from an inspection of growing fields and leaves this evening for the Sault, where the company has thousands of acres of pea vines under contract.

Gustaf Wilson, vice-consul of Russia, was a notable personage in town today. Mr. Wilson is a naturalized American, having lived in this country for forty-five years, spending most of his time in Oregon. As he has been instrumental in bettering the condition of Finnish immigrants, Finland being his native country, the Russian government appointed him its representative on the Pacific coast. Mr. Wilson is now en route to Russia for an extended visit.

"To all intents and purposes I am an American," said the vice-consul to a reporter. "I was appointed vice-consul by the Russian government to take care of my countrymen who emigrate here. There are now in the United States 50,000 Fins. They have settlements in Oregon, Minnesota, Michigan and Ohio. I am at present gathering data for presentation to the authorities regarding the condition of the Fins. I go tonight to Calumet, Mich., where there are three Finnish papers published. I then go to Ashtabula to meet the editors of other papers, and collect matter for my reports. I will travel through Finland, telling my countrymen of the glorious advantages of this country, but especially those of Oregon. It is my opinion that the reports of Russian prison outrages are brightly colored and sensational. The International Prison congress is now in session at St. Petersburg, and there the matter will probably be sifted to the bottom. The Russians have customs, of course, that we deprecate here in America and would not think of doing. But comparing the difference in the customs, bringing up and nature of government between Russia and America I think that the prisoners of the European country do not realize the harshness of treatment that Americans would under similar conditions. The Russians are anxious for progression towards high civilization. But all this takes time and when one thinks of what Russia has been and what she is today, a remarkable progress can be seen. Alexander II invited the prison congress to meet in St. Petersburg the time of the last congress in Rome. When he said that Russia wanted to advance in civilization he voiced the sentiment of all Russia."

The claims for favor which this unusual Powder possesses are these:

It is being used by the prominent Chefs of the Metropolis.

It has become popular with the leading ladies in the cities where it has been introduced.

It is good and honest; pure and popular.

Yesterday the Hennepin county republican convention elected anti-Merriam state delegates. The unit rule was also adopted.

A switch engine at Hastings was run into by a special passenger train. Afterward the switch engine run wild down the track, dashing into some freight cars standing by the elevator. R. W. Freeman, bookkeeper at the elevator, and a laborer, who were in one of the cars, were injured, but not fatally. Loss, $9,000.

George Anderson, who was accidentally shot by a target gun in Lakefield, July 4, was taken to his home in Jackson, where he died. The funeral took place today.

John and Willie Donaldson, aged 15 and 9 years, respectively, sons of Edward Donaldson, traveling salesman for Noyes Bros. & Cutler of St. Paul, were drowned in Straight river at Owatonna yesterday.

JOURNALISTIC PICKUPS.

Anoka Herald: The apparent disposition to let certain men receive the nomination simply because they want it, or to follow a precedent, while feeling that it will be the next thing to an impossibility to elect them should not be allowed.

Henderson Independent: Merriam's friends are beginning to feel alarmed. The recent census trouble in Minneapolis has put that city up in arms against everything belonging to St. Paul, and the delegates from Hennepin county to the coming state convention will probably be opposed to a renomination of the present state executive.

Verndale Journal: It does not seem reasonable that Governor Merriam's supporters at Minneapolis would desert him on account of the census disturbance, if they were indeed loyal friends, and if the leaders stand firm, we do not believe that the Hennepin delegation will oppose him in the convention.

Fairmount News: When rogues fall out honest men get their dues. If Minneapolis and St. Paul keep up their fight the country districts may stand some show. But what will become of the Washburn and Merriam combine.

Bicycles for the Boys.

This advertisement is for the boys---and the girls as well---of Duluth, and any one of them who doesn't read it, and act on it too, will lose a good vacation chance.

Now to business, without any wait, for it's too near the Summer to wait long for anything now. The Herald has made arrangements with Crawford Bros., sporting goods dealers of 205 West Superior street, so that it can furnish any boy or girl in Duluth, who actually wants it, a good safety bicycle. All it will cost you will be a little work, and the work you can do in two or three days probably

Bicycles for the Girls.

As to the bicycles, they are good substantial machines, what are known as "Youths' Machines," and cost $35 at any of the stores. You can't get them for less. We are going to let you have a pick of three styles, a boy's safety, a girl's safety, and a boy's with the big front wheel. They are just such bicycles as are in regular and steady use here and everywhere else every day. We want to say right here that Crawford Bros. will tell you all about them, just what they are and how good they are. And they'll do more, they agree to make good any damage that comes to the machines the first year, except that brought on by careless or wrong usage.

At the Herald office on Lake avenue you can learn just how many subscribers you will have to get to secure one of these good machines. The number is a good many less than you'd think. Come and see, now.

INDIANS DO THREATEN.

Northern Reds Claim the Duluth & Winnipeg Must Not Cross.

They Threaten to Shoot; Fifty Miles of Line Now Graded.

There is now a little trouble between the contractors on the extension of the Duluth & Winnipeg railway and the Indian police on the Winnibigoshish reservation that may become serious, though it is hoped it may not. The graders are at work on what is claimed to be the reservation, but about which there seems to be a conflict of authority.

The Indians have in the last day or two threatened to shoot the graders if they came a step further, and as a consequence work was stopped in large part. Senator Davis at Washington was telegraphed to by the road, and in return stated that there was no Indian title to the land; that it was off the reservation altogether. This the Indian's deny and still threaten. It had been thought by the rail way people, and is still thought that they have rights conferred by congress to cross all reservations on the line and they intend to push the road on as soon as possible without bloodshed. Messrs. Munger and Fisher do not fear any very serious trouble though they do not like the delay.

R. S. Munger, who is now acting president of the company, returned this morning from an important session of the directors of the North Star Construction company, held for convenience in St. Paul.

He states that grading is proceeding rapidly, full fifty miles being graded beyond Grand Rapids and La Prairie up to last night. This takes the road far beyond the Mississippi chain of lakes and to a point eighteen miles due north of Winnibigoshish lake. As to track laying, there has not been so much progress. The steel first on hand is all used up, six miles being laid, and a wait for more is now in progress. The big barge Wahnapitae is expected in Duluth every day with 1900 tons, which will be pushed to the front as fast as possible. It will be followed by several more cargoes. There are nearly 2000 men at work on the line. Water tanks and sidings are being put in, and the final touches made to track east of La Prairie, and a large number of men are at work.

On the Manitoba side of the road but little has yet been done, though grading is expected to be under way soon.

A PLEASANT SPREAD.

The Realty Excursionists Given an Excellent Feast for Mind and Stomach.

The banquet at The Spalding last evening given in honor of the Washington and Baltimore party, was attended by about 150 ladies and gentlemen and proved a very enjoyable affair.

Judge Morris filled the very important position of toast master in a very acceptable manner. Alderman Long delivered an address of welcome which was filled with interesting statistics. C. W. Spates of Washington responded for the visitors declaring that while Proctor Knott made Duluth famous nineteen years ago, Duluth now made Proctor Knott famous. T. W. Hugo spoke of "Duluth, its Past, Present and Future" and paid a touching tribute to the merry fog horn. Lewis Cleftane spoke of the "City of Washington" and Hon. H. L. Pelouze responded for the "City of Richmond." Secretary Thompson's speech on the "Railways and Waterways" was a masterly effort. Col. D. G. Purman spoke for the ladies in a fitting manner. Hon. O. P. Stearns closed the speech-making with a series of old reminiscences.

IS A CHESTNUT.

That's the Evidence of the Prentice People; Same as in Earlier Cases.

Chief McQuade returned last evening from St. Paul, where he went as a witness in the suit of Frederick Prentice against the Northern Pacific on Duluth property.

He says that the plaintiff's attorneys presented their case in an excellent manner, but that the testimony offered was about the same as in the Stearns case, and he did not see how the decision could be different from that in the former case, when both district and United States supreme courts decided adversely to Printice.

He says the report that Judge Miller "sat upon" Attorney Billson, as printed in a morning paper, was not true. The attorneys for the plaintiff had been introducing a large amount of documentary evidence, all of which was objected to by Mr. Billson. Patience finally ceased to be a virtue, and the judge remarked that it was too hot weather to listen to so much evidence which was of no importance, and ordered the counsel for the plaintiff to be more brief. This is all the "sitting upon" that was done, and the greater part of this was upon the attorney for the plaintiff.

No Land on Which the Sun Shines

Possesses greater natural advantages than our own, but there are portions of the great grain-bearing west and fertile south where atmospheric influences prejudicial to health militate against them, in some degree, as places of residence. Heavy rainfalls and the overflow of great rivers, which upon their subsidence leave dank vegetation exposed to the rays of the sun, there beget malarial fevers, and there also the inhabitants are periodically obliged to use some medicinal safeguard against the scourge. The most popular is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a preventive that has for over a third of a century afforded a reliable protection to those whom experience in the futility of ordinary remedies for fever and ague has taught to substitute for them. Whether intermittent or remittent, miasmatic fevers are conquered and averted by the superb anti-periodic and fortifying medicine as they are by no other preparation in use. Use it and abandon impure local bitters.

WEST END.

The Herald has several times spoken of the stench that arises from the dumping grounds on Twentieth avenue. If some health inspector will walk along the sidewalk on a windy day he may possibly find out that there is such a thing there as a typhoid fever breeder. The West End needs more sewerage, and that is something to which we would like to call the attention of the aldermen.

To Nervous People.

Pick up any newspaper, from Maine to Texas, or Florida to Alaska, and you will find seductive advertisements with the above heading. Presumably these are for people whose nerves are weakened by disease, but there are many other kinds of nervous people in this queer world. Some are subject to all sorts of apprehensions when about to take a journey. The train may run off the track. The boiler of the locomotive may burst. They have heard the bridges on some roads are not safe. The train may start ahead of time and they get left. They may miss their connection with another line. The road does not run into a union depot. The conductors and brakeman are holy terrors. The "candy butchers" on the trains are insolent. Their baggage will surely be smashed. They know their trunks will get lost. They will be misdirected when they "change cars." To such people we would say, buy your railroad tickets over "The Burlington," dismiss all your fears, go to sleep in their vestibuled Pullmans, and you will wake in the morning, you and your belongings all safe, have an excellent breakfast in the dining car, and arrive at your destination on time. For rates, tickets, or any information, consult your nearest ticket agent, or address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

No St. Paul and Duluth road deserves better at the hands of Duluth and Superior people than the Eastern Minnesota, whose subscription of $500 to the regatta fund places the head of the lakes in this company's debt. Letters received this morning from the St. Paul & Duluth and Omaha absolutely refuse to subscribe one cent.

Amusement Notes.

The Granger company came in this noon. The Duluth repertory will include "The Creole," "Camille" and "Inherited." The company had a hard experience in Fargo. Miss Granger was there during the storm, stopping at the Columbia. "People ran out on the streets shouting for help," said a member of the company. "Everybody was frightened to death and all expected to be killed the next minute. Luckily, the building which the company was in was very strong and withstood the wind. Lightning struck in several places, and the electric phase of the storm was its most awful part."

Thompson Opera Company.

Mr. Berrie Jarrett, who is associated with W. A. Thompson in the management of the Thompson Opera company, which begins a season of summer opera at Temple Opera next Monday evening, arrived from New York yesterday. He said: "We have tried to organize a comic opera company, which, for completeness will equal anything of the kind ever seen in Duluth. It has been picked from the best artists in New York city. Our principal comedian will be A. W. F. MacCollin, who, for the past five years has had an organization of his own known as the MacCollin Opera company. Previous to that he was the comedian of the McCaull company. The prima donnas will be Miss Franc D. Hall and Miss Bessie Tannehill. Miss Hall is not only a very pretty girl, but a charming actress as well, with a powerful soprano voice, ranging to high C. Miss Tannehill's recent triumph here as Gabrielle in "Evangeline" speaks for itself. Among the other principals are Chas. F. Lang, who has been the leading tenor of the Casino; Miss Adele Barker, whom I consider the best Katisha; Miss Lillian Glever, Miss Estelle Wellington, Miss Grace Cartland, Chas. Barton, Joseph McKinley, etc. We have a number of excellent voices in the chorus and some exceedingly pretty girls, both in face and figure. The costumes have been made expressly for us. The company will number about forty people. Our opening opera will be 'Mikado,' followed by either 'Olivette' or the 'Queen's Lace Handkerchief.' It is our intention to give two or three operas a week. The company leaves New York today and will arrive here Saturday."

Local Market Quiet and Fairly Steady Trade Notes.

There was another firm and quiet wheat market here today. The opening was ⅜ higher for July and ⅛ up on both August and September wheat. The market ruled inactive, but very firm, with no pressure to sell, and but little stuff offered at any time. The news from the growing crops of the Northwest is all favorable, and the present prospects are very promising for one of the largest and best crops of wheat ever harvested in the country directly tributary to this market.

SPECIAL CROP REPORTS

LANGDON, N. D., July 10.—[Special to the Herald.]—Weather for past week decidedly cooler, ranging from 82 to 60, and and last night as low as 46. No rain of any account in this vicinity since last report. Severe wind storm Sunday night, accompanied with light rain; no damage reported in this vicinity. Storm passed to north of us, as about twelve miles north the rain fell in torrents; also light hail, but no damage reported. Altogether the condition of the crops continues very favorable.

BOTTINEAU, N. D., July 10.—[Special to The Herald.]—In some parts of this county crops have been injured by drouth, but on account of a heavy rain this morning the ground is thoroughly soaked and no more rain is needed. At present everything is favorable, but crops are so backward that frost is to be feared before they can ripen.

Chicago Wheat.

The following dispatches are over the private wires of W. W. Bill, successor to Pressy, Wheeler & Lewis:

Wheat: The morning cables although strong showed no advance. They reported fine weather in England and on the continent. The temper of the crowd has been bearish, they show a disposition rather to sell short than to buy. There was some talk of export but it had no effect on the market. The Cincinnati Price Current reports threshing returns as sufficiently improved in some quarters to make up for the lowering in others and sticks to its former estimate of 425,000,000 for the entire wheat crop. This seemed to have more effect on the temper of the crowd than all the bull news that was received and resulted in a weak closing. The market of tomorrow will be largely influenced by the government report which will be issued this morning.

THE LOCAL STRIKE.

All Quiet Today in Duluth Streets; Man Shot in Superior.

There was but little change in the local strike situation today, except that the strikers seemed to have lost some of their members. The deserters are not at work for Forrestal Bros.' and have probably sought work on other contracts. None of Forrestal's men are at work except on East Superior street.

A small gang began work on the Ohio avenue sewer this morning, but they had not been working very long before the gang visited them and interfered with the laborers so that they were obliged to quit work. The same thing occurred at Sixth avenue east and First street where Forrestal Bros. have a small gang of men at work drilling. The men were satisfied with their wages, but are not able to work.

Forrestal Bros. say that they can get plenty of men at their wages, but do not think it best to resume work. Unless there is a change, however, they will probably resume work tomorrow and claim police protection. They can get all of this they want, as Chief McQuade has a reserve squad on duty and laborers will not be molested if they desire to work.

A Man Hurt.

Late yesterday afternoon Superior strikers started for the barge works at West Superior. They made an organized break for the works and were met by Contractor G. J. Anderson with a revolver and a club. He warned the strikers fairly that if they made an attempt to enter the grounds and molest the men who wished to work he would shoot. This had little effect, however, and the crowd surged forward. As they were passing the line stated by Mr. Anderson he fired at one of the leaders, Andreas Severson. The shot struck the man in the forehead, making only a flesh wound. It then glanced and made a slight wound in the arm of one of the men standing by his side. There was then great excitement, and Anderson was taken to city hall for safekeeping.

A SENSATIONAL CASE.

An Injured and Robbed Husband Tells His Story of Wrongs.

How the Prisoner Has a "Pull" on Local Magistrates.

One of the livliest sensations ever on in the Northwest, and one that has been told in these columns during its continuance, has been that of the arrest of a Chicagoan named Newberry in Port Arthur for adultery, robbery and perjury; the former with the wife of his old partner, Crawford, the second from Crawford and the third against her majesty's courts. Newberry has now made affidavit that Mrs. Crawford, with whom he is living at Port Arthur, is his sister, this of course being stoutly denied by Mr. Crawford and as stoutly by Newberry's brother, who is helping Crawford in the prosecution.

Both Crawford and the brother of the arrested man were in Duluth last night, and from them The Herald gets the latest, as well as a condensed history of the case.

Lovers of the sensational had a field day Monday at the Port Arthur police court, where Magistrate Thompson continued the preliminary investigation into the perjury charges preferred by F. H. Crawford of Chicago against Fred M. Newberry. The evidence brought out goes still further to show in detail the truth of the sweeping charges made by Crawford, given some weeks ago in these columns, and also the ways and means adopted by the prisoner to save himself from an extended term in the penitentiary.

It will be remembered that this case is the outcome of a sensational elopement from Chicago, in which the principal actors were Fred. M. Newberry and Mrs. Crawford. Crawford and Newberry were partners, their business being run as the Newberry Furniture company. At one time things were prosperous, but through Newberry's mismanagement, it is charged, the firm's business was negotiated, its credit pledged for every dollar, and its financial standing ruined.

After sundry unsavory transactions, which threatened to land him in jail, Newberry absconded from Chicago, taking with him as much of the firm's property and assets as was moveable. Very shortly afterwards Mrs. Crawford also left Chicago, and by a happy chance no doubt went straight to Port Arthur, where Newberry had located. What assets Newberry had not taken with him Mrs. Crawford secured, so that the poor husband in Chicago was left minus both wealth and wife, while Newberry had both.

In the meantime Newberry, had not been idle. He invested his funds in 2000 shares of the West End Silver Mountain Mining Company, which at time was paying dividends. As soon as the Chicago creditors found this out, they took legal proceedings to get their money back. Writs were followed by judgements, and the next move was to seize the stock, but Newberry obtained an injunction restraining them from this, on the ground that the stock belonged to Mrs. Crawford, and was held by him only as trustee. In obtaining this injunction, Newberry's solicitors filed a couple of affidavits, one of them made before the local registrar of the hight court at Port Arthur, and the other before a notary public. These affidavits baffled the Chicago creditors and saved Newberry from any further trouble for a while. Public interest in the case died out, and Mr. Newberry settled down as an ordinary every-day citizen, notwithstanding the fact that he was living with another man's wife.

Interest in the case was again renewed by Newberry's arrest for perjury at the instance of Mr. Crawford, who charged that in the injunction affidavits Newberry had perjured himself. This case was dismissed on a technicality because the official who was filling the position of local registrar was not regularly appointed. Nothing daunted, Crawford laid another charge of perjury. Lawyers R. R. Godfrey and T. A. Gorham defended the prisoner, and succeeded in having the case adjourned from time to time. It was finally set for a peremptory hearing on Monday last.

In the interim Newberry had rather a lively experience. He ventured back to Chicago thinking he would be safe enough, but the moment he got off the train he was arrested, and he rode down to jail in the patrol wagon. It was an arrest for debt by the Chicago Trust & Savings company, who held a judgment for $90. There was every danger of Mr. Newberry languishing in jail for considerable time, but kind fortune came to his aid. A law was discovered in the process. Another warrant was issued, but he eluded the detectives and got back to Port Arthur.

When the case was called on Monday afternoon there was an expectant crowd waiting. It was expected that Crawford would go on the stand, and as his evidence is particularly racy, some fun was looked for. However, Mr. Crawford was not called, the whole day being occupied in taking the evidence of H. H. Nichols of Denver, Col., who is the principal owner of the West End Silver Mountain mine. When the case came up again on Tuesday, the council for the defense demanded the production of the affidavit, in which it was alleged that Newberry had committed perjury. The local registrar, into whose custody it had been placed for safe keeping, reported that he couldn't find it, and notwithstanding that a very careful search has been made, the affidavit is missing. Under these circumstances the police magistrate could do nothing else than dismiss the case, and Crawford over to appear before the grand jury on the 18th of this month, to indict Newberry. If a true bill is found the trial will be held at once.

The question now is, how did the missing affidavit disappear? The prosecution openly charge the defense with stealing it, and threaten proceedings. To this the Newberry people say nothing, but smile. When the case comes up at the assizes there will be also a charge of conspiracy preferred against Whitaker, the local registrar, on the ground that he intentionally permitted the prisoner's friends to secure the telltale affidavit.

That Fog Horn.

To the Editor of The Herald:

When Uncle Sam made up his mind that we were entitled to a horn of our own to blow—vessels off the beach, the contract was let to a man who had invested in Superior lots, and the idea came into his head that if he could divert some of the emigration which was pointing Duluthward towards Superior he would the sooner realize on his investment. To carry out his scheme he joined the Salvation Army, rented rooms next door to a boiler shop, hired a German band and attended political meetings, but could not find the keynote. At last he heard a dyspeptic, pensioned army mule sing a Wagnerian prelude, and he struck it. But although he succeeded in his imitation of that blood curdling sound, the scheme utterly failed in its objects for not only were people rooted to the spot from the moment they heard it, and the tide of emigration was enticed by the siren notes to keep on coming to Duluth, but I am informed that it has proven one of the most potent factors in the increase of the population of this city in other ways. Besides which it has rendered improbable, if not impossible for a Duluth man to to that place whose existence Bob Ingersoll denies. For when Gabriel blows his horn, and all the grand army of the dead march in silent procession to be judged, the Duluthian will wearily raise his head, mutter to himself "my goodness hasn't that fog lifted yet," roll over, and take another sleep.

A BOOM FOR BRADEN.

The Auditor Gets Hennepin's 45 Votes and Duluth's--- Perhaps.

But Will He Run? He has Said No; a Few Political Points.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 11—[Special to The Herald].—It is reported here upon apparently good authority that the Hennepin delegation to the republican state convention has agreed to support State Auditor Braden for governor if he will consent to the use of his name.

A telegram was received in this city yesterday afternoon from a prominent republican of Duluth saying that St. Louis county will elect a Braden delegation.

Inquiry among some of the leading republicans of Duluth shows that there is quite a feeling being manifested in favor of Mr. Braden. C. H. Graves is not in the city at present and could not be seen. Frank Burke is in favor of any man that will down Merriam, and he thinks Mr. Braden would be the best man to do it and that if he will pull away from the governor and all the use of his name in the convention he can be nominated and elected without an effort. "He would run like a whirlwind." Mr. Burke is confident that a Braden delegation will be sent to the convention.

G. G. Hartley has not given the matter much thought and had but little to say. He can not see, however, why Merriam should not be nominated and elected. With the exception of one or two vetoes, Merriam has made the best governor for Duluth that the state ever had, and Mr. Hartley can not see any reason why he should not be retained. Merriam is, of course, very wealthy, but the man with money is usually the one for which the people like to vote, so long as nothing else is urged against him.

M. O. Hall when asked his opinion concerning the feeling towards Mr. Braden in St. Louis county—provided he allowed the use of his name in the State convention—replied: "In conversation with Mr. Braden a short time ago he stated that he would be glad to give the people of the state another term as auditor, if they wanted him; but if the party found other material, more acceptable for that position, he would gladly step down and out. But under no circumstances at this time would he allow the use of his name as a candidate for governor. Those who know Mr. Braden best know that when he says a thing he means it, and I think the suggestion of his name is simply a waste of time and is done without any authority from him."

"What is the feeling concerning Merriam in St. Louis county?"

"What little I have heard has been, for the most part, against Mr. Merriam. The public I do not think fully understand the situation. They do not stop to think seriously about this matter. The fact is that the St. Louis county delegation two years ago were largely supporters of ex-Lieutenant-Governor Gilman, and very few were for Merriam, I, for one of that delegation, believing that the St. Cloud statesman's interests were more identical with those of Duluth. After the convention the St. Louis county republicans accepted the situation and at the polls rolled up the second largest majority of any county in the state for Merriam. The governor felt very much pleased at this result and so expressed himself to many republicans of this city, not only verbally but in the administration of his office. It is customary to equalize the different appointments to congressional districts as near as can be. To the Fifth district, out of seven appointments, he has given St. Louis county four. The great hue and cry of Duluthians (and I was one of them) was to have a railroad commissioner. When this matter was presented to the governor, he convinced the Duluthians that inasmuch as Duluth and Minneapolis are both wheat markets, it would be better not to have a commissioner from either of these cities, but to have disinterested parties. Instead of giving the appointment to Duluth, he gave it to another resident of the Fifth district, again remembering the district by giving it one of the three commissioners.

Rat Portage Reduction Works.

RAT PORTAGE, July 11.—Work on the reduction works is at a standstill owing to the delay to the machinery, which is being held by the customs at Port Arthur. The government passed an order-in-council exempting mining machinery not made in Canada free from duty, and the collector at Port Arthur claims that duty should be paid and then remitted if it came under the order. The company have been obliged to stop work awaiting the settlement of the question, and all the men were discharged last Wednesday. The collector referred the matter to the department of customs, and the minister has been considering (?) it for some months. The cessation of work has brought forth many strong terms against the dilatoriness of the minister of customs and the action of the collector. The board of trade met Saturday evening to take some action, and the general desire is that the Winnipeg board of trade should assist in this matter, as it is as much to the interest of Winnipeg that this should be settled as to Rat Portage.

Dutch Colonists in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—Manager Nye of the Holland colony which recently settled in Merced county started yesterday for Europe. He will bring out in September 100 more Hollanders, and he expects to lecture on California in every large town in Holland. He says that the Dutch colonists are delighted with Merced, and that several thousands are sure to come over as soon as they get letters from relatives and friends. They make the best of colonists, as they all have money to plant vineyard and orchards.

Where Summer Resorts.

KANSAS CITY, July 11.—James McMahon, an employe at Armour's packing house, was overcome by heat today. He was taken to police headquarters, where he died in a few minutes. Joseph Brown of Newton, Mo., had a severe sunstroke here. He is in a very critical condition.

THE OTHER SIDE.

An Intimate Friend of Grover Talks on the Situation.

NEW YORK, July 11,—Although Ex-President Cleveland has practically buried himself for the summer months in his cosy quarters at Marion Mass., it does not follow that he is at all oblivious to developments in the democratic fold, and for which Gov. Hill and Ex-Gov. Gray are responsible. The Ex-President is a subscriber to two of the largest press-clipping bureaus and has been furnished with a bag of press reports and editorial comments large enough to keep him busily reading.

Daniel Lamont too, despite his ardous duties finds ample time and opportunity to keep a sharp look-out on the political horizon, while Daniel Dougherty and other close friends and intimates of the ex-president are taking care that nothing of interest calculated to affect his political fortunes escapes their observation.

Just whether the success which has attended the Albany-Indianapolis politicians in their effort to effect a combination of the Hill-Gray forces will have the effect of inducing the political friends of the ex-president to show their hand remains to be seen. Said one of those today: "If it be true that the campaign already inaugurated by Hill and Gray is to be personally directed against Grover Cleveland; if he is to be made the target of the vituperation, and sarcasm and covert sneers and like kinds of ammunition with which that element is so well supplied, I do not see how the friends of Grover Cleveland can afford to keep quiet. "If Hill and Gray are to make Grover Cleveland instead of Harrison and his administration and the policy of the republican party the target of their boom, I think I can promise you that they will very soon be glad to beat a retreat, and that without waiting to take their dead and wounded from the field. Cleveland is not before the country as a presidential candidate, and I do not think he desires to be so regarded.

"I believe that I am violating no confidence when I say that despite the pronounced honor which it would be to be again called upon to lead the democratic party of the country as its standard-bearer, I doubt whether Grover Cleveland would exchange his present surroundings and prospects for another term in the White House. On this question, however, he will doubtless speak himself, and that with no uncertain sound when the proper time arrives."

SILLY SUPERSTITION,

But They are Married Twice Just the Same.

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., July 11.—The filing of a certificate in the bureau of vital statistics today brought to light a peculiar marriage or re-marriage, which was solemnized on Saturday last by Rev. Daniel McCartney. The contracting parties were Miss Minna Irving, the well-known "poetess of the Hudson," and Mr. Irving H. Delamator, late of the West Point United States military academy.

They were originally married on Oct. 18 of last year—a Friday. It was the only day that young Delamator could obtain leave, and the match was something in the nature of a runaway one. Two or three weeks ago, while camping in the woods, they invested a piece of silver with a gipsy to learn their fortune and were gravely informed that a marriage on Friday was unlucky, and that unless the ceremony was performed again disaster would follow both of them to the end of their days. On their return to the city they consulted several friends, all of whom predicted that ill-fortune would be in the wake of the ill-omened day. Thereupon the Rev. Dr. McCartney was called on and the ceremony was re-performed.

Some difficulty, however, was experienced in inducing the bureau of vital statistics to accept the certificate owing to the fact that Miss Irving could not say that she had been either single, widowed or divorced at the time of the second marriage. The case was probably one of the most unique on record.

A NEEDED WINDFALL.

Members of the Theatrical Profession to be Specially Favored.

NEW YORK, July 11.—Many of the leading railroads of the country, through their principal officers have officially given their sanction and approval to the bill proposing an amendment to the interstate commerce act giving the roads the power to make special rates for members of the theatrical profession.

The measure, which is fathered by Representative Hansbrough, is now before the committee of commerce of the house, and as there has been no indication of opposition on the part of the railroads, it will probably be favorably reported and acted upon before the close of the session.

Among those who have endorsed the measure are J. R. Wood of the Pennsylvania railroad, George H. Daniels of the New York Central, L. P. Farmer of the Lake Erie, C. E. Lambert of the West Shore.

During the past few weeks theatrical managers throughout the country have been writing to members of congress urging prompt action on the bill, and representations from the capital that an effort to get it from the committee and through the house will be made next week.

Golden Rod First, Rose Second.

The scattering votes were distributed through 121 different varieties.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

Wants a Conference for International Monetary Standard.

The President Signs Bills; Other Capital Doings.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—In the senate Mr. Teller introduced a joint resolution declaring it to be the determined policy of the United States government to use both gold and silver as full legal tender money; instructing the President to invite the governments of the Latin union countries, and of such other nations as he may deem advisable to join in a conference to adopt a common ratio between gold and silver for the purpose of establishing internationally the use of bimetallic money and securing fixity of relative value between those metals. The conference is to be held at such place as may be mutually agreed upon and when in judgement of the president of the United States a sufficient number of nations shall have entered into such international arrangement he shall declare the ratio so fixed to be the existing ratio on the United States. The President is to appoint not less than three nor more than five commissioners to attend such conference on the part of the United States, and who are to receive $2500 and their reasonable expenses. The joint resolution was referred to the finance committee.

CHINESE MINISTER TALKS

And Then Promptly Takes Back What he Has Said

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Nothing of late years has created so much of a sensation in diplomatic circles as the lengthy interview had by a New York reporter a few days ago with the Chinese minister, in which the latter, who has just returned from Europe expressed himself freely regarding the policy of this government towards Chinese immigrants, and broadly declared that unless more pacific councils prevailed and a modification of the exclusion law was secured, the Chinese government would retaliate against this country.

It is altogether contrary to precedent for a foreign minister to make public the business or intentions of his government other than by an official communication to the secretary of state and the opinion is freely expressed in diplomatic circles that if the example set by Minister Tsui were generally followed, it might be productive of innumerable difficulties between this and other countries.

The partially qualified denial of portions of the interview, which has been made by the Chinese minister, only tends to indicate that in the main it reflected his views and the instructions which have been given him for the information of the state department.

IT IS COLD.

The Coldest Weather Reported on July for Years.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The signal office furnishes the following special bulletin to the press: This morning's weather reports show that throughout the south Atlantic and middle states from Georgia northward to Lake Erie and in portions of New England last night was one of the coldest on record for this season of the year.

Following are some minimum temperatures with their relation to the lowest ever reported during the second decade of July, viz; Savannah 66°, 1 below the minimum; Raliegh 59,2 below; Charlotte 56, 4 below; Lynchburg and Harrisburg 54, 7 below; Northfield, Vt., 40, 2 below; Washington City and Sandusky 56, and Boston 54, no difference. The minimum yesterday morning at Albany was 48, 2 below the lowest previously recorded during the first decade of July.

Turned Sterns on Behring Sea.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Information has been received at the navy department that trouble is imminent between Salvador and Guatamala, and it being thought advisable to have some American war vessel near at hand, orders were issued for the steamers Ranger and Thetis, now at San Francisco, to proceed at once to the west coast of Central America.

Bills Approved.

WASHINGTON July 11.—The president today approved the legislative, judicial and executive appropriation bill; the act to provide an additional associate Justice to the Supreme Court of New Mexico; the act to provide for the disposal of abandoned military reservations in Wyoming.

In the House.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Mr. Perkins of Kansas presented the conference report on the bill granting the right-of-way across the Mille Lacs Indian reservation to the Little Falls, Mille Lacs & Lake Superior railroad. Mr. Enloe of Tennessee raised the question of consideration in the interest of the private calendar. No quorum being present a call of the house was ordered. One hundred and ninety-four members—more than a quorum responded to their names. Mr. Perkins moved that further proceedings under the call be suspended with, agreed to, yeas, 130; nays, 55. The conference report was then adopted.

The committee on military affairs directed a favorable report on a bill to revive the rank of lieutenant general. The bill permits the President to appoint to that office an officer distinguished for skill and bravery in the late war, the office is to expire upon his retirement. The conference report on the silver bill has been submitted to the house.

Calling Barker Down.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 11.—The Journal's Washington special says: Capt. Miller, harbormaster at Duluth, has secured an order from the war department prohibiting dredges from depositing matter in the channel at Duluth. The order goes into effect at once.

BROKE UP THE FEAST.

Wedding Festivities That are Suddenly Smashed to Smithereens.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 11.—J. F. Bentel, a well-known business man of Freedom, Pa., was arrested in the city last night for forgery, while celebrating his wedding feast. The arrest broke up the feast. The bride offered to settle the alleged case of forgery by payment of the amount on the spot, but the groom refused to permit this and he gave bail for a hearing next week. The amount is but $150 and Bentel says it is a case to squeeze him.

He gave a note endorsed by a Mr. Bauman for that sum and on account of property litigation. The note went to protest. Bauman repudiated the signature on the back, and last night the officer appeared on the scene and arrested the groom just as he was about to respond to a toast to the health of the bride. It was a little illtimed, to say the least.

Mr. Bentel is a member of one of the oldest and best-known families in Beaver county and his arrest caused a sensation.

A BAD SEASON.

Trusts All Getting a Dose of Discomfort This Year.

CHICAGO, July 11.—J. D. Iler, a well known western brewer, is preparing to establish a large distilling industry in opposition to the whisky trust. He is now in Chicago for the purpose of selecting machinery for a distilling plant to cost nearly $3,000,000. Such an establishment would furnish all the spirits and alcohol that the trust now has trade for, independent of the three outside houses.

It is the idea of Mr. Iler and his associates not only to put up a big distillery, but to combine enough industries with it to warrant the establishment of a small Western town. The plant is to be established on the Missouri river at some point in the heart of the corn belt, but Mr. Iler declines to make the location public with more exactness pending the purchase of the necessary land.

THOSE EDUCATORS.

The Teachers Doing Solid Work in the Convention.

ST. PAUL, July 11.—At this morning's session of the National Education convention a paper upon "Organization and System versus Originality and Individuality in Teacher and Pupil" was presented by H. Cox, Chillicothe, Ohio.

This afternoon the association takes up the consideration of the race problem. The general aspect of the problem will be considered by A. A. Gundy of Munroe, La.; education and the problem by President J. C. Price of Livingston college, Salisbury, N. C., while United States Senator Henry W. Blair will discuss the relations of the general government to the problem.

DEADLY DAMP.

An Abandoned Coal Shaft Secures its two Victims.

WHAT CHEER Iowa, July 11.—A lad named Ray Hawk went into an old escape shaft of a mine here, was overcome by black damp and fell to the bottom.

Fred Armstrong, a milkman who was passing saw the accident and went to the rescue. He was also overcome and fell to the bottom. A man named Baldwin also tried to descend and was overcome, but was rescued and his life saved.

The bodies of the boy and man were taken out with grappling hooks but all efforts at resuscitation proved useless. Armstrong leaves a wife and child.

Makes Five Women Killed.

BINGHAMTON N. Y., July 11.—Mrs Thos. Beahan, and Mrs. Henry Van Duser, injured in last night's railroad accident near Oswego, by which three women were instantly killed, died about four hours after the accident.

A Fearful Murder.

DEVILS LAKE, N. D., July 11.—Agnes Baldwin, a notorious prostitute, today murdered J. Kinney at her homestead and chopped his body almost to pieces. She was arrested. She confesses she knocked him down and killed him and then proceeded to chop him up. She cut of his head and legs and buried the body in a gunnysack.

Deadly Soda Water.

NEW YORK, July 11.—Christian Eckert was killed this morning by the explosion of a gas generator at 119 East One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street. His son Chester, aged 18, also died a short time later. Frank, 21 years, was seriously burned. He was removed to the hospital. They were making soda water at the time of the explosion.

Wouldn't Ha' Done It.

BERLIN, July 11.—Prince Bismarck, in an interview published by The Frankfurt Journal, says that he would not have signed the Anglo-German agreement in its present form. The ex-chancellor holds that Heligoland, which the Emperor wished to secure to Germany, might have been obtained at less cost. Unless the island is strongly fortified, he says, it might prove a danger to Germany in the event of war.

Stanley's Wedding Postponed.

LONDON, July 11.—Henry M. Stanley is suffering from a severe attack of gastritis and confined to his bed. It is feared that his marriage to Miss Dorothy Tennant, which is arranged to take place in Westminster abbey tomorrow, will have to be postponed.

A Strike at Ashland.

ASHLAND, July 10.—The entire force at the Parish Manufacturing company of this city, numbering about 100 men, quit work yesterday for the reason that the company established a rule to pay the men monthly instead of weekly, as heretofore. The trouble will undoubtedly soon be settled.

WOMEN AT THE FRONT.

A feature of the great educational convention now in session at St. Paul which every one must have noticed is the very large proportion of women teachers present and taking active part too. Unquestionably some of the ablest and most telling addresses before the convention have been made by women, and in the points of responsiveness to the practical demands of the day, in earnestness and deftness of handling the women are setting an inspiring example to the men. This is as it should be, and of the more importance in view of the fact that so preponderant a share in the actual school training of the country is today in the hands of women. Three-fourths of the teachers of the country are women, as was remarked a few days ago at the meeting of the American Institute of Instruction at Saratoga.

And the speaker who noted this fact, herself a woman who by common consent would be given a place in the front rank in any social advance meeting of the day, Mary A. Livermore, marked also the further fact that of this great body of women teachers, three-fourths have had only five years' experience in teaching. Women are now, and are to be, the main working corps of instructors for the children of this nation, the most influential working force in the development of the nation that is to be. Of how high importance is it then to open the way in every direction for the broadening, deepening and extending of the training of the working force that has in charge the drawing out of the faculties of the fresh sap of the nation's life!

We are glad to be confident that the importance of this way—clearing and of the more thorough education of teachers with special training for their work is now coming into general recognition and is one of the most hopeful demands of the age. Never before in the world's history have women enjoyed the educational advantages now open to them and doors before closed are fast swinging wide to welcome them. Of the 988 universities and colleges of this country with their 151,000 students, two-thirds admit women today as Mrs. Livermore gladly recognized and the extension of the greater part of the rest for the benefit of women is only a question of a few years, while the special foundations for the education of women are rapidly multiplying.

Keeping pace, too, with the widened demands upon them are the colleges, in their courses as well as in their numbers. For the higher and broader education at Harvard, $7,250,000 has been given in the past twenty years and Yale has been actually made over in the same time by the gifts to her. Twenty million dollars have been donated for the great Western university, Stanford college, and Princeton, Columbia, Cornell, and the bulk of the long array of the institutes of the country have been correspondingly endowed and fortunate. For the special benefit of women, Wellesley, Smith and Bryn Mawr colleges have been established, not to speak of the many foundations of lesser note, and Vassar, the first women's college in this country, has just celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of its inspiring and successful foundation. During the past twenty years more money has been bestowed in college endowments than in the past 200, and the tide of giving is flowing stronger today than ever. Into this regeneration of education in extent, in possibilities, and in character, which has begun with this present era, women are welcomed to enter, and are already taking a leading part. The day of the new education is Women's Day no less than Men's.

The report comes that Hennepin county is ready to stand in block behind State Auditor Braden, if he wants its backing for governor in the convention. Mr. Braden would run well in every part of the state, but it has been understood that he did not wish to enter the race for nomination this year at any rate. St. Louis county, if properly handled, ought to swing some telling weight in the convention. And this weight should not be a dumb bell anyway.

Old Mormontown is giving Duluth and the rest of the country points in the art of booming itself as a summer resort and the great American sanitarium—Salt Lake City is a common place looking town in a rather nice valley that looks doubly fair, as any oasis does, by contrast with the desert around. And its traversing stream, the Jordan, is a cross between a dwarf river and a giant rivulet. But just look at this picture from the Mormontown Tribune. Its earthly paradise is "on a slope that gently descends from the great Wasatch range to the valley of Salt lake. The Jordan, like a ribbon of silver, stretches before it. Beyond the Jordan the valley stretches awap to the mountains and the lake, and the one is as beautiful as are the mountains beyond Jerusalem, which the feet of the Master trod; the other is more fair than Galilee." Tell that to the marines—the Mormons we mean.

Anybody who is really desirous of acquainting himself with the position of the Catholic church touching common school education and the present state and parochial schools cannot better inform himself than through the address of Archbishop Ireland before the educational convention, from which The Herald makes as full extracts today as its available space permits. In justice to the address, however, and for the right understanding of the Catholic position and argument, it should be read as a whole. In no form of which we have knowledge has the church stand been presented so clearly, strongly and succinctly, or in better spirit and temper. It confirms, too, the substantial exactness and fairness of The Herald's statement of the church's position. The Herald is radically opposed to the division of children in schools by the lines of creed for the reasons it has repeatedly stated, and which are not contravened in the present argument of the archbishop, but it does not intend to do the injustice to the other side of ignoring, preventing or suppressing its authoritative position.

SEEN AND HEARD.

"Prognostications in regard to presidential campaigns are always in order, and I prophecy that David B. Hill, governor of New York, will be the democratic nominee in '92," said a New York democrat last night. "His reception at Indianapolis, where he had gone to do honor to Hendricks, bespoke most cordial feelings for him in Hoosierdom, and Grover will have to bestir himself in order to counteract the influence of the governor's trip. The last time I met Hill was in New York, some eight years ago. He was then a plain Elmira lawyer, with a good practice and a powerful influence over the politics of New York.

"No man in the world has more steadfast friends than Hill. He has never been known to 'go back' on a friend, and by men whose names are known all over the country, down to the least reputable of his henchmen, he is loved. His statesmanship is much below his political sagacity, and his reputation for getting votes above his reputation in other directions. Some years ago he ran for an office in Chemung county, a strong republican New York county Press and pulpit were against him, and it looked as though he would be overwhelmingly defeated. But he was elected by a majority of 1000. Since then his political career has been phenomenally successful.

The dogs of Duluth are a nuisance. What is the reason they are not given a dose of law and unlicensed curs "taken away." They bark at night disturbing slumberers, they bark along the streets till one thinks he has found his way to a back country village, they bite children, frighten lively horses and in fact do a good many things that ought to make them outcasts and the objects of suspicion. A few days ago a valuable horse ran away near Fourth avenue west and broke his leg. He had to be shot. A dog of that neighborhood had frightened him. The next day the same dog bit a riding horse and only saved his skin by the fact that the rider had no revolver. Why not shoot that dog, anyway, as a starter in reform?

The great defect of Americans seems to be in not knowing what to do with their feet, for these are found everywhere but where they should be—on the floor. This is the first peculiarity that strikes the attention of the foreign visitor, and many have commented upon it. An English lady, in writing her impressions of us, says that 'Mr. Summer was the most peculiar American she met while here, for during an entire evening she noticed that he kept both feet upon the floor.' The American is usually found in his office with his feet resting upon his table, and this is well enough, perhaps, when he is alone, but only last week, during the hot weather in Washington, a correspondent of one of our papers says it was hard work to muster a quorum of members in the House of Representatives, and the few in attendance were found with their heads thrown over the backs of their seats and their feet resting on the backs of the seats in front of them.

"When I see the effects of whisky I am almost persuaded to vote the prohibition ticket," said a well-known business man this morning. "This morning a young man walked into my office, and although he was a near neighbor of mine years ago I hardly knew him on account of the change whisky had effected. Two brothers met their death on account of the effects of whisky, and this one, although naturally bright and possessing all the advantages, is going the same road."

"INHERITED."

In "Inherited" Richard Davey has worked out with wonderful skill and dramatic intensity a play which wholly suits the histrionic abilities of Maude Granger. The plot is peculiar and not unnatural, the final scene reminding one, however, of "East Lynne," where the wife returns home from an absence of years in a mad house to find her husband divorced and married again. The main incidents of the play deal with an inherited madness, which clouds the mind of a wife two years after her happy marriage. As Helen Carruthers, the demented wife, Maude Granger's talent in emotional creations shows to best advantage. To fully depict the gruesome horrors that throng the brain of the mad requires acting of the highest order, and this in every act Maude Granger shows. The last act contains a death scene of much beauty and intensity, worthy the attention of the world's greatest actresses. the other characters are more than usually subordinate in interest. Julian Raymond, the husband, is well taken by Harry Mainball, who, at times, rises superior to the occasion. Claud Brooke gives a somewhat overdrawn picture of the American youth. John Findlay, Estha Williams and Carrie Elberta are well up in their parts. "Camille" will be given this evening.

YEAGER BROS.

LITTLE CHUNKS OF NEWS.

John Hunter, Richmond, Va: I am very much pleased with your weekly paper, it is just what Duluth needs.

Dr. Maxwell: Duluth is extremely healthy just now, there's hardly any sickness. This will be the banner year for health statistics.

Mayor Davis: There has been some kicking about the increased expenses of the police department, but there is no reason for it. There are more men than there were last year, but they are needed. Besides this the expense of the patrol wagon comes out of the police fund. Heretofore the livery bill would average from $150 to $250 a month for the department, but it was taken out of the general fund and was not noticed so much.

THE STATE PRESS.

St. Cloud Times: The result of the polls depends largely upon the action of the farmers' convention. Their action will be closely watched. The honest leaders of the alliance have a herculean task before them, for they not only have enemies from without, but also traitors within to contend against.

Hutchinson Leader: In the Southern states the democratic party is in danger of being knocked out by the Farmers alliance and in the North the republican party is being worried by the same organization. The Farmers' alliance is getting to be a power in the land and the reforms it strikes for should set the party bosses to thinking.

Wadena Pioneer: We do not take much stock in those fellows who go prancing about among the farmers and working people telling them that they are their friends and if only given an opportunity can lift the burdens of oppression off the shoulders of their downtrodden fellow men. The fact of the matter is every man must look out for himself and the man with energy, patience and brains is going to get to the front.

Winona Herald: The Farmers' alliance says he has made a splendid governor, and still they kick him. The democrats say if we must have a republican, give us Merriam, but of course they kick him. It looks as if it doesn't pay to make a good official. He gets kicked longer and harder than a good one.

How's This?

Winnipeg Free Press: There is a slight variance between United States and Canadian surveyors as to the Alaskan boundary. The former would put it twenty-eight miles further east, that is, into Canadian territory, while the latter locate it ninety miles further west. Unless it can be shown that the stars were playing pranks at the time the astronomical observations were taken here is evidently another causus belli. What with the Atlantic fisheries, Behring sea and the Alaskan boundary, we see nothing for it but to annex the United States—peacefully if we can, by force of arms if we must.

For a Public Hall.

To the Editor of The Herald.

Duluth people have for a long time felt the want of a good concert hall, one that would be large enough to hold say a thousand people, and at the same time a place that would be expressly built for concert purposes, with the best possible acoustic properties. Although the subject has been agitated some of late, enough cannot be said of the benefit such a place would be to the city. It should be the ambition of a city the size and importance of Duluth to possess some resort of this kind. It would materially further the interests of so refining an art as music and would without doubt be in great demand for many other purposes. In the present state of affairs it is impossible to get a suitable hall for a concert. The only one available is the new Masonic Temple hall, but that was not built or designed for concert purposes. Would it not pay for some one or a syndicate to take hold of this matter? ERNEST LACHMUND.

Bicycles for the Boys.

This advertisement is for the boys---and the girls as well---of Duluth, and any one of them who doesn't read it, and act on it too, will lose a good vacation chance.

Now to business, without any wait, for it's too near the Summer to wait long for anything now. The Herald has made arrangements with Crawford Bros., sporting goods dealers of 205 West Superior street, so that it can furnish any boy or girl in Duluth, who actually wants it, a good safety bicycle. All it will cost you will be a little work, and the work you can do in two or three days probably

Bicycles for the Girls.

As to the bicycles, they are good substantial machines, what are known as "Youths' Machines," and cost $35 at any of the stores. You can't get them for less. We are going to let you have a pick of three styles, a boy's safety, a girl's safety, and a boy's with the big front wheel. They are just such bicycles as are in regular and steady use here and everywhere else every day. We want to say right here that Crawford Bros. will tell you all about them, just what they are and how good they are. And they'll do more, they agree to make good any damage that comes to the machines the first year, except that brought on by careless or wrong usage.

At the Herald office on Lake avenue you can learn just how many subscribers you will have to get to secure one of these good machines. The number is a good many less than you'd think. Come and see, now.

MOTOR AND INCLINE.

What is Being Done by a Large Force on the Motor Line.

Suburban "Woodland" Expected to Rise; On the Incline.

Work on the new motor line is progressing very rapidly and unless some unforseen obstacle appears the line from Fourth street East to the Woodland terminus will be completed within sixty days. There are two short bridges on the line, one in Highland Park addition and another where the line crosses between the Eastern city limits. The piles for these two bridges have all been driven and work on the superstructure will be rushed as rapidly as possible.

The work of grading through the Highland Park and motor line additions is progressing rapidly and will be completed within a few days. From the city limits East to a point opposite the Macfarlane residence the grading is completed.

In section 2-50-14 seven crews of men are at work clearing the ground on the right of way and adjoining property, while another large crew is at work on the grading. In addiding to grading the right of way the company is clearing a hundred feet on each side, making a strip 280 feet wide. The company has not been saying much, but the work has been progressing just the same, and one would be surprised to see the work that has been done toward the foundation of the beautiful suburban city of Woodland. The ties and rails are all in the city and will be distributed along the line as soon as the two bridges are completed.

The Incline Road.

Several out-of-town subscribers of The Herald have written lately asking what progress was made on the Seventh avenue Incline Cable line and when it would be ready for business. The contract of the Highland Improvement company which owns the road, and the Duluth Street Railway line, which is to build it, calls for its completion before May 1891. In order to do this it will be necessary to do most of the work this year. As yet no contracts have been let, though a number of bids are expected soon. A profile blue print of the entire line is now on exhibition. It is expected that, though stations are provided at every street crossing, only two or three stops will be made at first, these being, probably, at Third and Fifth streets.

SILVER ISLAND FINDS.

Late Discoveries of Rich Silver Made by the Company.

Mr. H. S. Sibley of Detroit, of the reorganized Silver Islet Mining company, was in Duluth last night on his way East. He and Capt. Thomas H. Trethewway have been on a visit of inspection to the different properties owned by the company between Port Arthur and Maimose, on the north shore, and, judging from the specimens Mr. Sibley brought back with him, they met with extraordinary good luck. Several large specimens of grey copper, weighing from 5 to 7 pounds, were taken from a vein on the Mismose property that assayed 69 per cent copper. This vein is 7 feet wide and has a pay streak 4 inches in width of nearly solid grey copper, with considerable green carbonate on the sides. They also brought in some fine samples of yellow sulphuret of copper from another vein on the same property, assays of which give a uniform result of 25 per cent in copper.

At Cape Gargantua they discovered a vein of hydrated black oxide of manganese 7 to 10 feet wide. It rises out of the lake and crosses a large island. The vein rises up like a dyke from 4 to 10 feet above the surrounding country rock. In many places the quartz is weathered out and the manganese ore left standing. The manganese is on both walls of the vein, and a strong seam or band is distributed through the middle of it. The ore assays 45 per cent metallic manganese. The importance of this discovery can be appreciated when the quantity of iron already known to exist in this district is taken into consideration, on the Edwards Island location, nine miles east of Silver Islet.

The old vein, on which some work was done in 1883-4, and out of which some very rich specimens of arsenical silver ore were taken lately, is 19 inches wide and dips east about 10 degrees. Capt. Trethewy and Mr. Sibley discovered a parallel vein 75 feet to the eastward, outcropping for 150 feet and 4 feet wide, dipping westerly 40 degrees. It is expected that at the contact of these two veins a rich body of ore will be struck.

Mr. Sibley has gone to New York and the action of the company will be finally settled in a few days.

KILLED BY THE CARS.

A Well-known Duluth Merchant is Terribly Mutilated and Killed.

Emil A. Kriz, partner in the grocery firm of Call, Cannon & Kriz, was carried from the Lake avenue depot this morning at 9 o'clock in a dying condition, both legs crushed below the knee from being run over by a freight car.

Mr. Kriz had started to pick out some fruit from a refrigerator car standing on a side track just at Lake avenue, and was on the car while some switching was going on. A sudden pull given the couplings by the locomotive pulled the cars, which were making a flying switch, apart and threw him between the tracks and in front of the wheels so suddenly that he could not escape them. Both legs were terribly crushed to a jelly, and when taken up by the police patrol and carried carefully to St. Marys hospital he was apparently dying.

At about 12:30 this noon Mr. Kriz, after four hours of suffering, died. Doctors had amputated one leg, and were at work on the other, hoping to thereby save his life, but it was no use.

He was a married man, but has no children. He has been for many years a resident of Duluth, having been head clerk in the grocery house of H. G. Noble in the early days. He was an honored and highly respected member of the community, a good business man and an excellent fellow generally. There was very great sorrow when his sad accident became known.

Another Accident.

Last evening the 4-year-old son of S. Rachlan, of 401 East Third street, was run over. Three fingers were amputated. The child's head was badly bruised also. Just how the accident occurred no one seems to know. A beer wagon caused it.

FROM WEST DULUTH.

Officers Elected and Installed; West End Wants an Explanation.

At the brickyards everything is going along nicely. About 38,000 brick are made daily. Forty hands are employed at present and 20,000 brick are furnished daily to the new Marinette Iron works. About 1,000,000 brick have been made this season. All the brick for the woolen mill was furnished by Sneger and Guinness' brickyards. The kiln started Saturday will be finished tonight. Another kiln will be burned next week. They will furnish the brick for the new block to be erected at the corner of Central avenue and Fourth street.

Knights of Pythias.

The following Knights of Pythias officers were installed last evening by D. D. G. M. P. R. Haley: George G. Davis, C. C.; Dr. Alex. Porin, V. C.; John Curo, P.; P. R. Haley, P. C. C.; D. Johnson, K. of R. and S.; J. R. Edson, M. of F.; J. S. Herrell, M. of E.; W. W. Brown, master at arms.

Elects Officers.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Baptist church elected the following officers: President, Mrs. J. S. Hildreth; vice president, Mrs. George Bailey; secretary, Mrs. E. J. Bronson; treasurer, Mrs. Stevens; committee, Mrs. Treathway, Mrs. Bruley and Mrs. A. G. Pond.

The trial of the Allen brothers was held yesterday afternoon and both were bound over. In default of bail they were committed.

Manager McGowen of the electric light system has arrived from Minneapolis.

The heavy stone foundation for the Huntress & Brown engine house is completed and bricklaying is well under way.

John Rhodes has moved into Burleys new house and will reside in West Duluth hereafter.

E. G. Abbott sold two lots in block 150, Grand avenue, a few days since for $7000.

Mrs. Frank Clippert, wife of the foreman at the brickyard is improving.

Rev. William Moore of the Congregational church, returned yesterday from short visit to Washburn and Ashland, Wis.

WEST END.

The West End was the scene of two accidents yesterday. C. Christianson had a steel plate fall on his left leg badly bruising and lacerating it. If the plate had been a little more weighty he might have had a broken leg. C. C. White employed in one of the elevators was cut with an adze in the foot nearly severing it.

Several West Enders are wondering when work on that Superior street sewer is going to begin. H. C. Nelson will put up a two story brick as soon as it is completed and Contractor Larson will put up a fifty foot front brick.

Another thing about which many West Enders has wondered is why the Northern Pacific road does not put up a short line depot near Garfield avenue crossing?

Dr. Horace S. Davis is having his office entirely refurnished. He will have one of the neatest offices in the city.

G. Lindahl & Co. will move their stock and store building to lots on Superior street, near Nineteenth avenue.

Long & White are rejoicing in a large and nice safe.

Burdick This Evening.

Mr. Burdick, who arrived this morning will speak this evening on his theme "Temperance," at the Bethel under the auspices of the Reform club. With this speech he opens his campaign. It will pay to hear him.

IRELAND'S SCHOOL STAND

The Noted Archbishop has His Say on the School Question.

His Complaints of the Public Schools and Their Work.

St. Paul, July 11.—Archbishop Ireland, in the course of a long and powerful address on the schools yesterday afternoon, outlined the objection of Roman Catholics to free schools. He characterized state schools as the pride and glory of America; as their friend and advocate he would, if possible, have all schools free, but their fatal defect consisted, he said, in the elimination of religion. He fears the agnosticism which reduces God to the indescribable perhaps, and he refuted the statement that Catholics are opposed to public schools. In the course of his remarks he said:

It were idle for me to praise the work of the state schools in the imparting of secular instruction. We all confess its value. It is our pride and our glory. The Republic has solemnly affirmed its resolve that within its borders no clouds of ignorance shall settle. To reach this result its generosity knows no limit.

Can I be suspected of enmity to the state school because I fain would widen the expanse of its wings until all the children of the people find shelter beneath their cover, because I tell of defects which for very love of the state school I seek the remedy? I turn to the parish school. It exists. I repeat my regret that there is the necessity for its existence. In behalf of the state school I call upon my fellow-Americans to aid in the removal of this necessity.

Catholics are foremost in establishing parish schools. Seven hundred and fifty thousand children, it is estimated, are educated in their parish schools. Lutherans exhibit great zeal. Many Episcopalians, and some in different other Protestant denominational colleges of the country are practically parish schools. The spirit of the parish school, it not the school itself, is widespread among American Protestants, and is made manifest by their determined opposition to the exclusion of Scripture reading and devotional exercises from the school room.

There is dissatisfaction with the state school as at present organized. The state school, it is said tends to the elimination of religion from the minds and hearts of the youth of the country.

This is my grievance against the state schools of today. I am a Catholic, unflinching and uncompromising in my faith. But God forbid that I desire to see in America the ground which Protestantism occupies exposed to the chilling and devastating blast of unbelief. Let me be your ally in stemming the swelling tide of irreligion, the death knell of christian life and of christian civilization. That is what we have to fear—the materialism which sees not beyond the universe a living, personal God, or the agnosticism which reduces him to an indescribable perhaps.

"Blest indeed is the nation whose vales and hillsides free schools adorn, and blest the generations upon whose souls are poured their treasures! No tax is more legitimate than that which is levied for the dispelling of mental darkness, and the building up within a nation's bosom of intelligent manhood and womanhood. The question cannot be raised, how much good accrues to the individual taxpayer; the general welfare is richly served, and this suffices. It is scarcely necessary to add that the money paid in school tax is the money of the state, and is to be distributed solely by the state, and solely for the specific purposes in view of which it was collected. I unreservedly favor state laws.

Allow me one word as a Catholic, I have sought to place on the precise line where it belongs, the objection of Catholics to the state schools. Is it fair, is it honest, to raise the cry that Catholics are opposed to education, to free schools, to the American school system? I do lose my patience, when adversaries seek to place us in this false position so contrary to all our convictions and resolves. In presence of this vast and distinguished assembly, to have addressed which is an honor I shall never forget, I protest with all the energy of my soul against the charge that the schools of the nation have their enemies among the Catholics. Not one stone of the wondrous edifice which Americans have built up in their devotion to education will Catholics remove or permit to be removed. They would fain add to the splendor and majesty by putting side by side religion and the school, neither interfering with the work of the other, each one borrowing from the other aid and dignity. Do the schools of America fear contact with religion? The Catholics demand the Christian state school. In so doing they prove themselves the truest friends of the school and the state.

The Boat club had a meeting last night, and passed resolutions giving the use of shells so no one but members of the club. It was also decided to issue tickets to the press and members of the association during regatta week.

Hanlan & Hosmer may give an exhibition race tomorrow afternoon at the Boat club regatta.

This week's issue of Frank Leslies magazine contains a cut of the Duluth-Superior regatta course, with a short descriptive article. The paper will also give the event mention next week.

Sporting Notes.

Up to Sunday 885,356 people have attended the Players' and National league games. Of these 61 per cent were patrons of the Players' league.

Society at Newport, which has heretofore frowned upon baseball, is smiling upon a team of swells just organized.

There will probably be a constitutional convention called in connection with the annual meet of the L. A. at Niagara Falls Aug. 23, 24 and 25.

D. Goliah Orr has resumed his place at first with the Jamaica Wonders, and began by making a single, a double and a home run off Mark Baldwin. It did him good to have a few ribs caved in.

Miss Lottie Dod, the noted English tennis player, is an advocate of ladies not playing the game to a very great extent, as much practice results in the "tennis elbow."

Van Wagoner has challenged Spooner 100-mile track race, to take place midway between New York and Chicago, the amount of prize and stake to be mutually agreed upon. Van is sore. He's anxious to retrieve lost prestige.

The world's fifty-mile ordinary road record was recently broken by E. J. Ilsey, of the North Road C. C. of England. The distance was accomplished in 2 hours, 56 minutes and 36 seconds, which is 1 minute and 1 second faster than G. R. White's record in 1888.

Fighting Over Coal Traffic.

At the meeting of the representatives of the Western and Northwestern lines yesterday in Chicago to adjust coal rates, Chairman Faithorn authorized the interested roads to make the same rates from Chicago and Illinois points that the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul proposes to make from Milwaukee. This means a reduction of twenty-five cents per ton, which is made by the St. Paul to meet the rates of the lines leading westward from Duluth. Trouble is looked for in consequence of this reduction, as the Duluth lines will attempt to preserve their differential, and it is the intention of the Milwaukee & St. Paul to deprive them of it if possible.

From the North Range.

Mayor Davis returned last evening from his trip to the north. He says that although he caught a great many mosquito bites, he caught a great many fish bites as well. He went through the Chandler and Minnesota mines for the first time and was astonished at the amount of ore being taken out. Not much work is being done at the Pioneer mine, but at the Zenith a force of men is busy sinking test pits and the prospects for a good mine are very encouraging.

CROSLEY PARK.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THIS SPLENDID ADDITION.

One year ago there was nothing at Lester Park but the depot and the Fish Hatchery. Crosley Park was not platted and all that section beyond London was almost wholly unimproved. Today Lester Park is nicely built up and hundreds of the best people of Duluth have built homes there. Within one year it has become one of the most fashionable and popular residence places at the head of the lake. Within that time streets have been opened and graded. sidewalks built and now water, sewers and electric lights are to be put in, so that people living at London, Lester Park and Crosley Park can have all the advantages of the city. In all these matters Crosley Park will keep step with the adjoining additions and already many good houses are being built. The advantage this addition has is that the property is cheap and lies beautifully. From nearly every lot in the subdivision you get a charming view of the lake and there are neither hills, ravines nor rocks to mar it. It is the cheapest purely residence suburban property about Duluth, and in the near future will become some of the most valuable. Then the charm of it is that you can buy on the easy payment plan----one-tenth down and the balance one per cent a week till paid WITHOUT interest. It is better than a savings bank, as it is ten times as profitable. The most liberal inducement will be offered to those who wish to build. For further information call on Apparently Ended—For Now.

The strike is apparently at an end for the present. Forrestal Bros. have men at work on all their contracts and nearly all of the old men are returning to work. Mayor Davis informed the contractors yesterday that they could not offer the excuse that the strike interfered with the completion of contracts on time, for if they had men anxious to go to work he would see that they had protection. Forrestal Bros. have a good-sized force of men at work now and they will put on more as soon as possible.

The Local Market Has Another Dull, Unneventful Day.

Large Arrivals of New Wheat Lessen Values in All Markets.

The market today was a very dull one. The opening was firm and unchanged for cash and July wheat, and ¼ above last night's close on the later futures. Friday was slow and small, with declining tendencies. Large arrivals of new wheat at St. Louis and several cars at Chicago weakened values in all markets, notwithstanding reports of large buying at New York for export. The decline was especially noticeable in Chicago, where two prominent bears pounded industriously. At the close here July was unchangad from the opening, while September was ⅞ and December ¾ off.

Cash and July No. 1 hard closed at 91½ bid, cash and July No. 1 northern 90 bid, cash No. 2 northern 86 nominal, August hard 92 bid, September 89¼ bid, December 90¼ bid.

Today's Movement.

Cars on track: Northern Pacific, 10; Great Northern, 20; total, 30. Receipts: Flour, 6368 bbls; wheat, 28,361 bu; corn, 14,558 bu. Shipments: Flour, 9839 bbls; wheat, 625 bu. Inspection: No. 1 hard, 13 cars; No. 1 northern, 12; No. 2 northern, 3; winter wheat, 4; oats, 1; total 33.

Cargo Shipments.

Prop Nyack, Buffalo, 2562 bbls flour.
Prop China, Buffalo, 2100 bbls flour.
Superior Transit company, 864 bbls flour.

Strong Demand for Flour.

There were thirteen mills which ground flour in Minneapolis last week, says The Northwestern Miller, but they were mostly of the smaller class, and the aggregate output fell somewhat below that of the preceding week. The total production was 73,300 bbls—averaging 12,216 bbls daily—against 83,833 bbls the week before, and 93,465 for the corresponding time in 1889, and 117,100 bbls in 1888. Under the stimulus of a stronger flour market there is an increased desire manifested to get more of the mills in operation. There were fifteen moving yesterday, producing at the rate of 18,000 bbls per twenty-four hours. The water wheels of some mills are yet unfinished, and steam is being employed by them in order to run. The flour market is very strong.

SPECIAL CROP REPORTS.

ADA, Minn., July 11.—[Special to The Herald.]—The weather for the last three days has been very cool, growing warmer today. Crops are doing splendidly. Farmers report from all parts of the county that we will have the biggest crop ever raised in the valley. Some low places are suffering by reason of too much water at present. This vicinity did not suffer any of Monday's great storm although we had a very heavy rain.

HALLOCK, Minn., July 11.—[Special to The Herald.]—Since last report weather has been very favorable, last two days being cool and bright. A steady rain fell for three or four hours Sunday night with strong north wind. Have heard no reports unfavorable to crops. Wheat is all heading out and harvest will probably start by the 1st of August. Prospects still continue favorable and estimates of yield range from fifteen to twenty-five bushels per acre. Grain all over Kittson county looks well and farmers are happy with the outlook.

GRAND FORKS, N. D., July 11.—[Special to the Herald.]—Cool, ideal weather has characterized the week. An abundant rain fell here the night of the storm at Fargo, but no damage to crops is reported anywhere. Every day now adds to the general confidence that the Red River valley is to be favored with a magnificent harvest. Parties just returning from Bismarck report uniformly excellent crop prospects all along the main line of the Northern Pacific.

LARIMORE, N. D., July 11—[Special to The Herald.]—The past week has been reasonably cool, and with sufficient sunshine to make it model wheat weather. Although for a few days the bladee have seemed dark and rusted at the base, now they are fresh and green as ever, and the honest farmer will again bet two to five on a big crop. The night of the Fargo storm there was a very strong wind and a heavy shower. Today it is raining and indications are it will rain all night.

WARREN July 11.—[Special to The Herald]—Weather during past week has been very warm with exception of Wednesday, which was cloudy and cool. There was a rain Thursday. Have had no damaging storms, light rains come along just right to keep the grain in a good healthy state. Some fields are all headed out heads look long and well filled, prospects continue more favorable for a good big crop in the Red River Valley.

THE DOGS WERE MAD.

Dr. Gibier Treats a Veterinary Surgeon Who Made Experiments.

NEW YORK, July 11.—There seems to be no doubt that at least one of the three new patients who were accepted for treatment at the Pasteur institute yesterday was bitten by a dog which was really mad. He came from Massachusetts and is a veterinary surgeon, who has made it a part of his business for several years to treat sick dogs. On May 5 a pet dog was put in his care which had been acting strangely for five days. When he approached the dog to examine it, the brute sprang at him savagely, took him off his guard, and bit him in the leg. He had been bitten before and thought nothing of it.

But the dog died some time afterward after a strange illness, and the veterinary surgeon suspected hydrophobia. He determined to make a test, so he treated some of the spinal marrow and inoculated several animals with it. In due course the animals all died, and their symptoms, together with the results of post-mortem examinations, convinced him that they had died of hydrophobia. Yesterdayhe detailed his experiments to Dr. Gibier, who also was satisfied that the animals had died of hydrophobia. The surgeon has suffered no adverse symptoms yet, and he at once put himself in Dr. Gibier's hands for treatment.

The two other patients were laboring men from Brooklyn. They were both bitten by the same dog on the Fourth. The dog had evidently been crazed by the discharge of firecrackers all around him, and it is not known that it had hydrophobia, but it was killed at once, so the truth cannot be determined.

The young Massachusetts girl and the gray-headed New Yorker, who were accepted under protest early last week, having already felt pains in the, neighborhood of their healed wounds, are both better after half a dozen innoculations, much to Dr. Gibier's surprise.

Will be Settled.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 11.—Committees from the striking switchmen and brakemen on the Louisville & Nashville railroad are in conference with the general manager and it is now thought that the strike will be settled within the next few hours. A committee representing the conductors of the entire system will also confer with the general manager as soon as that with brakemen and switchmen is completed. Several demands will be made, but it is not known what they will be.

The Young People's society of the First Presbyterian church, will hold a social this evening. An interesting program will be given.

ATTORNEY BILLSON TALKS

The Attorney for the Defense Talks on the Prentice Case.

Not an Iota of New Evidence, Although It Was Promised.

W. W. Billson, the noted lawyer, who has been attorney in the Prentice case returned today. In an interview this afternoon he says:

"I find there is very widespread interest in the recently tried Prentice case. As an answer to the questions which seem to be uppermost in the minds of the many interested, you may say that the case of Mr Prentice was presented by his attorneys in a manner in every way admirable. But although more handsomely and more skillfully presented than before, it was absolutely destitute of new features either of law or fact.

"The case was in every respect identical with that of Prentice vs. Stearns, tried six years ago, and afterwards affirmed by the supreme court of the United States. This was a matter of surprise to me, for I had been led to suppose that the case would be presented from a legal point of view slightly different from that which had been formerly occupied.

"In my judgment his case rests squarely and exclusively upon an attempt to induce the United States circuit and supreme courts to place upon the terms of the Prentice deed a construction the opposite of that which they have both already adopted. We confidently expect the same result in this case as upon the previous trials. The decision will probably be announced within two or three days.

"As to the allegation that I was sat upon by the court at one time during the trial, I don't know much about it. It is one of the eccentricities of the venerable and distinguished justice who presided to make a practice of sitting more or less upon every one who is handy, and I presume he sat some on me, but I am not conscious of any sore spots.

"He gave both sides a very thorough, patient and courteous hearing, and I think adheres substantially to the same views which he formed and expressed with much force, six years ago in the Stearns case. The effect of the late trial has been to confirm me in the impression that the merits of the controversy were fully adjudicated by the former decision of the supreme court."

M'KINLEY'S FIGHTER.

Hard to Choose a Congressional Opponent to Tariff Bill McKinley.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 11.—There was a supposition that when the democratic congressional convention for the Sixteenth district, in session at Orrville, adjourned last night that matters would be fixed up and a nomination made during the early balloting of this morning. This was not the case, and the convention is having great difficulty in settling upon a man to pit against Major McKinley.

The first ballot this morning, the thirty-eighth, stood: Monot, 53½; Stillwell, 46½; Warwick, 34; Zimmerman, 41; Lewis, 7; Welty, 7; Sherrick, 7. On the forty-seventh ballot ex-Lieutenant-Governor John E. Warwick took the lead having 54 votes, but the attempted stampede to him failed to carry and the vote fell back, Zimmerman gained some on the forty-sixth ballot, getting 12 from Stark county. On the forty-eighth ballot Wayne county gave Monot 19 votes, swelling his aggregate to 68½, the highest number reached by any candidate in the convention.

A motion to adjourn until Sept. 3 failed to secure a second and called forth the cries of "No," showing a determination to hang together until the contest is ended by a nomination. Monot and Warwick were close together on the fifty-fourth ballot, the former still holding his fifty-two and one-half, and the latter having pulled up to fifty-three. Zimmerman and Sherrick had lost to Warwick.

THE FRENCH SHORE.

A British Admiral Talks on the Newfoundland Fuss.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., July 11.—Sir Baldwin Walker, captain of the British war ship Emerald, speaking in reference to the closing of Baird's lobster factories, said to a reporter: "I have my instructions to carry out on the French shore and I have no alternative left but to do so when glaring breaches of the law are pointed out to me by the French commander. To all intents I ignore the existence of all past treaties on the French shore question this year. I am carrying out the modus vivendi and I shall do my duty regardless of consequences."

Regarding the chances for a final settlement of the French shore question Sir Baldwin said: "The whole story has been exaggerated. The less said on the French shore matter pending negotiations the better for Newfoundlanders and the more likely to restore to them the sole control of their own country."

PRIESTS IN POLITICS.

They Leave Ireland and Suffer Hardships in America.

KANSAS CITY, July 11.—On June 2 Father James Cregan, then in charge of St. Marys church at Limerick, Ireland, and three other priests, participated in a great land league meeting. As a result the priests were forced to leave the country.

Two of them went to Dubuque, a third stopped at New York and Father Cregan came to this city, arriving five days ago. He was penniless. Wednesday night he was forced to sleep in the police station. Yesterday he started out to seek assistance, but not being acchmated, he was overcome by the heat and made seriously ill. He managed to return to the station, and lies there in a critical condition.

To Nervous People.

Pick up any newspaper, from Maine to Texas, or Florida to Alaska, and you will find seductive advertisements with the above heading. Presumably these are for people whose nerves are weakened by disease, but there are many other kinds of nervous people in this queer world. Some are subject to all sorts of apprehensions when about to take a journey. The train may run off the track. The boiler of the locomotive may burst. They have heard the bridges on some roads are not safe. The train may start ahead of time and they get left. They may miss their connection with another line. The road does not run into a union depot. The conductors and brakeman are holy terrors. The "candy butchers" on the trains are insolent. Their baggage will surely be smashed. They know their trunks will get lost. They will be misdirected when they "change cars." To such people we would say, buy your railroad tickets over "The Burlington," dismiss all your fears, go to sleep in their vestibuled Pullmans, and you will wake in the morning, you and your belongings all safe, have an excellent breakfast in the dining car, and arrive at your destination on time. For rates, tickets, or any information, consult your Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

THE HERALD BINDERY.

No Land on Which the Sun Shines

Possesses greater natural advantages than our own, but there are portions of the great grain-bearing west and fertile south where atmospheric influences prejudicial to health militate against them, in some degree, as places of residence. Heavy rainfalls and the overflow of great rivers, which upon their subsidence leave dank vegetation exposed to the rays of the sun, there beget malarial fevers, and there also the inhabitants are periodically obliged to use some medicinal safeguard against the scourge. The most popular is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a preventive that has for over a third of a century afforded a reliable protection to those whom experience in the futility of ordinary remedies for fever and ague has taught to subetitute for them. Whether intermittent or remittent, miasmatic fevers are conquered and averted by the superb anti-periodic and fortifying medicine as they are by no other preparation in use. Use it and abandon impure local bitters.

LAST EDITION.

A SCORE ARE KILLED.

The Fine Lake Greyhound, the Tioga, Wrecked at Her Dock.

Probably a Score of Unfortunates Die in the Explosion.

CHICAGO, July 12.—It will be night before it will be possible to give a correct estimate of the number of victims of the steamer Tioga explosion. This morning the minimum number of the dead was placed at fifteen, based upon the fact that seven bodies now lie at the morgue and that least eight bodies are known to be within the hold of the boat. That this is an extremely conservative estimate there can be no doubt, for it does not include the badly injured at the county hospital nor any account of sixteen stevedores who failed to answer at roll-call this morning. The list of the missing is uncertain.

The gang of stevedores who were at work at the time of the explosion had been engaged by the foreman, John Niele, who was last seen alive standing by a hatch not half a moment before the explosion occurred. He had the only reliable list of the gang and until his body shall have been found it cannot be known whether true information will be secured.

Of the ship's crew the following are missing: C. Lualli, lookout; Wm. Cuthbert, watchman; Edward Fitzgibbon, waiter; and three deck hands whose names Capt. Phelps did not know.

The scene at the wrecked vessel today was even more desolate than when covered by the pall of last night's darkness. Thousands of people were there the bridge and the docks on both sides of the river, being crowded. Before them lay the boat, nearly half under water. Behind the engines only a portion of the sides was above water which filled the hold to the depth of 14 feet. Wreckage and charred timbers were everywhere. Upon the top of the huge smoke stacks rested a large section of the cabin, and all around it were scattered sections of the iron deck. At 1 o'clock the work of rescue had not begun.

"It will be late in the afternoon before we will be able to take out a single body," said Capt. Phelps. "We have sent for pumps, and as soon as they arrive we will begin pumping her out." "How did the accident occur, captain?" was asked. "No one can tell," he answered. "We had no gasoline or naphtha aboard. We did have 100 barrels of crude petroleum in there, but that would not have exploded. The remainder of the cargo was general merchandise, of which only the rear deck load had been taken off. William Palmer, a porter, took a lot of lamps into the hold and came forward to my cabin. A little later the explosion came. It must have occurred while the stevedores were passing those lamps back and forth."

The fast and elegant steamer Tioga, of the Erie Transportation company, was badly wrecked by an explosion at 7:45 o'clock last evening, while lying at her dock at Randolph street and the river. The explosion was a terrific one, and a column of smoke shot 200 feet in the air, succeeded a second later by a whirlwind of flame, which illuminated bridges, buildings, water and spars in a frightful glare.

The Tioga is badly wrecked, her upper works being nearly blown away and her wooden works badly burned.

Those reported killed are Tom Lewis, Aleck Smith, Henry Alexander, Louis Alexander, Jake Churi, James Braxton, William Dukes, stevedores; two unknown deck hands; Louis Scott, James Siessell and Dickinson, stevedores; Walter Dours, Cuthbert Walshman. The injured are: Walter Chapin, colored; Pompey Smith, colored, fatally; Thomas Collins, fatally; J. O'Donnell, fatally; Oscar Pope, fatally.

Visiting Teachers.

The town has been filled with teachers today, who are en route to their homes via Duluth. Thirty came in last night on the St. Paul & Duluth, and left shortly after arrival for Buffalo over the lakes. Many of the educators are here to remain for a few days, and others are waiting for friends who will get here on the evening trains. The Chamber of Commerce has extended courtesies in way of drives, etc., to many of the visitors.

THE EXPLORER MARRIED.

Westminster Abbey the Scene of an Imposing Ceremony.

LONDON, July 12.—A tall, robust, handsome woman, with fair hair, deep blue eyes and strong, well-developed nose, a lovely complexion, white teeth, full mouth and small, dimpled hands, and a man of medium height, broad-shouldered, upright as an arrow and hair apparently whitened by privation and exposure, stood before the communion table of Westminster abbey shortly before noon today and spoke the words that made them man and wife. The bride was Dorothy Tennant, the bridegroom Henry M. Stanley.

The ceremony was performed by the Bishop of Ripon, assisted by the dean of Westminster and the master of the Temple. The bride was attired in a magnificent toilet of corded silk en train, with the traditional veil and orange blossoms and wore pearls as ornaments, and a diamond necklace, with the miniature of Queen Victoria pendant. The portrait was enclosed in a case set with brilliants and contained a lock of her majesty's hair. It was a special gift from the queen.

The Comte Daroche of Belgium, who had been specially designated by King Leopold, officiated as best man, a mark of signal honor, while the officers who accompanied Stanley on his famous expedition for the rescue of Emin Pasha, officiated as groomsmen. The bridesmaids were the Misses Annie and Josephine Myers. A vast number of people were present, including many members of the aristocracy.

After the wedding breakfast the happy couple left for Metchet court, in Hampshire, the country seat of Lady Ashburton, which has been placed at their disposal and where the honeymoon will be passed.

It had been feared that the illness of Mr. Stanley would delay the wedding, but he had so far recovered from the attack of yesterday that it was deemed best to proceed with the ceremony.

During the past few days Miss Tennant has received autograph letters of congratulation from the Emperor of Germany, King Leopold of Belgium, Queen Victoria, Queen Isabella of Spain and other crowned heads.

Parnell Proposes Arbitration.

LONDON, July 12—During his remarks in the house of commons last night, Mr. Parnell proposed a measure providing for the appointment of a board of arbitration for the settlement of disputes between landlords and tenants in Ireland. Such a measure he said would be passed.

PRESS COMMENT.

What the English Press Think of Parnell's Proposition.

LONDON, July 12.—The Chronicle says that the logical outcome of Mr. Parnell's suggestion would be the creation of a municipal tenantry, with the fixing of their tenure of land for life.

The Times says that the tenants refused to be bound by Sir Chas. Russell's arbitration, and asks if they would show more respect for a board of arbitration created by parliament.

The Standard says it is pretty clear that Mr. Parnell's remarks were offered as the basis for a compromise. Mr. Balfour, the paper says, appeared to be inclined to take the same view.

Panic Subsiding.

BUENOS AYRES, July 12.—The financial panic here is subsiding. The premium on gold fell 16 per cent today, and at the close was quoted at 197 per cent.

Montevideo—Bank notes closed today at 20 per cent discount, after reaching 36 per cent discount.

Confessed the Crime.

MORRIS, Ill., July 12.—Jas. Maxwell, alias Murray, who has been under arrest here for some days charged with the murder of Chas. Decker, June 25, has at last broken down and confessed his guilt. Murray and a negro named Williams broke into the house on the night in question. The family were aroused and Decker was killed by a blow on the head, and his mother beaten to insensibility. The negro accomplice accuses Murray of striking the blows and Murray says the negro did it. Murray only confessed after being confronted with the negro.

Buried by a Brass Band.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 12.—When Mrs. Ernest Prentiss died, Wednesday, her last request was that there should be no funeral sermon or ceremony. All that she desired was a brass band. Yesterday she was buried. The body was laid in a neat coffin. The mourners gathered about. A full brass band was stationed in the yard. There was no prayer nor singing—nothing but the music of a brass band.

The Travelers.

HARTFORD, Conn., July 12.—Insurance Commissioner Tyler has made public the result of his investigation into the affairs of the Travelers Insurance company. He finds assets of $12,495,933 and liabilities of $9,249,084 and a surplus of $3,247,908. The surplus as the commissioner finds it is $894,456 more than the company reports.

Another Dies.

ASHLAND, July 12.—[Special to The Herald.]—John G. Moore, one of the firemen injured in the fire at the Columbus & Hocking Coal and Iron company's dock on July 4, died this morning of congestion of the brain resulting from his injuries. Prathero and Buchatz, the others injured, are still in a precarious condition.

The Hill Farm Verdict.

DUNBAR, Pa., July 12.—The coroner's jury today found that David Hay and Daniel Shearin came to their deaths in the discharge of their duty. It further says that the jurors believe that Robert Lang, superintendent, is criminally responsible in causing the deaths of said men.

Boston Bricklayers' Strike.

BOSTON, July 12.—The bricklayers' apprentices on the jobs of Norcross Bros., this city, struck last night in suppoort of the union bricklayers.

Another New Building.

R. A. Gray, the lumberman, will begin Monday the excavation for the foundation of a three-story brick block. The building will have fifty feet frontage on West Superior street between the Palladio and Hoppman blocks. It will cost about $25,000.

The Northwest Bake.

It has been extremely hot all over the Northwest today, and probably will be tomorrow. The heat at St. Paul, Minneapolis and Chicago has been something terrible. The thermometer registered 90° here at noon, but the heat was tempered by a fresh cooling breeze.

THREATENED BY TROOPS.

Fort Snelling's Commandant Claims he Will Send Soldiers.

Against the Graders; But Trouble Will be Remedied.

In regard to the information, published exclusively in The Herald a few days ago, to the effect that there was trouble between the Duluth & Winnipeg road and the Indian bureau as to the crossing of a certain small reservation, near Winnibigoshish lake and reserve, a few more facts of an interesting nature are obtainable.

The United States commandant of the department of Dakota, with headquarters at Fort Snelling, has been applied to and has given notice to the contractors for the grading, Messrs. Grant and Foley Bros., that if grading across this suppositious reservation is not stopped, and the men withdrawn, he will send a company of troops and drive the graders out at the point of the bayonet.

As may appear under natural the circumstances, work is stopped.

In the meantime a very warm correspondence, by telegraph, has been going on between the railway people and Washington, Senator Davis being the man at headquarters who has taken particular interest to see the road through its tape line troubles and able to continue work. As a result of this correspondence it is believed the matter will be amicably adjusted the first of next week and grading will continue uninterruptedly.

The trouble appears to have arisen over a slight misunderstanding as to the exact legal status of a reservation. It was declared vacated by congress, the Indians to take lands elsewhere. This they have not done. The Indian bureau and the Indians themselves did not construe the law to vacate the reserve until they had selected lands elsewhere. Senator Davis says there is no right on the side of the bureau, but the matter will have to adjusted in some way.

BUYING GOOD PROPERTY.

The Boston Investment Company Buys Largely in the West End.

There has been quite an appreciable demand for real estate in the West End, near Rice's Point, the last few days, but it has been hard to tell just why the stir was made.

E. C. Holliday has, however, sold in the past week to the Boston Investment company, which last year purchased the Fargusson buildings, over $140,000 worth of property all lying in the West End, and probably in the Second division. This property has been purchased in a number of separate lots ranging from nearly $45,000 for a single purchase down. It is not known whether the company buys for use or for speculative investment, but in any case it has had the foresight to see that section is about as cheap as anything in the city.

All Night Street Crews.

Nearly all of Forrestal Bros. men have returned to work at nearly the same wages. An extra force of men has been put to work and the different contracts will be worked to completion. In order to complete the work on schedule time and avoid the penalty which would undoubtedly be imposed, the contractors have decided to work day and night down on Michigan and Bench streets. The East Superior street and Ohio avenue jobs will be completed in time without working a night crew.

The Lakeside Assault Case.

The examination of H. L. Chapin, arrested some time ago on the charge of assaulting an United States officer, preferred by Fish Commissioner Sweeney, which was to have been held today before Commissioner Carey was continued until Aug. 2, the complaining witness being unable to appear.

They Have an Option.

A rumor is current in financial circles that the Northern Pacific, through Henry Villard and Chas. Colby, has secured an option on the Lake Shore road until July 15. The Lake Shore is doing a very large amount of the ore business.

THE ROAD BLAMELESS.

A Jury Acquits the St. Paul & Duluth of Blame; Kriz' Funeral Monday.

A coroner's inquest over the remains of Emil A. Kriz was held this morning, C. S. Eppling, who was on one of the cars at the time, and several employes of the railroad company testified to the manner in which the accident occurred, the facts concerning which were published yesterday. The jury rendered a verdict in accordance with these facts, and exonerated the company and its employes from all blame.

Mrs. Kriz, who was visiting in Port Arthur at the time of the accident, will not reach home until tomorrow morning, and the funeral will probably be held on Monday.

A DECISION MONDAY.

And a Question by Justice Miller Is Favorable to the Defendants.

ST. PAUL, July 12.—[Special to The Herald.]—In the Prentice case today Justice Miller asked if the parties in the suit would stipulate that whatever title Kelly, Cash and Gillman get was agreed to be vested in the defendants.

This was agreed to in writing. A decision is expected Monday.

SALT WORKS BURN.

The Mount Morris Salt Block Is a Total Wreck.

MOUNT MORRIS, N. Y., July 12.—A fire broke out last night in the Royal salt block. It is supposed to have started in a cooper shop at the east end. The entire works cover about two acres. The fire rapidly worked its way to the refining rooms and packing house, the bulk packing house and the grainer room, one of the derricks and a number of cars on a switch beside the building, as well as a large tank on the south side holding 50,000 barrels of brine.

By hard work the firemen succeeded in saving the boiler room and thus averted an explosion, which would have been disastrous. The works originally cost $40,000 and improvements and machinery will bring it up to $60,000, which is a total loss, although a large insurance is carried by the firm.

The gain will average over 200 per cent in Ashland county since 1880—the largest of any in the district.

FOR THE NATION'S RIGHT.

Not in answer to the application of the chairman of the republican congressional committee, but to reaffirm what The Herald has already said in the most positive way, we maintain the right and duty of congress to make the federal elections bill the law of the country. It applies to every congressional district of the country, North as well as South, without a shadow of discrimination, and declares simply the right of the nation to supervise and guarantee the open and free casting of the votes for the representatives of the nation. If this is not affirmed and assured, the ballot for national representatives in many congressional districts will be a mockery of the suffrage conferred by the law of the nation, and in the future as in the past, the nation must put up with not only the grossest injustice to the qualified voters of minority-ruled districts, but the grossest injustice as well to every district where a fair and free vote is cast and majority rule, the essence of republican government, is maintained as a public trust.

If we are willing to rest tamely and supinely, for the sake of a humiliating peace with rule-grabbers, under the denial of the suffrage right of fellow American citizens, we are not willing to abide the contemptuous assault upon our own rights and the disregard of the principle of representation under which our representatives are allotted and our relative weight in the government of the country determined. Let every state settle its own home rule questions in its own way, trampling upon majority rights in the name of minority rights and public benefit if it will and can. We would not give even the pretext for declaring that the government of any state in the Union is imposed upon it by unwarranted outside interference. But when it comes to the running of the national government by means of suppression, force and fraud, we call a halt, and would enforce it by every power at the command of the nation.

The South is going to be hot, is it, if its grab box game of minority rule in national affairs is interfered with? Well, so far as the present majority in the national house of representatives speaks the feeling of the voters of the North, East and West, the rest of the country is justly stirred to determined resentment at the palpable outrage which it has been called upon to bear too long already, lest the temperature of the South should go up a peg or two in senseless passion. No paper in the north has a more friendly feeling for Southern men and Southern interests than The Herald. Through personal intimacy and pleasant residence in several Southern states, the editor of The Herald is well informed of Southern feeling and of the grave perplexities and onerous burden of the race and suffrage problems in the reconstructed states. But he knows nothing in the situation there which can be held to warrant or excuse the perpetuation of minority rule in the affairs of the nation or the denial of justice to the voters of the North, West and East. And The Herald goes further still. It can conceive of nothing which will justify such a willful infringement of national rights and such a denial of common fairness to the rest of the country.

For this cause The Herald now stands fast and demands justice. If justice can be obtained through the entirely proper measure of federal supervision of federal elections, all right. If not, we call for another law, backed with all the power of the nation, in defence of its honor and the rights of its citizens, until justice is assured and maintained. The Herald for one will put up with nothing less than the full measure of justice to which the nation is entitled. If this demand for justice makes anybody hot, we may regret the senseless passion, or the pretence of passion, but none the less we want justice, let the pot boil as it may. And we are certain of this. If there was less of the old dough-face sentiment in the North, there would be less ostentatious pot-boiling in the South. Let nobody pretend to misunderstand our position. We have not a thought which is not friendly to the South, but we do not propose to be kicked by any minority rule grabbers under any pretence, or under any cloak of friendship and harmony. If any Northern paper or Northern man is willing to be so kicked, that is their affair, but we do hope for the showing of spirit enough to back up the body of representatives who have cast their votes for justice and the nation's right.

THE BUSINESS SITUATION.

Locally the business situation is fair. Regatta matters make collections a little harder than they should be for the present, but banks hold plenty of cash and are easy on good collateral. Jobbers report trade rather light, as might be expected, and the strikes have affected retail trade. Indications of a splendid crop grow daily stronger, and the result is felt in increased confidence. The iron market is steady and public work will probably go on uninterruptedly next week.

Local bank clearings for the week show an increase of 47 per cent, and are a total of $2,008,682.

The general situation is still reported good and in spite of the usual midsummer dullness, aggravated by exceptionally hot weather, the volume of business continues larger than in any previous year, and in all quarters hopes are stimulated by excellent crop reports. The passage of a compromise silver bill by the senate helps to give encouragement. Large exports of gold have begun owing to suspension of specie payment in South America. The Bank of England lost $2,155,000 gold last week, the Bank of Germany $2,490,000 and the Bank of France $1,245,000, and it has been decided to call over $5,000,000 from this country, the first shipment being today. With scanty reserves on which to begin the fall movement, and money tight at Boston and active in Philadelphia, and in sharp demand in Chicago at 6 per cent on call, the prospect is less clear than it has been. The government crop report for July 1 was very favorable as to cotton and satisfactory as to wheat. Corn is in fine condition, with small increase in acreage. From many northwestern cities special reports show distinct improvement in trade because of crop prospects. The more important branches of manufacture show hesitation. In the iron business buoyancy does not appear; pressure to realize keeps the market especially weak. Rails for fall delivery are quoted at $31, and while mills have orders for some time to come, the present demand for finished products is not large. The traffic of railroads is still very large. For the last week of June, about 8 per cent and for the month about 16 cents above last years, while the few reports for July show still larger gains. The steady growth of the country is illustrated in national bank reports, showing an increase since 1880 of 66 per cent in number of banks, 87 per cent in deposits and 90 per cent in loans. Failures during the last seven days, for the United States, 175; for Canada, 22; total, 197, compared with 199 last week. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 191 in the United States, 18 in Canada.

Crane, the clever artist who has made The "Henrietta" and "The Senator" the stage success of the day, has just got back from his San Francisco trip. He brings back a hat-full of legal tender, but no tender remembrance of the glorious climate of the Golden Gate. "There are," he says, "four climates every day in that city and five on Sunday. It is winter in the morning, summer in the afternoon and pneumonia at night." That beats Winnipeg's three seasons, "July, August and winter," and shows how thankful Duluth should be that her lines are cast in pleasanter places. Come out here and learn what comfort is, Mr. Suffering Crane.

The horrid crushing of the unfortunate man at the Lake avenue railway crossing yesterday has called attention again to the perilous condition of that thoroughfare. The accident of yesterday might have taken place at any point on the line, but its chance occurrence brings to view particularly the dangers of this crossing. It is wholly unsafe to use in its present open condition for the flying switches of trains and shifting of freight cars. The public safety demands a suitable bridge or viaduct here with no more delay than is really necessary. Street crossings at grade are abominations anywhere, and of all grade crossings this is the most obstructive and dangerous in the city. It is time for the city and the St. Paul & Duluth railway company to wake up and protect the public.

SEEN AND HEARD.

An affecting scene occurred on Lake avenue north yesterday afternoon where the street gang were employed. One of the members is serving a thirty-eight days' sentence on the charge of cruelty, but the evidence at the examination showed it to be a case of mother-in-law against wife. Yesterday afternoon the latter with her little children were coming down the avenue when they caught sight of the father among the gang. They had not seen him since he had been incarcerated and the remainder of the scene can be better imagined than described. There were probably other fathers among the gang who learned a lesson from that affecting love scene.

The harbor presented a very lively appearance last evening. There were oarsmen in single sculls and double sculls and four-oared shells and barges, and there was a multitude of pleasure boats and sail boats of all kinds. The Chaska, who has the honor of being the prize sloop and who carried off the cup last year, was out stretching her new sails, and there was such a crowd on the Northern Pacific dock watching what was going on that one would have supposed there was a big excursion somewhere or that it was sailing time for several of the line steamers. Verily great interest is being awakened in the regatta.

"Nearly all the hot-weather patients of whom, indeed, there are not many," remarks a Duluth physician, "have been drinking too much ice water. If you must have ice water, sip it slowly. Take five minutes in putting away a moderate drink. Don't gulp it down in a hurry: and use the same rule as regards all iced drinks. Take your lemonade through a straw, and spend ten minutes over the glass. Then you will not shock your stomach and enfeeble your system. But, as for myself, I think hot drinks are best for the summer. Hot weak tea is good, and, speaking of tea, I beg you to let that abomination, iced tea alone."

WHAT PEOPLE SAY.

Rev. W. M. Barker: I propose now to see that Duluth has an ambulance service. That terrible affair of yesterday was alone enough to demonstrate it. Duluth does need such a service.

A physician: I think it quite possible that the life of Emil Kriz might have been saved yesterday. A good deal of time was lost waiting for the patrol wagon, and then a two-mile ride for a man in his condition was a sin when five blocks would have taken him to a splendid hospital.

County Superintendent of Schools Stulz: The educational meeting at St. Paul was a wonderful success. I really believe it would have paid this county and city a hundred fold to have sent all its teachers there at its own expense. There was so much to be learned, not all from the speeches, by any means, but from the exhibits and the esprit de corps of the whole thing. There were many from the city and county there as it was. It was to the education of the country what the centennial was to its material resources. Especial exhibits were made of manual training and the slojd department. It was wonderful to see what could be done by the little ones in their lines.

J. D. Stryker: Some people may say that $65,000 paid for the corner of Superior street and Third avenue west by Mr. Burrows was a heavy price, but it was not. It was cheap. It is the best available corner in Duluth, opposite two large banks and the Board of Trade, it couldn't be beat. The price paid was $65,000 net, and a clean cash sale. The property was owned by C. P. Craig, Cash & Williams and myself, and we bought it last October for $20,000. Burrows & Co. are going to build a fine building, one of the latest and best in Duluth, on the site. It will be a splendid structure and a great credit to Duluth.

MENU FOR TOMORROW.

THE MERRIAM OUTLOOK.

Rock County News: The News is inclined to the belief that Governor Merriam will not be a candidate for renomination, or that he will withdraw his name for consideration if nominated. The governor is a shrewd politician and has shrewd advisers. He can read the handwriting on the wall as plainly as anyone.

Owatonna Journal: The present indications are that Governor Merriam will receive the support of the Republican state convention for renomination. The fight will come after the convention, between the several parties, but heretofore the republican party has been able to defeat the field of candidates against it, in this state, and will be again.

Northfield News: Looking over the situation it will be found that there is little or no opposition to Governor Merriam. It is becoming an open secret that his enemies within the party will permit him to take the nomination without opposition and then try to defeat him at the polls.

Moorhead News: The attack upon Governor Merriam by Minneapolis and the attempt to defeat his renomination on the charge or assumption that he is responsible or connected with the exposure of the Minneapolis census frauds, is unjust, unreasonable and puerile in the extreme, and we have no idea that the rest of the state will join Minneapolis in its raid upon Governor Merriam on such a groundless issue.

Bicycles for the Boys.

This advertisement is for the boys---and the girls as well---of Duluth, and any one of them who doesn't read it, and act on it too, will lose a good vacation chance.

Now to business, without any wait, for it's too near the Summer to wait long for anything now. The Herald has made arrangements with Crawford Bros., sporting goods dealers of 205 West Superior street, so that it can furnish any boy or girl in Duluth, who actually wants it, a good safety bicycle. All it will cost you will be a little work, and the work you can do in two or three days probably

Bicycles for the Girls.

As to the bicycles, they are good substantial machines, what are known as "Youths' Machines," and cost $35 at any of the stores. You can't get them for less. We are going to let you have a pick of three styles, a boy's safety, a girl's safety, and a boy's with the big front wheel. They are just such bicycles as are in regular and steady use here and everywhere else every day. We want to say right here that Crawford Bros. will tell you all about them, just what they are and how good they are. And they'll do more, they agree to make good any damage that comes to the machines the first year, except that brought on by careless or wrong usage.

At the Herald office on Lake avenue you can learn just how many subscribers you will have to get to secure one of these good machines. The number is a good many less than you'd think. Come and see, now.

THE BIG ORE RANGES.

Shipments From the Vermilion Mines; Work on Properties.

Ores of Titanium; the New Atikokan; Notes of Iron News.

OF IRON news for the past week there has been little. Shipments go on rapidly from the Vermilion mines and there has now been sent forward over 335,000 gross tons, as against 7000 tons less to same date last year. As was pointed out in The Herald last week, the statement that has been going the rounds that the Vermilion was behind last year is false.

On the various developments in different parts of the district work goes on steadily: At the Mallman and Stone Iron company's properties at Mesabi there is steady and excellent progress, while the many developers east of Mallman are meeting with flattering results. On the east Vermilion work is being successfully carried on. The Lucky Boy Mining company, whose property is located close to the Camp & Anderson, has filed its articles of incorporation and is ready for business. The new Minnesota Mining company, on section 16, near Tower, is pushing its developments, and the more work is done the better is the outlook. West of Tower the various Merritt properties show well. The Mountain Range Iron company filed articles yesterday.

At the Duluth-Winnipeg mine, the Diamond, east of La Prairie, the drift is down 110 feet, and claimed to be excellent ore. The manager of the mining force says: "The ore is found as rich and abundant as ever. I am just locating a new prospecting outfit, which begins work on secton 14-56-24, or about thirteen miles from Grand Rapids. The prospecting is to be done by diamond drills this summer and shafts sunk for winter work." Mr. Klages, based on several years experience, is sure the stuff is there in richly paying quantities.

Atikokan Iron Fields.

The Engineering and Mining Journal has the following on the Atickokau river iron fields: Capt. M. N. Garland has just returned from the Atikokan iron fields, where he has been with a party taking up a tract of 3200 acres of iron lands. He says the amount of iron exposed on the surface is beyond comprehension and wonders that it was not located years ago, situated as it is within easy distance of Port Arthur, and that when a railway reaches the deposits millions of tons can be mined annually, as the iron is above the level of the country in great quantity, showing clear up the face of bluffs 125 to 150 feet high and of the finest quality. It will require a railway forty miles long to reach the deposits, from Fire Steel on the Canadian Pacific railway. The railway freight to Port Arthur on this iron would be about ninety cents per ton. Four of the deposits taken up by him are described below with their assays.

No 1 location consists of about 600 acres. The land is located along the strike of the lode. It has an outcropping of 1,500 feet in length and an average width of 40 feet. The formation is vertical. The bluff running through this location is 135 feet above the level of the country and the iron shows clear up to the top, carrying its full width. The low lying land, wherever uncovered on the lode for a distance of 1¼ miles, showed the same quality of iron. Assays from this deposit, by E. W. Rossman, Port Arthur, gave 70.8 per cent.; metallic iron silica, 1.70 per cent., and no other impurities in appreciable quantities.

No. 2 Location is situated immediately west of No. 1 and comprises 640 acres. The iron outcrops about 10 feet below the level of the river, and runs up the face of a bluff 100 feet high. The length of the exposed part of this deposit is about 1,000 feet. Capt. Garland uncovered for a width of 27 feet without finding either wall. This location is splendidly timbered with pine, spruce and tamarac. The river is 125 feet wide, 6 to 8 feet deep and has a fall on the length of this location of 125 feet, which would give it great capacity for water power for driving the necessary machinery for mining. Assays from this deposit by the Sharon Iron Company, of Sharon, Pa., were as follows:

	Per cent.
Metallic iron	68.76
Silica	1.41
Phosphorus	0.006
Sulphur	0.185
Titanium	0.00

No. 3 adjoins No. 2 on the west; the outcropping runs along the location for nearly half a mile. It is 75 feet wide, and, like the others, runs through a bluff 150 feet high. Assays from it by E. Hille, Port Arthur, gave metallic iron 67.75 per cent.

Smelting of Titaniferous Ores.

A paper recently read before the American Chemical society gives some interesting facts concerning the successful smelting of ore containing a high percentage of titanium. This element has generally been held in disrepute by American iron masters, and they have gone so far as to say that the result of their experience has been that a mixture containing a greater percentage of titanic acid than 1.25 per cent. could not be successfully used. When present in greater quantities titanium has a tendency to render the slag pasty and clog the furnace with titanium deposits, if it is not made by judicious treatment to pass into the slag. On this account many deposits of titaniferous iron ore have been neglected as of no value, although such ores are apt to be very free from phosphorus, and therefore are especially suitable for Bessemer iron.

In Sweden and Norway, however, ores containing 5 to 10 per cent titanium have been smelted alone in charcoal furnaces, others containing 15 to 20 per cent titanium or more have been smelted in admixture, or even alone, and, lastly, Norway ores containing as much as 40 per cent titanium and only 36 per cent of iron have been smelted by a company in England with perfect success, as far as the metallurgy of the treatment was concerned, although at considerable expense for fuel.

The successful treatment of these titaniferous ores depends entirely on the choice of fluxes to obtain a desired result. Certain natural compounds of titanium, such as sphene, calcium silico titanate, and keilhanite are perfectly fusible in a blast furnace and the composition of the slag run from the furnace should be made to approximate in composition these natural compounds. The following is the analysis of ore which has thus been successfully smelted in a Norway ilmenite:

Titanic acid, 39.20 per cent; ferric oxide, 18.59; ferrous oxide, 30.00; alumina, 2.30; manganese oxide, 0.00; silica, 5.70; loss, 0.22; iron, 36.3.

Condition of The Iron Trade.

An article in The American Economist contains the statement that the furnaces of this country have made 4,250,000 gross tons of pig iron during the first six months of 1890, and that all but 250,000 tons of this has gone into consumption in the same time. Of this large production only 250,000 tons has gone into the building of new railroads, the greater part of it being used in current repairs, for building purposes and for machinery and rolling stock. "Notwithstanding this enormous production," says The Economist, "and the fact that the product of the last six months of the year is likely to exceed it by 20 per cent, there is no reason to expect that the year's activity will be followed by a depression. Stagnation in the iron market has always followed a season of heavy importation at high figures."

It is reasonable to suppose that instead of the present activity in the iron market being succeeded by a marked depression, an extended period of prosperity is being ushered in. In no stage of the iron trade are stocks of any kind being accumulated. A large amount of building is being carried on, and capital is thus being distributed at a moderate rate among the wage-earners of the country. Labor troubles are rare, and the farmer is promised a good crop and much better prices. It is easy enough to predict hard times, because if we are to experience them it must be in the futnre, but there is, certainly, nothing in the present condition of trade or in the mercantile methods of the day that has a tendency to hasten a business reaction.

Early in the season it was feared in the Lake Superior iron districts that the eagerness with which furnace men made contracts for ore, indicated only a temporary spurt in the iron market which would leave the business flat for the next year. The consumption of pig iron which has been referred to, will however, reassure the mine owners, and preparations for an increased output for 1891 will undoubtedly follow.

One of the evidences of the steadily increasing iron export business of this country is given in the following clipping from The London Iron and Steel Trades' Journal: "It is evident that British pig iron is not excluded from the Canadian market by native competition. For supplies of forge iron, Canadian manufacturers have long since sought deliveries from the United States, and were content to fall back upon Scotland for the best foundry iron, but this trade is now going from us. Ten years ago in the first months of 1880, we exported 22,601 tons of pig iron to Canada. In the first four months of the current year the shipments have been 992 tons.

VALUE OF PARKS.

How Parks and Boulevards Raise Values of City Property.

Kansas City Star: S. M. Jarvis, the president of the Jarvis-Conklin Mortgage Trust company, said this morning to a reporter for The Star:

"Boulevards and parks are the most splendidly remunerative investments Kansas City can possibly make. I have just returned from a trip and have visited all the more prominent cities of the United States. I have observed the effect boulevards and parks have, not only in making a city beautiful, but in enhancing the value of all real property, and I say that there is no doubt but that, considered simply as an investment, as a business proposition, no municipal expenditure can be so largely productive of good results as the money spent for parks and boulevards.

"When I was in Chicago I found that property along the boulevards is valued at from $400 to $1200 a foot, and property otherwise equally good is worth only $150 and $200 a foot. The difference in values is created wholly by boulevards, and Kansas City stands in more actual need of these than any other city in the United States.

"Look at Portland, Ore. The people of that city have built a magnificent roadway, so planned as to disclose every point of interest and beauty in the vicinity. The visitors at the city make up their impression of the town under the most favorable conditions, and when they leave they resume the line place for its beauty and speak of it wherever they go. Few people want to win the acquaintance of a repulsive-looking person, and the rule holds good with cities. To make a city beautiful is to make it prosperous. People like to live in beautiful cities and are attracted to them by such improvements as parks and boulevards. Not only is the money not lost that is expended for them, but the investment pays a higher interest than capital can otherwise obtain. The city's revenue is directly and greatly enlarged by the increased values, and the increase in property values will of itself amount to many, many times the cost of the improvement.

"I am sorry that I have not time to talk to you more fully on this subject, but, as you see, I am packing up and leaving the city today on a Western trip that will include Alaska. But I can sum up the substance of what I would say in a few words: Parks and boulevards, aside from the comfort and pleasure they give all the people, are, from a business standpoint, the most profitable investment Kansas City can make."

AGAINST ALL PRECEDENT.

[New York Mercury.]

She had spent three years in college and the lot of lore and knowledge
She had packed within her cranium was wonderfully great,
That she understood astrology, mathematics, physiology
And the art of pastel painting, there is hardly need to state.

But she couldn't make a biscuit, and his life no man would risk it
In making the attempt to eat her awful apple pies,
For she baked one for her brother, and today his loving mother
Mourns for a son so soon cut off and wafted to the skies.

But her homely cousin Mary was exactly the contrary,
Though she didn't stand so very high in knowledge or in looks,
When it came to making dinners, she was classed among the winners
And she's made a reputation as a queen of cunning cooks.

Now it happened that next summer after she'd come back to "mommer,"
To the village came a fellow who was quite a "daisy mash,"
He was only six and twenty and had stock and bond in plenty,
While his hair was most distinguished as was also his moustache.

He came, he saw, he tarried and in course of time he married—
But its only in the story book that worth's rewarded well,
For he formed a federation with the maid of education,
And Miss Mary now is cooking at a second-rate hotel.

A Missionary Visitor to Duluth; Africa's Slave Traffic.

Literature for Boys in Duluth; The Y's Work.

THE RECENT anti-slavery conference at Brussels, composed of representatives of the great powers, has discussed not only the slave traffic in Africa, but the equally destructive traffic in intoxicants. Measures have been formulated which it is believed will effectually stop this iniquitous trade, which among the natives amounts to little less than wholesale murder, provided the consent of the United States can be obtained. In 1884 Secretary Bayard refused to commit this government to the support of such measures because he thought he had no right to interrupt the lucrative trade of Americans who were supplying rum to the African traders. It remains to be seen whether the present administration will perpetuate the disgrace which now attaches to us of being the only one of the great powers unwilling to co-operate in the interests of humanity in ending Africa's desolating curse. No more pitiful appeal could be made than that of Khame, a native prince, to the English governor for protection against the Englishmen who were flooding his country with rum. "I dread the white man's drink more than all the assegais of the Matabele. Its wounds never heal. I pray your honor, never ask me to open a little door to the drink."

Rev. Mr. Sheffield of the North China mission of the American board has been a recent visitor in this city. His descriptions of the city of Pekin are very interesting, but not very attractive. The mud is so—with a piquincy, all their own, impossible to describe as to resist. Sweet and comely are the maidens of Devonshire; delicate and of precious seeming those who live in the pleasantest place of London; fascinating the damsels of France, clinging closely to their mothers, and with large eyes wondering at the wicked world. Excellent in her own place and to those who understand her is the Anglo-Indian 'spin' in her second season; but the girls of America are above and beyond them all. They are clever; they can talk; yea, it is said they can think. Certainly they have an appearance of so doing which is delightfully deceptive. They are original and regard you with unabashed eyes, as a sister might look at her brother. They possess, moreover, a life among themselves, independent of any masculine associations. They have societies and clubs and unlimited tea fights where all the guests are girls. They are self-possessed, without parting with any tenderness that is their sex right. They understand. They can take care of themselves. They are superbly independent. When you ask them what makes them so charming, they say: "It is because we are better educated than your girls and we are more sensible in regard to men. We have good times all around, but are not taught to regard every man as a possible husband, nor is he expected to marry the first girl he calls on."

Of the young men of America Mr. Kipling said: "The young men of America rejoice in the days of their youth. They gamble, race with yachts, enjoy prize fights and cock fights, the one openly, the other in secret; they establish luxurious clubs; they break themselves over horse flesh and other things, and they are instant in quarrel. At 20 they are experienced in business; embark on vast enterprises; take partners as experienced as themselves, and go to pieces with as much splendor as their neighbors. Incidentally I may mention that nine American youths out of ten are heavily handicapped by the abnormal weakness of their heads. Phlegmatic and spiritual, however, they manage to get flushed, affable, and drunk on astonishingly small quantities of liquor. The American nation gets drunk by easy stages. A man takes a nip here and a nip there in the morning until, by luncheon time, while not really drunk, he is in a condition that no business man ought to be until after dinner. I don't object to almost continuous beer drinking as we see it in America. A man will die of dropsy rather than drunkenness if he drinks too much beer. But the American habit of taking mixed drinks at all hours of the day is a very bad one. In your climate a man can keep it up for a long time till he suddenly drops off."

Mr. Kipling then spoke in a most disrespectful way of Chautauqua, and dubbed it as a sort of lawn tennis academy of the arts and sciences.

"I remember that during a short visit there I nearly got into trouble by remarking to a friend that the women's voices gave me the impression that they should be shut up and fed on oil for a year. I had a good opportunity to study the average American woman out of doors, and I found myself wondering whether it was true, as the east taught me, that the women have no souls. The motions of their minds were like unto the jumping of grasshoppers in a bait box. They managed to invest everything they touched or talked about with a distressed air of unreality—these persons with ideas, whose names were in the newspapers. I do not think much, as you say in America, of Chautauqua. People do not get an education that way. They must dig for it, and cry for it, and sit up nights for it, and when they have got it they must call it by another name or the struggle is of no avail."

Among the letters which Mr. Kipling wrote to India on his American impressions after a four months' visit was one devoted to Chicago alone. The first few lines are sufficient to give a general idea of his impressions. Here they are:

"I have struck a city—a real city—and they call it Chicago. Having seen it, I urgently desire never to see it again. It is inhabited by savages. Its water is the water of the sewers and its air is dirt. Also it says that it is the 'boss' town of America. I do not believe that it has anything to do with this country. I spent ten hours in that huge wilderness, wandering through miles of those terrible streets and jostling some few hundred thousand of these terrible people who talked through their nose."

He did not take kindly to the criticisms on England in American journals.

We have 50 feet on lower side of Second street, between Tenth and Eleventh avenues east, for $3750; on easy terms; one-quarter cash, balance one, two and three years. This is a good bargain. D. H. STEVENSON & Co.,

MATTERS OF LABOR.

The Federation and its Platform; Success of the Clerks.

Teamsters Meet; Local Strikes and Other Labor Notes.

THE Minnesota Federation of Labor is an accomplished fact. The meeting at St. Paul Monday afternoon, composed of delegates from the Farmers' alliance, the labor organizations and the Nationalists, was fully agreed as to the necessity for a closer alliance of the producing classes of the state. Ignatius Donnelly was there, together with President Hall, Secretary Lathrop and the rest. Rev. C. A. Cressy headed the delegation from the Nationalists, while Messrs. McGaughey, Lucas and other well known workingmen took a prominent part. The committee on representation reported a plan which gave each trade and labor organization in the state one delegate to the federation, and provided for a standing committee of nine each from the Farmers' alliance and the federation, to which all matters of interest to the producers of the state should be referred. There was the best possible feeling manifested between the farmers and workingmen, and all evinced an earnest desire to unite on every question of mutual interest. The federation decided to hold semi-annual meetings.

The resolutions include a demand for compulsory education and for free text books, eight hours, abolition of convict labor, a lien law, weekly payments, an employer's liability law, and a proper factory inspection law, state ownership and control of railways, telegraphs and telephones, the extension of the Australian ballot law to all parts of the state, the restoration to laborers of all classes of their rightful share of the gift of nature.

The resolutions further state:

That we would equally benefit the consumer and producer by producing a reciprocity of patronage between the organized consumers in the several industries.

That we urge both the farmers and workingmen to deal with each other as directly as possible, and urge upon the various organizations to discuss the advisability of organizing as consumers and adopting a label for the commodities they produce.

That we favor the adoption of national postal savings banks, the money to be loaned out at the same rate of interest say 3 per cent per annum, which is paid to the investors.

An executive committee of nine was appointed, whose duty it will be to submit the constitution and platform to the various local organizations for ratification, then to call a meeting of the federation for permanent organization, The committee consists of Messrs. Ward, Lucas, Misses McDonald, Ives, Hotchkiss Gruenberg, Bentz, Braley and McNally.

The demonstration Monday night by the clerks to celebrate their victory in the early closing movement was a surprise to all who did not know the extent of organized labor in Duluth. There must have been at least 700 men in line and none of them were boys either. The rules of the labor organizations preclude politics, but if the organized labor in Duluth should unite on any one candidate it would make the campaign decidedly interesting for opposing candidates

E. McManus of the state weighmaster's department, has just returned from a trip to the northwestern part of the state. He reports that the alliance movement is very strong in Polk county, and that there are not a half dozen farmers in any one township who are not members of the alliance, and they will support the alliance candidates. At present they are discussing cheaper binding twine and binders, and they have already secured a reduction on the latter. When the time comes, however, they will turn their attention to politics and will support their candidates as against what they term the Crookston ring.

MATTERS OF SPORTS.

Hosmer Talks on Training; The Fastest Yacht Afloat.

Cleveland on Ball; The League Fights; Notes of Sports.

HOSMER and Hanlan were the first to arrive and enter their names as entries in the Duluth-Superior regatta. They are gentlemen of a somewhat theatrical turn of mind, and last season both oarsmen were the principal features of the "Dark Secret" company, Hanlan following Hosmer as the center of attraction in the great regatta scene. These oarsmen arrived in Duluth Tuesday, and since then each day has seen them taking training spins over the bay course. Both men have decided views as regards training and style of rowing. In talking with Hosmer last night, I asked him whom he considered the champion oarsman of the country. Hosmer was for some time the champion ten mile pedestrian of America. He is a very modest man and classes himself, not in the first but in the second rank of American oarsmen.

"When I was with the Dark Secret company," said he, "the managers were willing to back me against any oarsman in the country for $1,000, barring Hanlan, O'Connor, Teemer and Gaudaur. These four men are evenly matched, and all stand an even show in the Duluth regatta. With Ross, McKay, Lee, Hamm, Ten Eyck, Conley, Dempsey, Casey and the rest I have pretty good chance of winning.

"The training of an oarsman is probably carried to a finer degree than in any other branch of athletics, and especially is this true since the twenty-minute record has been established. An oarsman who can not go under the twenty record can not expect to do anything nowadays, and he might as well quit pulling an oar at once. To get into condition for such speed is a delicate and difficult operation. In the old days of the five mile races pedestrianism formed a great part of the training, and the men ran and walked for miles. Walking is only used now to take off surplus flesh or to aid the appetite. Nearly all the work is done in the boat, and it is the severest kind of work, too. The old style of dieting has also become obsolete, and the oarsman eats just what his appetite calls for. Before beginning to train he must take a rest to give his muscles life and vitality. If he has led a rough life during the winter, this rest may have to be months in duration; and if, on the contrary, he has been hibernating, it will take almost an equal length of time to get in shape for work. For these reasons I think that moderate activity will place a man in better form than constant and hard practice."

Sufficient evidence has come to light within the past few days to warrant the statement that the war between the National and the Players' leagues is nearing its end. The series of conferences held between President Day and Catcher Ewing in Cincinnati is not the only sign of a speedy settlement of the differences between these two organizations, but there are several others. Ewing says the local League official spoke of an amalgamation of the two organizations and President Day just as emphatically denied it. This controversy is, however, not to be taken as very significant. It is the way base ball men usually have of covering up their tracks. Those who have had any direct dealings with the League magnates know from long experience that when one of them declares a thing black it is in reality white.

A despatch from Marion, Mass., where ex-President Cleveland and his wife are spending the summer, under date of June 29, quotes Mr. Cleveland's rather hazy views on a subject he doesn't know as much about as the average school boy. The despatch says:

"Ex-President Cleveland is not a baseball enthusiast, although Mrs. Cleveland, who is spending the summer here with him, has a true American liking for the game. A reporter, finding political subjects tabooed, took the president in hand yesterday and put him through a sporting course of sprouts. He confessed to a love of fishing and shooting. He catches tautog and bluefish here with hook and line. But his opinion of baseball is not flattering.

"For my part," said he, "I take little interest in base ball. I did for a short time when I was in Buffalo, but I soon tired of it."

"Don't you think we need a new national game, Mr. President?"

"Yes, I do," replied Mr. Cleveland, with considerable vigor. "Base ball might do for a national game if it were conducted differently. But, you see the public does not take enough direct part in the game. There are constant legal quarrels about the base ball contracts, and I am afraid there is some cause to suspect that base ball is not always so square as it might be. I think the papers have overdone baseball. Cricket? I never saw it played. I haven't been abroad you know. I know a little about curling," continued the ex-president. "It's an odd game—pushing stones along the ice with a stick. You have to get men to sweep the ice clean for you."

THE FASTEST AFLOAT.

A Steam Yacht That is to Develop Express Speed.

BOSTON, July 12.—C. D. Mosher is building at Amesbury for Norman L. Munroe of New York a steam yacht, the New Idea, that promises to be one of the fastest crafts afloat. Two years ago Mr. Mosher built the steam yacht Buzz, which attained a speed of thirty-two miles per hour, and startled the residents of the Merrimac valley by its great speed. This boat attracted the attention of Mr. Munro, who contracted with Mosher for the building of a pleasure yacht which would make thirty miles per hour, and the New Idea, as it has been christened, is the result of over a year's labor by Mr. Mosher and his assistants. The boat is 60 feet long, 8 feet wide and 6 feet deep. Planked inside and out, the hull is made of mahogany and the gunwales of oak. A 450-horse power engine furnishes the power for this little yacht, and occupies nearly a third of the boat. The total cost will reach $15,000, the hull alone being built at a cost of $1000. Everything used in its construction is of the highest quality, and no expense has been spared to make it the most speedy possible. In the first trial trip of the New Idea the boat made two miles in five minutes over a course on the Merrimac river. In an interview, Mr. Mosher, the builder, states that twenty-four miles an hour is a very satisfactory speed for his craft on her first trial trip and expects to make over thirty miles per hour after her machinery and appliances are perfected. Another feature of the yacht was to circle a steamer going at a good speed four times in less than a quarter of a mile. But two men are required to run the yacht. The secret of its speed is due to the great power of its engine in so small a boat, lying as it does very deep in the water. Its width is somewhat less than is usual for a boat of such length. These, according to the builder, are productive of greater speed, and he states that the New Idea will make the fastest time of any steam yacht yet made. After a few more trial trips the yacht will be taken to its owner in New York.

All Round Sports.

It is very evident that the new Puritan club of Long Island City is the coming organization for big glove contests. Now that all fights have been declared off in San Francisco, it is more than likely that the Puritans will take them up in the fall of the year.

Boxing among the amateurs is becoming quite a feature of summer sport. Some good bouts are being talked.

Sherrill will compete in one or two events in England before he returns.

The members of the New York Athletic club are agitating the question of a match race between Dohm and Downes.

The Athletics are taking a brief respite prior to undergoing a preparation for the big championship meet in September.

On the Diamond.

Getzein seems to be Boston's star pitcher this season.

Boston's league team should capture the pennant this season.

The Brooklyn team is fast going to the front and will most likely keep it up, as they are great home players.

The New York giants did well on their Western trip, winning eight out of fourteen games.

Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Brooklyn are pretty well bunched for second place.

Floating Grand Stands.

The firm of Smith Fee & Co., have made arrangements for furnishing facilities for viewing the races during regatta week, which will be unequaled. They are the owners of two very large, strong, solid oak scows, they being by far the largest and best at the head of the lakes, perfectly safe and seaworthy. These will be fitted out with rising deck and seats at such an angle that all can have a perfect view; the incline being greater than at the Opera House. An awning will cover the whole, securing protection from sun or rain.

These two scows will be in charge of the tug "Pathfinder" and another of their tugs. Seats will be sold at moderate prices at the dock, including the trip down and back, and seat during the races. A short time before the races commence each day they will be towed to the grounds and so anchored as to ensure all on board a good view of the entire course. The tugs will at all times remain in charge at the scows while a smaller boat and scow will make regular trips back and forth, allowing any one to return at their pleasure. Over-loading will be carefully guarded against, and no pains will be spared in making this the best way to see the regatta.

THE CARTER CASE.

It Must Now go to the Supreme Court; Costly Divorce.

CHICAGO, July 12.—As a result of the disagreement of the appellate court on appeal of Mrs. Leslie Carter from the decision of the court below granting her husband a divorce and the custody of their only child, the case must now go to the state supreme court.

The original trial cost Leslie Carter a round sum of $100,000 and his wife half that figure. Despatches from New York, where Mrs. Carter is living very quietly with her mother, preparatory to her advent on the stage, say that she has been given renewed hope by Judge Moran's decision, and is confident that the final outcome of the case will vindicate her, not only in the eyes of her personal associates and friends, but in those of the American people, who have been made familiar with the story of her domestic trials by the elaborate newspaper publications of the past twelve months.

Advance in Wages.

PITTSBURGH, July 12.—The advance in the wages of the freight men in the operating departments of all divisions of the Pennsylvania railroad goes into effect today. It ranges from 10 to 15 per cent. Several years ago when the wages on the entire system were reduced the promise was given that they would be restored just as soon as business would warrant such action. The advance today is in recognition of this pledge, and the wages to be paid from this time on are higher than those of any other American railroad.

Fisk's Funeral.

COLDWATER, Mich., July 12.—The remains of the late Clinton B. Fisk, the prohibition candidate for president of the United States in the last campaign, will arrive at his old home from New York this afternoon and will be interred in the family lot of the old village cemetery. The town is in mourning, and business is generally suspended, the townspeople will turn out en masse and escort the remains from the train to the grave. Brief services after the ritual of the Methodist Episcopal church will take place prior to the final interment.

"Hunger is the Best Sauce."

As a rule, a person who has a good appetite has good health. But how many there are who enjoy nothing they eat, and sit down to meals only as an unpleasant duty. Nature's antidotes for this condition are so happily combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla that it soon restores good digestion, creates an appetite and renovates and vitalizes the blood so that the beneficial effect of good food is imparted to the whole body. Truly hunger is the best sauce, and Hood's Sarsaparilla induces hunger.

The Opera Season of the Thompsons; Superior's New House.

New York Letter; Notes of Theatricals Elsewhere.

The Thompson Opera company, which commences a season of summer opera at the Temple next Monday evening, arrived here direct from New York this morning via the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway. The party consists of the eleven principals and twenty chorus singers. This, with the nine people already here, will make a grand company of forty people. Manager Thompson was in charge. To a Herald man he said: "We have the best opera company procurable, and I am satisfied that we will please your people, especially those who delight in comic opera well rendered in every way. We have been rehearsing for the past three weeks and could go on and give the 'Mikado' in perfect shape tonight, were it necessary. As it is, we will have a rehearsal here today and a full dress rehearsal tomorrow evening. I want the opera to go off in splendid shape Monday night, as first impressions are everything. I think the names of the people I have brought speak for themselves."

Among those who came with Mr. Thompson this morning were: A. W. F. MacCollin, who for the last five years has been the proprietor and leading attraction of the MacCollin Opera company. Mr. MacCollin is a comedian of note, and is very popular in the East and South. Miss Frano D. Hall, the prima donna, is a very pretty girl and the possessor of a soprano voice of great range and power. Her successes have been chiefly with the Casino and Rice's forces. Her "Yum-Yum" is said to be a very charming performance. Miss Bessie Tannehill has never sung in the "Mikado" before, but judging from her "Gabrielle" in Evangeline a clever performance is expected. Charles Lang, the tenor, has been with the Casino Opera company for the past three years, playing the tenor part in "Erminie." Miss Adele Barker, the contralto, is said to be the best Katisha in the "Mikado" that has ever been seen in this country. The stage is under the direction of Mr. Carroll Daly, formerly the stage manager of the McCaull and Dunlap Opera companies. Mr. Daly will also play the second comedy parts. The rest of the principals are as follows: Miss Lucy Button, Miss Lillian Clever, Miss Lillian Tyson, Miss Marguritz Fields, Miss Augusta Fisch, Mr. J. W. McKinley, Herbert Drew, Joseph Ford, Frank Calder, etc. The chorus is composed of picked male and female voices, among the number being some very pretty faces. The costumes for all the operas have been manufactured by Madame Schewenker, of New York, and are said to be very beautiful.

The company's repertoire besides the "Mikado," consists of the following operas "Queen's Lace Handkerchief," "Erminie," "Chimes of Normandy," "Beggar Student," "Olivette," "Amina," "Grand Duchess," "Nadjy," etc. It is the intention of the management to produce two, possibly three operas a week The opening opera Monday night will be the "Mikado."

Manager A. M. Miller, Jr., opens The Grand, West Superior August 16th, with the Hess Opera company. The company will appear two nights, singing "Mignon" and "Faust." Among the singers are many well known in Duluth: Richardi Ricci, Merteus, Clark, Atalie Clarie and Miss Muori. The Emma Juch company, with its hosts of noted singers and chorus of seventy-five voices, will open the coming season at The Temple. Among the prima donnas is Miss Norico, one of Patti's companion singers.

NEW YORK LETTER.

Theaters in the Dull Summer Season; What May be Expected.

NEW YORK, July 10.—[Special Correspondence of The Herald.]—The American theater is brighter, cleaner, more comfortable and far better ventilated than the average foreign theater. Even the gallery of one of our first-rate theaters is more comfortable than any part of a London playhouse, except the high-priced orchestra stalls. Abroad, the gallery, and often the "pit," knows no cushions, and frequently the seats are mere benches, without even backs. When you enter the usher holds out his hand for a fee. A moment after an old woman gives you a cushion, and she waits for a fee. Then a small boy with a program, and he must receive a penny or so or no program.

But there is one foreign fashion to be commended. The doors are opened precisely at the time announced and the play begins at the hour advertised, exactly as a railroad train pulls out on schedule time. The moment the curtain rises the theater doors are closed upon those outside, and are not opened until the close of the first act. There is no earthly reason why this wholesome custom should not be introduced into this country.

Managers evidently intend taking time by the forelock. The coming theatrical season will be inaugurated Aug. 18 instead of Sept. 1, as formerly. No less than ten metropolitan playhouses will throw their doors open on the night of Aug. 18 and bid for public patronage. The list of opening attractions is so diversified as to promise a rich harvest of theatrical novelties during the entire season. The Broadway theater, with Francis Wilson in "The Merry Monarch," will undoubtedly be the popular center of attraction on that night.

In point of artistic attraction the opening on the same night of the Lyceum theater and reappearance of E. H. Sothern in a new play will draw the social and critical elements of New York to the little theater on Fourth avenue. The play will be "Wood Barrow Farm," by Jerome K. Jerome. This is also a transcontinental product, and was produced in London about two years ago. It is described as a three-act domestic drama, and has been very favorably noticed.

The Academy of Music opens with the English Pantomime company. John L. Sullivan will be seen on Aug. 18 in "Honest Hearts and Willing Hands," Fay Templeton reappears in "Hendrick Hudson." Daly's will begin the season with Sol Smith Russell, at the Star-Mc-this condition are so happily combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla that it soon re-Kee Rankin's "Kanuck" will hold the boards. "The Old Homestead" returns to the Academy in September.

The Madison Square Garden Amphitheater, with Strauss' orchestra and the two grand ballets, enters upon its fourth week under encouraging conditions. The addition of refreshments, cooling drinks and ices has met with favor, and the 300 tables which surround the promenade are nightly occupied. The attendance has been exceedingly good, from 3000 to 5000 often occupying seats and boxes and using the promenade. Strauss will give a third Sunday night concert this evening from the center of the amphitheater. FEANC FOYER.

WHAT THE NEW STATE HAS.

Resources and Richness in Idaho the Latest of the States.

With the admission of Idaho the chain of states from ocean to ocean is forged. The state making of last year, grand as it was, did not complete the connection. It left a tier of territories—Arizona, Utah and Idaho—reaching from Mexico to the British dominions. Idaho's statehood fills in the narrow gap between Montana and Washington. "Gem of the Mountains" is said to be the meaning of Idaho. It is a queer shaped gem. All around are states blocked out in squares or parallelograms. But Idaho, with a great base, has a gradually narrowing peak which reaches almost a point where the British dominion's line cuts it off. The new state's outline may be generally described as that of a right-angled triangle with a very rugged hypothenuse. The north and south line is 410 miles, the width is 306 miles along the southern base and tapers to 44 miles at the northern extremity.

Idaho is divided into eighteen counties. Fourteen of them have added in a respectable degree to the mineral wealth of the country. Each of the fourteen is at present a gold producer. Twelve of the fourteen have silver mines. The new state comes in with a record of having yielded since 1862 $158,000,000 worth of valuable metals. The gold and silver taken out of Idaho mines last year was over $10,000,000—nearly $11,000,000. The product would have been $2,000,000 greater but for the failure of the usual water supply. A single county produced $5,500,000 worth of lead.

The heart of Idaho is as yet undiscovered. Across the southern part of the state from east to west the Oregon Short Line of the Union Pacific follows the serpentine course of the Snake river. The Northern Pacific traverses the Panhandle away up toward the British line. The Utah Northern connects Utah and Montana by a north and south route through the Eastern part of the new state. Thus southern, northern and eastern Idaho have railroads. Central Idaho is an unknown country. A little west of the center is a mountainous, broken region which can only be reached by pack animals. It has not even a wagon road. There, the Idaho people believe, is located the treasure which will in a few years place their state at the head of all the gold and silver producing states. It is no exaggeration to say that "gold in every rivulet flows" in that part of Idaho. Wherever the prospector has penetrated he has found the color. The Salmon and its branches drain the north side of this "strong box in the mountains." On the east of it is Wood river and on the south the Snake. In the gulches of a single tributary creek of the Salmon $10,000,000 in gold have been washed out. In the Wood River valley there is a mine—lead-bearing silver—which has yielded $6,000,000 in seven years. As for the Snake, there is gold in the sands of every mile of its sinuous length—enough, as the Idaho people are fond of saying, to pay the national debt. And yet only the border of the great treasure-field have been worked.

A great river has its source in Wyoming. It wriggles and curves from side to side of Idaho, and leaves the very most of its sinuous length within the borders. It is well called the Snake. But more remarkable than its sinuosity is its fall. The Snake enters Idaho at an elevation of nearly 6000 feet above tide water. It goes out of Idaho at an elevation of only 680 feet. Here is a mighty river with 5000 feet fall, waiting to be utilized. When Director Powell of the geological survey had looked at the river and the plains, he said: "I can put the water on 2,000,000 of acres of land here for twenty-five cents an acre."

Along the Boise River there is a sight worth the all-day ride over the sandy plains to reach it. A valley has been redeemed from sage-brush and jack rabbits. Every acre is utilized. Communities unite in building and controlling the canals. Each canal supplies from 10 to 100 farms. Every farm-house is surrounded by fruit and shade trees. Of all of the new states Idaho possesses the prettiest of capitals. The city is the crowning feat of the irrigation system of the valley. Two canals distribute little streams of water to every block and lot. The streets are lined with trees. The yards are filled with shrubbery and fruit trees. The canals give perfect control over the verdure, and the season of flowers and fruit and foliage is lengthened. For sixty miles the traveler can follow this valley and see a continuous succession of farms. The fertility of this irrigated loam is almost incredible to the tenderfoot. When the visitor first looks upon a field of timothy, five months after sowing, which gives four and a half tons to the acre, he begins to have an impression of what irrigation will do. A more desolate picture than this same soil without irrigation cannot be found.

Idaho has now 740,350 acres under ditch, and the survey shows that 8,500,000 acres is irrigable land.

The vigor with which Idaho has dealt with the Mormon question has drawn a good deal of attention to her. Almost before the other people knew what was going on there were 25,000 of the saints in the southern counties of the territory. Their 5600 votes constituted the balance of power between the two parties. The Mormon vote in the territorial legislature began to attract attention. The republicans and democrats united in the enactment of a law of disfranchisement. A test oath was framed. No man could vote without subscribing to it. And no Mormon, so the courts held, could take the oath without committing perjury. The United States supreme court sustained the validity of the oath. The constitution under which Idaho enters statehood perpetuates the anti-polygamy test. Mormons will continue to be deprived of suffrage in Idaho until such time as a new dispensation of the Church of Latter-day Saints shall knock out the plural marriage dogma.

Sudden conversions from Mormonism are viewed with suspicion in Idaho. The last legislature improved on the test oath. It passed an act providing for naturalization, so to speak, of Mormon apostates. The Mormon who withdraws from the church must file with the clerk of the district court a declaration of his intentions. Not until two years have elapsed after the filing of the notice is he allowed to vote. These are some illustrations of the rigor with which Idaho has dealt with Mormon question.

Something Wrong With the Meter.

The inspector looked at the gas meter in astonishment.

"Why it doesn't indicate any consumption of gas whatever for the last month!" he said.

"It oughtn't to," replied the owner of the building. "The gas wasn't lighted at all during the month."

"There is something wrong with the meter," said the inspector, with a hard, decisive, metallic ring in his voice.

THE WEEK'S SOCIETY.

Much Life is Manifested in Social Circles for the Week

Parties and Dances; Campers; Excursions and the Like.

Professor Cohn reports his summer school a success. Already a large number of teachers and others from outside have arrived to spend the summer in the school, and he expects a hundred more by Monday or Tuesday. Among those who arrived last night were Miss Emma P. Howard, preceptress of De Veaux college, Suspension Bridge, N. Y.; Miss Laura Wallenberg, Chicago; Miss Kate B. Reed, Waterloo, Iowa; Miss Bertha M. Pfeiffer, and Dr. Alfred Emerson, professor of ancient languages, and many others. The local attendance is also large, and the permanence of the school at Duluth seems assured. One of the greatest arguments for its establishment here has been the weather, and this, this year, has been so unsufferably hot elsewhere as to boom the Duluth school.

TO FOND DU LAC.

Charming Excursion Under Charge of the Unity Club of Duluth.

An excursion under charge of the Unity club of the First Unitarian society of this city has been arranged for Thursday next, July 17. The steamer Barker will leave the St. Paul & Duluth slip at 10 o'clock in the morning, taking the excursionists through the bay and up the St. Louis river to Fond du Lac, where a stop will be made with ample opportunity for a ramble over this interesting little town, the old Astor trading post. Returning, the Barker will stop at the picnic grounds on Spirit island, reaching the city early in the evening. A charming day's outing is assured by the careful arrangements made for the comfort of all by the Unity club. Picnic baskets should be taken by excursionists. The number of tickets for this excursion is strictly limited to the comfortable accommodations of the boat. Price fifty cents; children accompanied by guardians half price. For sale to known applicants only at Boyce & Totman's drug store. Guests at hotels can obtain tickets through hotel managers. In case of bad weather the excursion will be given on the next available day, and tickets purchased will hold good, or may be returned if so desired and price refunded. Apply at once, as only a limited number can be issued.

The ladies of the Bethel and society have spared no pains to make the evening pleasant and may reasonably expect a crowd of visitors.

Miss Sadie McLean gives a reception this evening to a few friends in honor of Miss Beesie Mattix.

Mrs. Spencer gave a dinner party Friday evening to a number of friends at her home on Beach street.

Miss Woodbridge gave a party to a number of friends Friday evening at her home on East Third street to Miss Upham and friend.

A most agreeable surprise is being consummated upon all those members of the Father Mathew society who will attend the next regular meeting, Monday evening in Catholic Association hall.

The Young Men's club chartered the steamer Barker Wednesday for a trip to Old Superior. The pleasant dining rooms of the Euclid hotel were engaged for the evening. About fifty couples participated.

The entertainment given by the ladies of the order of the Eastern Star at the Masonic temple Monday evening was attended by a large crowd and proved to be a very enjoyable affair. Refreshments were served during the evening by the ladies of the order, after which dancing was in order until nearly midnight.

Captain Inman gave a pleasant excursion to a party of friends yesterday. A trip was made on the Record to Flood bay. Among the guests were Mrs. M. C. Howe and daughter, Mrs. F. A. Dailey, Mrs. George M. Smith and daughter, Miss La Vaque, Duluth; Mrs. Wheeler, Bradford, Pa.; Mrs. Sibley, Lincoln, Neb.

Personal.

Mrs. T. H. Hulbert has returned from a long stay in Chicago and elsewhere.

Miss Hattie Rither of Indianapolis, Ind., is visiting her friend, Miss Annetta M. Sloan.

Miss Adams of Bangor, Me., is visiting her sister, Mrs. F. R. Webber, for the summer.

M. O. Meeser, an ex-Duluthian, now of Warren, Ohio, is in the city visiting I. E. Fogelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Peck of Pittsfield, Mass., are visiting their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dowse.

Miss Belle Schofield, a Brooklyn society girl, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. W. B. Wellee, this city.

Col. Graves, Maj. Upham, Lieut. Tear and Walter Ayers have been this week at Isle Royale on a fishing trip.

The two sisters of T. H. Hawkes have arrived from Springfield, Mass., and will spend the summer here. They were accompanied by a friend from Janesville, Ohio.

Hon. A. Worth Spates of Baltimore, the gentleman who so ably responded to the address of welcome given to the Washington excursionists, is visiting here with his brother-in-law, L. W. Spear.

C. E. Lovett has returned from a business trip to Chicago and Louisville. His sister, Miss Lovett of Erie, Pa., returned with him. She will spend several weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lovett.

Mr. S. D. Johnson, of this city, was on Sunday married to Miss Sears of Eau Clair. Miss Sears has for several years been librarian of the Eau Clair public library and is very highly regarded by her friends.

Dr. G. E. Benson of Hudson, N. Y., is here on his regular summer vacation. The doctor, like many another, comes here as the Mecca to which he annually turns for relief from the heat of the summer weather.

Miss Ada C. Rodgers of Topeka and Mr. Olin S. Davis, librarian of the Duluth public library, were on the evening of July 2 married. The ceremony was performed in Topeka, Mr. Davis' old home, and the bride and groom returned to Duluth Monday. They will reside on Third avenue.

Mrs. Frederic Prentice, wife of the man who wants the heart out of Duluth, is in the city for the week. She is here to watch the outcome of the present suit at St. Paul, and is said to feel a good deal more confident of and a good deal more anxious for the success of the case than either her husband or his lawyers.

E. W. Matter returned Thursday morning from Oberlin, bringing with him Mrs. Matter and her sisters, the Misses Peck. Miss Kate Peck has just graduated, a highly honored pupil of Oberlin conservatory. And will teach music next year in a Florida seminary.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheffield and three daughters have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Giles Gilbert this week. Mr. Sheffield has been for several years a professor in a college in China, and is thoroughly acquainted with that far-off land. They had with them a lot of pretty curios and costumes. Mr. Sheffield was a college friend of Mr. Gilbert.

David Ericson, the talented young artist, returned Monday from New York, where he has been studying in the Art League and elsewhere for several years. Mr. Ericson, his numerous Duluth friends will be glad to know, has greatly profited by his last year's study and work and is as enthusiastic as ever in pursuit of his ambition. He is undecided whether to go back to New York next fall or to try a few years in Paris and other continental cities.

Frank McGinley left Thursday for Seattle, on a five years' contract with the Henry Villard-Marvin and Cammack crowd to take care of their interests there. A large cold storage house will be built, of which Mr. McGinley is to have sole charge. He has been in Duluth for the past five years as senior partner in the firm of McGinley & Howard. He leaves behind many friends who wish him success in his new home.

Mrs. S. J. Crandall, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hayes, has gone to her former home in Oswego, N. Y. Her brother, Jesse Young, was a pilot on the Manistee, which was lost with all on board nearly seven years ago, and her trip to Duluth was made with a view of collecting relics and views of the illfated vessel, of which she succeeded in finding several. She leaves many friends in the Zenith city who sincerely regret her departure.

A Large Hardware Consolidation.

The firms of Hanchett, Sheldon & Co. and H. S. Eaton, both of whom have been in the hardware business in Duluth for a number of years, are going to consolidate and will occupy the large easterly store in the Minnesota Loan & Trust company's building. The friends of both firms will be glad to hear of this move, for it will allow them to strengthen and extend their business in a way which could not have been accomplished as rapidly if they had remained competitors.

To Nervous People.

Pick up any newspaper, from Maine to Texas, or Florida to Alaska, and you will find seductive advertisements with the above heading. Presumably these are for people whose nerves are weakened by disease, but there are many other kinds of nervous people in this queer world. Some are subject to all sorts of apprehensions when about to take a journey. The train may run off the track. The boiler of the locomotive may burst. They have heard the bridges on some roads are not safe. The train may start ahead of time and they get left. They may miss their connection with another line. The road does not run into a union depot. The conductors and brakeman are holy terrors. The "candy butchers" on the trains are insolent. Their baggage will surely be smashed. They know their trunks will get lost. They will be misdirected when they "change cars." To such people we would say, buy your railroad tickets over "The Burlington," dismiss all your fears, go to sleep in their vestibuled Pullmans, and you will wake in the morning, you and your belongings all safe, have an excellent breakfast in the dining car, and arrive at your destination on time. For rates, tickets, or any information, consult your nearest ticket agent, or address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

THE FINEST PASSENGER.

The Monarch, the Finest Passenger Boat on Upper Waters.

To Reach Duluth on Regular Runs About August First.

The launch last week of the Monarch, the new Beatty line boat, which will run on the Duluth-Sarnia route, created much interest in Sarnia and on the American side of the river, the places of business in the former city being closed during the launch and the afternoon being generally observed as a holiday. The boat was christened by Miss Blossom Beatty, the little daughter of Mr. John Beatty, who broke a bottle of St. Clair river water over the bow.

The new boat is a screw propeller, and is very nearly a sister boat to the United Empire, the most noticeable points of difference being that the Monarch is a trifle narrower, which takes four inches off the width of the saloon; and that the arches do not, as in the case of the Empire, rise high enough to obstruct the view from any of the stateroom windows. The division between the forward and after cabin is placed somewhat farther back, so that the diningroom is seven feet longer and the after cabin seven feet shorter in the Monarch than in the United Empire. The length of the boat is 259 feet; breadth, 34 feet 8 inches; depth, 14 feet 6 inches. The frames and plank are of the best white oak; the keel is the usual size. The garboard strakes edge is bolted through the keel, and two additional thick strakes next to the garboards are diminished to the thickness of bottom plank. There is a steel arch 3 feet 6 inches by 7-16 of an inch in section and outside of frame, bolted through each other. The ends are commenced as low down in the hull as practicable, extending nearly the entire length of the boat and running up above the promenade deck rail. There is likewise an arch amidships running from stern to engine bed, bolted to the keelson and running up the main deck beams. There will be provision made for steerage passengers between the main and promenade decks. The cabins extend the full length of the boat and contain sixty-two staterooms. The boat was built by Mr. John Bybie, who has had extensive experience in shipbuilding both in England and Canada, and who, in connection with Mr. Parry, built the United Empire eight years ago in the same yard. The material in the Monarch was all most carefully culled; the work was superintended all through by Mr. James H. Beatty, the manager, and she is as staunch as steel and oak can make her, and as fine a piece of marine construction as there is afloat.

The motive power will be furnished by a powerful triple expansion engine. The high pressure cylinder is 21 inches in diameter, intermediate cylinder 33 inches; low pressure cylinder 42 inches; stroke 42 in. The high pressure cylinder will be operated directly, and no eccentrics will be required. The intermediate and low pressure cylinders will be operated by slide valves. The boat will be propelled by a Trout propeller wheel 12 feet 4 inches in diameter and 16 feet pitch. This wheel is in sections, so that if a blade breaks it can be unshipped and another put in. The engine will turn 100 revolutions per minute, and is expected to develop 2,000 horse power. Steam will be generated by Scotch boilers 12 feet long and 13 feet 4 inches in diameter. There will also be a hoisting engine on the boat which will be used for loading and unloading freight, and will ensure great convenience and dispatch, as four hatchways can be operated on at the same time by means of a continuous overhead shaft.

She will be commanded by Capt. Edward Robertson, formerly of the United Empire; engineer, Jas. H. Brown; purser, S. R. Junkin; steward, Geo. E. Morrison; first mate, P. Telfer; second mate, John Morrell.

No Land on Which the Sun Shines

Possesses greater natural advantages than our own, but there are portions of the great grain-bearing west and fertile south where atmospheric influences prejudicial to health militate against them, in some degree, as places of residence. Heavy rainfalls and the overflow of great rivers, which upon their subsidence leave dank vegetation exposed to the rays of the sun, there beget malarial fevers, and there also the inhabitants are periodically obliged to use some medicinal safeguard against the scourge. The most popular is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a preventive that has for over a third of a century afforded a reliable protection to those whom experience in the futility of ordinary remedies for fever and ague has taught to substitute for them. Whether intermittent or remittent, miasmatic fevers are conquered and averted by the superb anti-periodic and fortifying medicine as they are by no other preparation in use. Use it and abandon impure local bitters.

CROSLEY PARK.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THIS SPLENDID ADDITION.

One year ago there was nothing at Lester Park but the depot and the Fish Hatchery. Crosley Park was not platted and all that section beyond London was almost wholly unimproved. Today Lester Park is nicely built up and hundreds of the best people of Duluth have built homes there. Within one year it has become one of the most fashionable and popular residence places at the head of the lake. Within that time streets have been opened and graded, sidewalks built and now water, sewers and electric lights are to be put in, so that people living at London, Lester Park and Crosley Park can have all the advantages of the city. In all these matters Crosley Park will keep step with the adjoining additions and already many good houses are being built. The advantage this addition has is that the property is cheap and lies beautifully. From nearly every lot in the subdivision you get a charming view of the lake and there are neither hills, ravines nor rocks to mar it. It is the cheapest purely residence suburban property about Duluth, and in the near future will become some of the most valuable. Then the charm of it is that you can buy on the easy payment plan----one-tenth down and the balance one per cent a week till paid WITHOUT interest. It is better than a savings bank, as it is ten times as profitable. The most liberal inducement will be offered to those who wish to build. For further information call on

INDIANAPOLIS, July 12.—The wheat harvest throughout southern Indiana has been completed and in a few sections threshing has been begun. Throughout the northern half of the state the reaper has just began its work, and in that section, too, the yield will be considerably better than was expected. Other crops all over the state never were more promising than now, and the farmers are consequently in excellent spirits.

A False Report.

"I want to say," said W. B. Wells, agent for Frederick Prentice, this afternoon, "that the rumor regarding an alleged dishonest act of Frederick Prentice in regard to hiring Julius Austrian to keep out of the way of possible jury call in the present case was an outrage. The article is false on the face of it, for Julius Austrian, from whom this information is said to be derived, was at the trial in St. Paul and was not even called as a witness. I have called Mr. Prentice's attention to the rumor, and what course he will pursue I will know next week."

Will Try to Do the Work

A Chamber of Commerce committee this morning met Maj. Quinn and had a conference with him regarding the Rices and Conners Point channel, which the chamber at its last meeting decided to try and have dredged. As it now is, vessels are obliged, in running from the elevators to the Minneapolis docks, to go around Minnesota Point, a distance of fourteen miles, in order to reach a point only 1400 feet away. As there are no government funds upon which to draw for this work, the chamber will attempt to make the improvement, assisted by West Superior and Superior.

Praise From Sir Hubert.

A more agreeable journey through diversified and attractive scenery than that which can be made by one of the two daily vestibuled fast trains of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, between Chicago and Washington. Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York would be hard to find. The Baltimore & Ohio railroad of today is a vastly different institution from that which it was a few years ago. The antiquated locomotives and cars which then constituted its equipment have given place to rolling stock of the latest and best patterns and the through trains, vestibuled from engine to rear sleeper and including dining cars and Pullman cars of the most modern and luxurious character, compare favorably with those of any in the world. The sleeping cars especially built for these trains a few months ago have some admirable improvements. The elegant simplicity of the interior decorations is in marked contrast to the louder ornamentation which not long ago was considered the height of art in such places. The wood is of mahogany with little carved or raised work, but brought down to the highest finish, carefully selected for fine grain and texture, and showing highly artistic cabinet work which the eye does not tire of admiring. The improvement in the locomotive equipment is equally remarkable. In order to climb the Alleghanies, from whose heights the passenger enjoys views of sublimity and beauty which he never forgets, heavy grades and numerous curves were necessary in constructing the road and until recently it required the help of extra engines to get a train to the summit. Now when the foot of the mountain is reached, instead of two or more engines being called into service there is attached to the train a single engine weighing 67 tons, having six coupled drivers and cylinders 19x26 inches in size, and this powerful machine takes the heavy train up the long stretches of grades, reaching as high as 118 feet to the mile, at a lively pace. The daylight ride over the mountains, especially in the time of verdure, shows a wonderfully attractive panorama in which grandeur and beauty are constantly mingled, and indeed the entire journey between Washington and Chicago proves the propriety of calling this road "Picturesque B. & O."—Railway Age.

The Chalice of King Death Held to the Lips of Minnesotians.

Nearly 200 at Lake City and St. Paul Killed by Cyclone.

LAKE CITY, Minn., July 14.—What will probably prove to be the most disastrous cyclone that has ever struck this community passed over this city last evening, inflicting the loss of life of 100 people.

A little before dark a terrific wind struck the place. Windows were closed instantly and none too soon, for trees and houses were fast being demolished in its path. In half an hour the worst of the hurricane had passed.

People began to gather on the streets and in a few moments it was learned that the excursion boat Sea Wing with over 200 people was capsized in Lake Pepin. The boat was from Diamond Bluff, seventeen miles north of here, on an excursion to the encampment of the First regiment. The steamboat started back on the homeward trip about 7 o'clock. About 150 men, women and children from Red Wing and Diamond Bluff were on board and about fifty were on a barge attached to the side of the steamer. When about opposite Lake City the boat began to feel the effects of the storm, but the officers kept on the way.

Last night at 8 o'clock the Sea Wing was riding the placid waters of Lake Pepin, having on board 200 happy, merry souls, who were enjoying an outing and seeking to escape the heat of the burning July day.

An hour later the lake was the plaything of a tornado.

The steamer lay at the mercy of wind and wave. The hand of man was powerless before the mighty, merciless wrath of nature. In a few minutes the steamer was overturned and of the 200 excursionists on the steamer and scow, only a few reached the shore alive. The pall of night added to the horrors of the catastrophe and the cries of men and women whose loved ones were carried down to death made the shores of Lake Pepin an inferno of woe and suffering.

The day was happily spent, and at 8 p. m. the boat started on the return trip. There were then signs of an approaching storm, but they were not considered serious enough to warrant delay in starting. There were about 150 people on board the boat, while a scow attached to the side of the steamer carried about fifty more. As the boat reached Lake City the effects of the rising tempest began to be felt, but the officers of the boat were not alarmed, and the Sea Wing moved steadily on to her fate, the doomed passengers even then not realizing their peril.

Fifteen minutes later the storm was at its height. The Sea Wing was now near Central point, two miles above Lake City. She struck a sandbar and the high waves came clashing over the boat. The barge luckily drifted toward the shore, and it is thought that all on board were rescued.

Nearing Central park, about two miles above Lake City, the waves were washing over the decks, and the boat ran onto a bar. The barge was cut loose and the steamer set adrift in the lake. A number of those on the barge jumped and swam ashore. A moment later the steamer capsized and its 150 people were in the water. Those on the barge remained there until they were drifted nearer the shore, and they were all rescued or swam ashore.

The boat was overturned by the combined resistless wave and a sudden, mighty blast of wind. She turned completely over, carrying the greater number of her passengers beneath the water. About 25, however, were thrown clear from the boat and most of these were able to return to the craft and climbed upon her bottom, where they shrieked lustily for help. Ever and anon a fitful flash of lightning revealed the tossing surface of the lake, dotted here and there with the vainly struggling forms of the doomed passengers. But the majority, held fast beneath the boat, never came to the surface alive.

The news of the disaster was quickly carried to Lake City, and soon the pier was crowded with people willing to do or die in behalf of the wrecked excursionits. But before help could be sent to the boat the craft again overturned and the twenty-five people, who had gained temporary safety by clinging to its bottom, were again precipitated into the water. Soon after the storm began to die away.

It was presumed that the boat Ethel, a steamer at the wharf would at once proceed to the rescue of the drowning, but when asked, Capt. Howard replied that he was not going to run his boat away from the shore until the indications of another approaching storm had disappeared. Citizens were most severe in their denunciation of the position he assumed. Many talked of taking the boat away from him by force, but there were not enough to put the plan into execution. A dozen or more row boats were manned and put out from the shore. The upturned boat was at last discovered, the twenty or more remaining people clinging to the boat were rescued and brought to the shore.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Nearly Seventy Bodies Already Brought to Red Wing; Only Half Found.

Fifty-two bodies of those drowned in Lake Pepin last night arrived in this city at about six o'clock this morning and by nine o'clock 62 bodies had been recovered.

The whole town was in mourning, not a face was seen on the street, and at the docks, that was not shadowed with thought of the horrible scene awaiting them. Immediately upon the arrival of the steamer bearing them the bodies were carried to the respective homes of the deceased persons.

The following is a list of those that were brought to Redwing this morning: John Heffier, wife and two children; Peter Gevlen, wife and five children; Mrs. Blaker, and two children; Mrs. Hemfebling and three children; Mrs. Schuetberg and daughter; Minnie Fisher; Marie Skoglund; Katie Daly; Mrs. F. Sherf and daughter; Fred Christ; Annie Steiger; Francis Steiger, George Nelson, John Bahrns and wife, Charles Dinstage, Fred Severs and daughter, Tom Larson, Addie Wing and sister, H. Redlus and two children; Fred Hattemeyer, Mamie Adams, Henry Stiffney, Katie Burkhardt, A. O. Anderson, Eddie Christofer son, Herman Hipper, Will Hipper, George Harris, Mrs. Nellie Woehrn and son, Milly Niles, Bierson Filoy, Cardy Johnson, Floy Smith, Merty Moro, Ira Fulton, Miss Hempling, Chas. Hempling, Fred Hempling, Miss Way, Charles Dinslage, Henry Steffinson, Annie Steeger, Francis Steeger, Minnie Fisher.

Unidentified bodies to the number of sixty-two have been recovered, and the work of rescue is being pushed by parties of the military boys, who are en camped up the river.

Among those who were rescued from the barge were: Hendrick Nelson, Sherman Ward; W. J. Eisenbrand, Dr. George Eisenbrand, C. D. Jacobi, George Hawkins, W. W. DeKay, George Gardeck, A. M. Nelson, Charles T. Trolson, Miss Aggie Petrom and another lady, Eddy Martinson, William Ploss, C. D. Sultzur, E. D. Morris and John Nelson.

The following were saved from the ill-fated steamer: Capt. D. Wetheren, captain of the steamer; John Quelly, George Cook, H. J. Herder, A. R. Chellstrom, R. Dunnham, O. Oleson, A. M. Olson, Chas. Frutman, Miss Aggie Bartron, Axel Nelson, John Nelson, Ernest Axelson, L. S. Bayrell.

In Lake City the damage to property by the cyclone is great, although no fatalities have been reported. Collins Bros.' saw and planing mill is totally demolished. The roof of the opera house, owned by Mr. Hanisch, was carried away and the stores underneath more or less damaged by the rain and hail.

At 1:30 the bodies of a woman and child, to which ropes had been attached, were drawn from the water. The child was the daughter of John Winters of Red Wing. Fred Seivers, blacksmith, taken out a few minutes later. That makes a total of sixty-five bodies already found, or probably about half the total number drowned.

Corporal B. T. Perry of a St. Paul company saw the wreck early last night and at once hastened to the shore to render such assistance as was possible. Finding a man standing near a boat on the shore he asked to be taken out into the storm to the overturning boat. Being refused he threatened to kill unless his orders were obeyed, and with the help of his unwilling assistant he saved the lives of fifteen or sixteen women.

Adjutant General Mallen says the man has earned a commission.

From early morning a patrol of row boats was kept up all over the neighborhood of the wreck looking for bodies, several were found in that way last night, and a small boy was found floating and yelling, three miles down the lake from the scene of disaster. Battery A. of St. Paul, kept up a cannonading during the day trying to raise bodies, but without success.

AT WHITE BEAR.

Killed and Injured by the Dreadful Storm Near White Bear.

ST. PAUL July 14,—The storm that swept the lake front north of St. Paul, was the forerunner of the one at Lake City. It occurred about 5:30 o'clock, first gathering in the vicinity of Snail Lake, several miles to the northwest of Lake Gervais, about eight miles north of St. Paul. From there it passed to a southeasterly direction for a distance of four or five miles. Kohlmans Hotel was turned into a hospital. The guests at the hotel and neighboring farmers vied with each other in their efforts to alleviate suffering, though almost stunned by the thought of how nearly they themselves had escaped instant death. Doctors and conveyances came from St. Paul and anxious friends and relations flocked to the place in large numbers. The cottage of Mr. Howson, near the hotel, was used as an annex to the hotel hospital. The scene among the wounded there last was pitiful in the extreme. Mrs. Phaelle, wife of the dead Texas clergyman, lay upon a cot almost crazed with grief, pleading with all who approached her for information regarding her husband's fate. Mrs Miller, wife of the assistant cashier of the First National bank, was also hysterically calling for her husband, whose dead body was not far away. She was removed to St. Paul late in the evening, and was not apprised of her husband's death.

J. H. Schurmeier, who escaped from his ill-fated cottage to be the first to bring the sad news to St. Paul, was reported to be in a critical condition this afternoon.

The death dealing storm originated at a point four miles directly north of here and moved northeasterly toward White Bear. The storm center was at Kohlman's lake, at the large stock farm of James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern railway. The cottages of Messrs. Schurmeier and Good, on Lake Gervais, were totally destroyed by the cyclone and five were killed and ten injured.

Following are the killed: Mrs. J. H. Schurmeier, Charles Schurmeier, Rev. Mr. Phaelle of Brennan, Texas; George Miller of the First National bank of this city, Schurmeier's driver, name unknown.

The injured are: J. H. Schurmeier, scalp wounds; Charlie Good, serious injury to scalp; Mrs. Phaelle, shoulder broken; Thomas Barnard, not serious; Mrs. George Miller, slightly injured on head; Miss Carrie Weiss, slightly injured on head; Clark Hausen, bruised hip; R. Good, three scalp wounds and an injury to the spine; Mr. Genter and Miss Minne Weiss.

Simon Good, head and chest badly bruised, hands mangled; Mrs. Simon Good, face and arms cut; Swan Peterson, servant in Good family, badly injured; Hub C. Schurmerer, cut about the head and bruised, now unconscious; Mrs. Hub C. Schurmeier, injured about the body and one eye ruined; may die; Mrs. Hastings and daughter Stella visiting Mr. and Mrs. Good, severely injured about body and eyes; Miss Gussie King, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Good, general bruises; Female servant of J. H. Schurmeier, seriously injured about head and eyes; Female servant of H. C. Schurmeier slightly injured; Mrs. Fred Geetzke, scalp wound; C. M. Mullancin, both legs and arms broken; Mrs. C. M. Mulancin and the children all slightly injured.

The funnel of the cyclone was photographed from the top of a hotel in Minneapolis by F. A. Hogle during the time it was wreaking distruction at Kohlmans lake, and an excellent negative obtained.

Ten Lives Lost.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., July 14.—The Gosport accommodation train on the Monon collided with a freight train at Smithville, eighty-four miles north of this city, this morning. Ten lives were lost. There are no telegraph facilities at Smithville, and consequently no details as yet.

OF COURSE HE LOSES.

Prentice Loses His Case in the Great Suit Against Duluth.

Will Attempted Intimidation Go to any Greater Extent?

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 14—[Special to The Herald.]—The famous Prentice case was decided this morning in favor of the Northern Pacific road and against claimant Prentice.

Justice Miller held, in an extended review of the case, that the only basis of proof of the location of lands in the portion of the Prentice-Armstrong deed, prescribing metes and bounds to the tract, must be the starting point.

A basis of the decision was that the interest that Armstrong conveyed to Prentice was not his floating interest under the treaty, but only his interest in a specific tract of land which did not include the land in this controversy.

This places three-fifths of a mile square on dry land and two-fifths covered by Lake Superior, and hence does not include the land owned by the Northern Pacific road, or any part of Third division. This was the point in the case, and was fought by the Duluth lawyers and bitterly opposed by the Prentice attorneys.

The case will be taken to the supreme court, just where it was once before decided against Mr. Prentice, in the case of Prentice against O. P. Stearns, and where no other result can be looked for now, as no new evidence is in hand.

The plaintiff's case here was presented, say all lawyers and jurists conversant with the matter, in a better manner than ever before, and exhaustive and able review by Justice Miller is looked upon here as practically forever settling the claims of Prentice to an ownership of part of Duluth. If such lawyers as Dillon, Elihu Root and others cannot carry the case, the supreme court, which has already decided once adversely to Prentice, it is practically impossible that any favorable report may ever be given Prentice.

W. B. Welles, Duluth agent for the Prentice side, stated that it was agreed by stipulation that this should be a final case, if carried up to the supreme court, but that, now that several cases are made against him, he may defend himself on all. Prentice claims that he expected defeat in this case. The people who have paid Prentice $40,000 or $50,000 in settlement will now feel smaller than ever.

Mr. Billson's Dispatch.

The following telegram received this afternoon speaks for itself:

L. M. Wilcutts: Prentice case decided for defendants this afternoon upon the ground that it was the intention of Armstrong to convey to Prentice not his floating interest under the treaty, but only his interest in a specific tract of land which did not include that in controversy.

COLLISION AT SEA.

The Steamer Weser Runs Into the Bark Stratford.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The North German Lloyd steamer Weser, which arrived here today from Hamburg, reports an accident at sea which came near resulting in great loss of life. On Sunday they ran into a thick fog, and at the same time the thermometer told them that icebergs were in dangerous proximity. The captain ordered half speed. Subsequently they were slowed down to a quarter speed. The boats were looked to and everything done to secure safety.

The bell had scarcely struck noon when the cry of the outlook, "Ship dead ahead!" rang out, and the officer saw a large bark right on their bows. Before a hand could be raised to avert the disaster the two vessels crashed into one another, separated and closed in another deadly grip. The bark proved to be the Stratford, to London. Her bowsprit and jibboom were completely torn away, and the cutwater broken clean away. The steamer's damage consisted of bowsprit broken away, fore rails smashed in and the turtle deck stove to pieces. But that the steamer was running slow, the bark would have been cut in two.

Chicago's Welcome.

CHICAGO, July 14.—The general offices of the Northern Pacific Express company at 81 Dearborn street, recently moved here from St. Paul, were entered by masked robbers at 11 o'clock Saturday night. After covering two clerks who were in charge, with revolvers, the robbers secured between $8000 and $10,000 and made good their escape. The officials of the express company, including S. B. Cooper, say they know nothing whatever of the robbery.

MANY NARROW ESCAPES.

Pleasure Seekers at St. Paul Lakes are Hardly Saved.

ST. PAUL, July 14.—The escape of pleasure seekers from death last night were many and narrow in the extreme. At Camp Kelleher, on the north side of Lake Gervais, were Capt. Kelleher and family, R. L. Gorman, wife and daughter. Dr. Routh, wife, child and nurse, Attorney F. G. B. Woodruff and wife and Miss Ray of Youngstown, Ohio. They at once deserted the tents for a cottage and escaped. Mr. Woodruff, who stayed behind to fasten his tent down, was thrown against a tree and injured. His experience he never wants again.

While anchored to the tree a window shutter from a cottage on the other side of the lake struck near him.

A party consisting of J. W. Terrell, Miss Valdee, F. T. Potts, Miss Gleeon, J. F. Burke. Miss Wheeler, John Bruggeman and wife, all of St. Paul, was encamped on the southwest shore of Lake Gervais, not far from the Schurmeier cottage. An attempt was made to hold the tent down but that was soon abandoned and the party fled to an overhanging bank for shelter. A horse and buggy where they had been a moment before, were blown clear out into the lake.

A POSSIBLE PICNIC.

Next Meeting of World's Fair Directors a Stormy One.

CHICAGO, July 14.—The members of the board of directors met again today with the committee of the city council on wharves and public grounds to originate immediate action on the ordinances granting the right to use the Lake Front park for the purposes of the World's fair. At the last meeting of the national commission positive statements were made by Vice-President Bryan and Director Ford Peck to the effect that it was intended only to use the lake front as a gateway to the fair proper, and that the bulk of the exhibition, including the large buildings, would be located at Jackson Park. It was only upon these representations that the commission was finally induced to accept the dual site.

Now, however, that the members of the commission have been scattered to the four quarters of the country, it is given out by the directorate that the two gentlemen in question spoke without authority; that it is intended to extend the Lake Front Park into the lake and use it as a location of the main portion of the exposition, and that only the cattle and other exhibits will be located at Jackson Park.

Meanwhile the local opposition to the lake front is as strong as ever, and people who have had experience in previous expositions declare with emphasis that no substantial structure can be erected with safety upon ground made hurriedly out in the lake; that the drawing on an average of a quarter of a million a day to the center of the city would congest the business of Chicago, and that the aggregation of so great a body of people in so contracted a space would result in daily death and disaster.

The election as secretary of Hon. Ben Butterworth, which, it is claimed, was accomplished through partisan influences, has also created considerable feeling, and between one thing and another the enterprise is making decidedly slow and unsatisfactory progress.

A BIG EVENT.

Odd Fellows Hold a Monster Meeting in Chicago Next Month.

CHICAGO, July 14.—The largest gathering of Odd Fellows that the world has ever seen will take place here next month. It will be the triennial meeting of the Grand Lodge and the grand triennial cantonment of Patriarchs Militant of the I. O. O. F. The city council has granted permission for the temporary erection on the lake front of an amphitheatre with a frontage of fifteen thousand feet and which will be large enough to hold an audience of 30,000 people.

Over 15,000 Patriarchs in uniform and 50,000 Odd-Fellows proper have already decided to take part in the event and the probabilities are that this number will be largely increased during the next few weeks. The prizes to be offered for the drills aggregate $27,000. The great parade fixed for Thursday August 7th is expected to be of a character never equaled in the country. There are 425,000 Odd-Fellows within 15 hours ride of Chicago alone, and it is expected that feeling of Western pride will induce fully one half of these to turn out for the occasion.

THE CENSUS AGAIN.

Industrial Feature of the Census Still to be Taken.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—In a few days canvassers will begin the work of collecting manufacturing statistics from industrial establishments of about 1000 manufacturing centers throughout the country. This portion of the census was in all rural districts in the hands of the population enumerators, who have already finished their work, and the field which the new canvassers will have to cover is curtailed in still another way.

Data concerning any branch of manufacturing such as iron and steel, glass, chemicals and textiles, which is in the hands of a special agent, will be collected by that agent, and the canvassers will receive instructions to steer clear of all such establishments.

The officers of the census bureau expect to start most of the canvassers this week and the balance by Aug. 1. The law sets no limit within which this special work must be completed, but the probability is that by Oct. 1 full data from all over the country will be in hand.

The questions which manufacturers in every section will be asked to answer concern the capital invested, the return upon it, the cost of raw material, number of employes, wages paid them and similar information. The law makes full provision for the work in the canvassers' hands with the establishing of a penalty as high as $10,000, with or without one year's imprisonment, for whoever refuses to give the information sought.

FOR BEAR OR EAGLE?

Is all This to Meet Russia or to Bully the United States?

OTTAWA, July 14.—It is learned that, as the result of the reports to the imperial war office and the admiralty by army and navy officers who have been in this country inspecting defensive works on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, the existing plans for strengthening the defenses will be considerably modified and added to in view of the increasing Russian armaments in the Pacific. These reports recommend a corresponding augmentation of British defensive works and naval force on the Pacific side.

The reports consider that this is urgently required. It would include enlarged coal depots for warships, storehouses, increased barrack accommodations, a dockyard, arsenal and works capable, under pressure, of building and repairing the largest classes of warships and manufacturing cannon, rifles and ammunition; and permanent torpedo flotilla, including at least six torpedoes of the largest and swiftest class.

It is understood that all these recommendations, except that for the construction of a permanent arsenal and dockyards, with machinery for building and manufacturing munitions of war, have been approved. Instructions have meantime been issued to enforce in a most rigid manner the new laws and regulations against information being divulged as to the works already in existence and the plans of those under consideration. Precautions have been taken such as were never known in Canada before.

IT IS A LAW.

TWO WILL PROBABLY DIE

A Bad Accident at the New Sixth Avenue West Viaduct.

Two Will Probably Not Live; Other Important News.

A very serious accident occurred this afternoon about 3 o'clock at the Sixth avenue west viaduct. What is known as the traveling crane or false wood work came down with a crash, carrying with it three workmen. Their names were J. M. Stearkweather, P. Foley and Pat Carron.

All of them are very seriously injure about the head and body, and Stearkweather and Cowan will probably die. The former is injured the most severely, probably internally. All were unconscious when they were picked up. They were taken to St. Mary's hospital and a number of surgeons summoned, but at four o'clock none of them had as yet regained consciousness.

John C. Fremont Dead.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Gen. John Charles Fremont died at his residence yesterday afternoon. His death was from an attack of peritonitis. Gen. Fremont was born Jan. 21, 1813, at Savannah. He was graduated at Charleston college, taught mathematics, became a government engineer in the West, was lieutenant of engineers, explored the Rocky mountain region and gained great fame by his penetration to the Pacific coast. He took a prominent part in the conquest of California, was elected as one of the first senators from that state, was the first republican candidate for president, served in the Union army as a msjor-general, was nominated for the presidency by the Cleveland convention in 1864, but declined, and has since taken no part in politics. His wife, formerly Jessie Benton, daughter of the famous Thomas Benton of Missouri, survives him.

TEAR UP EAU CLAIRE.

Salvationists are on Trial for Obstructing the City Streets.

EAU CLAIRE, July 14.—A jury of six leading citizens went out after midnight to decide whether five women and four men of the Salvation Army were guilty of violating a city ordinance in parading the streets. The ordinance provides against any performance tending to draw a crowd which blockades a street. The defense was that the parade was a religious advertisement intended only to draw a crowd at the army's barracks.

The jury reported a disagreement at 1:30 a. m. The trial, which lasted from morning until midnight Saturday, caused considerable excitement and was witnessed by a large crowd. Leading business men have taken up the army's cause and were present in court. The Salvationists had all been in jail since Tuesday night, but are out on parole pending a new trial.

English Retaliatory Demonstration.

LONDON, July 14.—Over 5000 people today participated in the mass meeting at Sheffield to protest against the McKinley bill. The meeting had been called by the mayor in response to a petition signed by over 2000 voters. Speeches were made declaring that in view of the fact that Great Britain opened her ports free to the cereals, manufactured products and foods of the United States, it was unjust and unfair that she should impose a practically prohibitory tariff upon goods from other countries. Resolutions were passed urging the government to take immediate action in the matter, and declaring that unless a reciprocal arrangement could be made, the government should retaliate by placing duties upon imports of every kind from the United States.

Appropriate Just Now.

LONDON, July 14.—The preliminary meetings of the National Peace and Arbitration association opened at the Cannon Street hotel today. Delegates are present from most of the European countries as well as the United States, among the latter being James Wood of New York, James H. Chace of Providence, Isaac Sharpless of Havorford college near Philadelphia and Benjamin Trueblood of Oskaloosa, Iowa. The object of the association is to establish international arbitration between all nations. David Dudley Field of New York, will make the preliminary address. A week from today the conference will be succeeded by that of the International Parliamentary association which has the same objects.

To Beat the Record.

NEWARK, N. J., July 14.—D. C. Burnard has been building a boat here which is expected to eclipse anything now afloat as to speed. She is 20 foot beam, 102 feet long and fitted with patent Ruble twin propellers, invented by M. R. Ruble of Ohio. She will be launched today and is expected to make thirty miles an hour. She will be used to run from Atlantic City in connection with the Pennsylvania railroad.

LOOK OUT.

The fearful storms which have just struck Lake Pepin and Lake Gervais, with such devastating and deadly effect, are rare in the region so far north of the cyclone belt covering the Ohio valley line. They are lurid signs of the abnormal atmospheric conditions prevailing along the great lakes this season. The extraordinary extent and sluggishness of what is known to meteorologists as the area of low pressure have been repeatedly noted of late, but the public generally has paid little heed to the ominous scientific observations, grumbling only at the uncommon discomfort of the early summer. And the warnings given by competent observers have not been as emphatic and timely as they should have been. With all the storm-breeding conditions apparent to the weather bureau, this national lookout should have doubled its vigilance, given anticipatory warnings and wired to the threatened points at the first signs of gathering danger. If sufficient provision is not made by appropriation for such service within the spreading limits of the cyclone belt, it should be made without any further delay, and the risk of such calamities as have just horrified the nation averted so far as skilled foresight and observation avail as safeguards.

And these shocking disasters warn all lake resorts also to keep a close watch at all times on weather changes, and to observe warning barometers far more carefully than is now attempted. Some local storms may gather and break so quickly that there is no time to prepare for safety, but proper watchfulness would no doubt ward off many of the disasters which fall so blackly upon the bright holiday life of the summer. To this national and private foresight and precaution too should be joined stricter and better enforced limitations of the carrying allowance of the present lake excursion boats, and proper inspection and guarantee of their construction and condition. If a weak and top-heavy boat is overloaded and storm-struck at the same time, it is no wonder that she capsizes and goes to the bottom with all on board. Some of the boats that are allowed to offer themselves to unwary pleasure seekers are wretched cockle shells, wabbling under a stack of top-hamper, and likely to prove death traps in any sharp squall for all who trust their lives to them. Guard the lakes and weed out the worst lake boats.

THE LAST CALL.

Regatta week is now close upon us and every preparation has been made by the energetic and devoted committees of the association to make it a banner week for the head of the lakes. The entries, both professional and amateur, are first class and in number and character the program of events will be a strong drawing card every day of the week. So much has been liberally given and so much public-spirited effort has been put forth to make the coming regatta the event of the sporting year and a cap of world-wide credit to the head of the lakes, that complete success is practically assured if all directly interested in this success now do their part to ensure it.

Careful estimates show that nearly $17,000 will be needed to cover the total expenses of the association for the week. Of this amount $14,000 is in hand or can be safely counted on, leaving $3000 to be made up. It is not fair to those who have already contributed liberally to look to them to strain their generosity further, and it is only common fairness that all who will have the profit and the pleasure of the week should contribute their share toward its necessary expenses. With a few signal exceptions that should be a spur to the backward, the saloon-keepers of the city have done little or nothing for the success of an enterprise that will count so much for them in the outside custom drawn in during the week to the head of the lakes. This is the more surprising because they are not usually slow to see their own advantage or stingy in meeting any fair call upon them to share expenses as well profits. The Herald believes that they will see the fairness of this call in time and will do their part to fill the regatta hat when it is passed to them, as it should be, by a stirring committee. Not singling out any other instance of backwardness The Herald would simply call in general upon all who have been slow in contributing now to recognize the present need that all should do something, however little, for the aid of the association and the credit of the head of the lakes to make up the deficit.

The call of the roads centering here for extra cars and their instructions to agents show how large a crowd of visitors they are counting upon handling, and many thousands will undoubtedly come in from all points during the week. All keepers of boarding houses and all who are willing to accommodate guests during the week are earnestly requested to communicate with the association or the working manager, W. H. Robertson, at The Spalding, and state how many they are prepared to receive and what accommodations can be offered. For the credit of the head of the lakes, everyone should be willing to help in caring for the comfort of the guests who will be drawn here by the widely-advertised regatta, in whose success the whole head of the lakes is concerned. For blame for any shortcomings as well as praise for desert will inevitably now touch the head of the lakes as a whole.

Gautier de St. Croix, whose letter to The Herald appears in this issue, has been making a careful personal survey of the Minnesota and Dakota wheat field, and reports a very favorable showing in all parts of the field, with the promise of a crop ranging from sixteen to twenty-five bushels to the acre. If this prospect is realized the Northwest will have a year of such prosperity as will offset more than one bad season, and the healthy boom of business and investment of all kinds at this distributing point will be beyond all previous record.

The total foreign value of our imports of iron and steel in the first five months of 1890, excluding iron ore, and including machinery, cutlery, firearms, and similar articles, the weight of which is not given in official figures, was $16,822,821, against $18,293,950 in the first five months of 1889. Of this tin plate imports decreased 34,000 tons or to 114,600 tons, steel plates and blooms from 53,000 to 13,000 tons, steel rails from 6000 to 150 tons and other articles likewise. Iron ore imports, however, increased from 294,000 to 624,000 tons, this being caused by shipments to the furnaces of the Pennsylvania Steel company and others from their own mines in Cuba.

The attorney-general of the new state of Washington has filed an opinion holding that "the right of way of the Northern Pacific, together with all superstructure of every kind erected thereon, is legitimate subject of state taxation and should be so assessed and taxed." In its grant of land to the Northern Pacific congress declared that "the right of way shall be exempt from taxation within the territories of the United States," but the state attorney thinks that this was not intended to apply to states. This claim of Washington is of very grave importance to the Northern Pacific, as it would not only apply to the lines through that great state, but also to those through Idaho, Montana and Dakota. It is hardly probable that such a construction of the act can be borne out at law.

SEEN AND HEARD.

"We'll have a club next year, me boy," says Jay Anderson, the irrepressible sport and over jolly Jay. "You may depend on it, we'll have a club." And we all hope we will sure enough. I haven't seen a good ball game for several years and I want the fun again. But, after all, the question whether sports are in danger of being overcome by the veteran racing men and yachtsmen are seriously considering. There can be no question in the mind of any close observer but that base ball is at present suffering from too much enthusiasm last year, and there are firm grounds for the belief that the recent extraordinary increase in the popularity of racing may also have a reactive effect. The new Monmouth race course is the most magnificent track in the world. Nothing approaches it in size or importance in England or elsewhere in the world. Racegoers find the tracks far in advance both of the attendance and importance of the races. Of course base ball is too, and hardly any of the clubs are going to make anything this year. Then pugilism is badly knocked out. Aquatic sports are about the only one that hold their own.

The physician, whose remarks in the Seen and Heard column of Saturday have been so widely commented on by Duluth people, and so generally believed to be sound doctrine, favors me with another free prescription. He says: "American naval officers who have adopted the cholera belt in the tropics find it so beneficial that they often retain it in all latitudes. It is simply a broad band of flannel, worn night and day the year, tight round about the waist, so as to protect the stomach from sudden changes of temperature. Those who wear the contrivance insist that it is an admirable promoter of digestion, and thousands regard it as well nigh an absolute preventive of stomachic disorders. Any person of sensitive abdominal nerves must recall the shock to the stomach that follows emergence from the dining-room even into air of moderately low temperature. The cholera belt protects one from this sensation."

He was a fat man, and he mopped his beet-colored face with a large handkerchief. It was at the hottest part of yesterday afternoon and the fat man had halted at a lemonade stand. He looked ready to drop because of the heat. He drank one glass of ice-cold lemonade and then a second. "Gimme 'nother," said the fat man as he put down another nickel. He drank the glass. "Gimme 'nother," he said again. It took still another glass of ice-cold liquid before this man's thirst seemed to be appeased. Then he walked away. "He'll drop before he walks five rods," said a bystander. Everybody looked to see the fat man drop, but he did not, but kept right on with a firm pace.

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

General Manager Ettenger: It is a big work to start up the car works and if we get all departments working nicely by the 1st of September I shall be satisfied. Work will begin in August.

Elevator builder for the Imperial mill: I have been building elevators in the South, New Orleans and other places, and for several years I have not seen such an oppressive day as Saturday.

Mayor Davis: I see one of the papers makes the assertion that there are more brothels and more drunkenness in Duluth at present than ever before, and that the 11 o'clock law is being openly violated. There have, however, been no complaints to this effect. If complaints are filed we will try and trace the matter up and see if the laws are being violated.

ADVICE AND GUESSES.

Mankato Journal: We have heard it said that the Alliance State convention, July 16, will nominate Gov. Merriam. We doubt if any one really seriously believes this.

Bird Island Union: Mark our prediction: The Farmers' Alliance do not put a full state ticket in the field this fall.

Renville Union: It would be too bad if after all the assistance rendered by Gov. Merriam in organizing the Farmers' Alliances in the state, and his harmony with their pronounced convictions on the great question of tariff, etc., their state convention should nominate some other man for governor!

Houston Valley Signal: The Farmers' Alliance are hunting around for a man to head their ticket for governor; a man who will accept the honor and make the run. If the farmers will only hang together and vote as they think they have the power to revolutionize the politics of this state, and place one of their own number in the executive chair

ABOUT WOMEN.

Women have recently been admitted into Greenwich observatory and four have joined the staff of the astronomer royal. Their duties will require attendance at all hours of the night.

The summer corps of New York physicians, fifty in number this year, will be assisted by the King's daughters, who have undertaken to follow in their track. Last year these doctors visited 264,520 families in 34,511 tenements and found 16,148 sick persons to prescribe for. They also distributed health-instructing circulars and tickets for free excursions.

The little Princess Elizabeth of Austria, the daughter of the late crown prince, can't take outings with her mother, Princess Stephanie, because, by the will of her father she must always remain in the immediate neighborhood and under the eye of her grandfather, the emperor.

Princess Victoria, the Empress Frederick's youngest and favorite daughter, is rather pretty, having a nice figure, blue eyes and fair hair. She has always been fond of an out-door life, and enjoys exercise in any form. She is an indefatigable walker, an accomplished rider and lawn tennis player, and can drive four-in-hand in a masterly style. Her betrothed, Prince Adolph of Schaumberg-Lippe, is a handsome and intresting young soldier. The young lady's dowry amounts to $1,250,000.

Modest Marquette.

Marquette Journal: Marquette does not claim to be the handsomest, best built, best lighted and governed and probably wealthiest city in the upper peninsula, and that her people average highest in education and culture. In the matter of population she wants her just dues and no more.

Duluth is Sat On.

Minneapolis Tribune: The Duluth republicans have pronounced against Merriam. This, however, was expected, and cannot be regarded as a severe damper upon the governor's aspirations.

No Significance, Eh?

Northwestern Miller: The Lake Superior Elevator company of Duluth, has lately completed the purchase of a controlling interest in the Northern Pacific Elevator company and the Red River Valley Elevator company of Minneapolis, and the elevators of these companies will hereafter be operated as feeders to the Lake Superior company's terminal houses at Duluth. The Northern Pacific company has 120 houses along the Northern Pacific road, and the Red River Valley company about forty in the Red River valley. The sale is of no special significance.

Expect Big Things of Us.

Railroad Record: And if things go on in this way for the next ten years, the census of 1900 will not only show Philadelphia to be third, but she will be fifth or sixth place, being surpassed by both Brooklyn and the Twin cities of Minnesota, with Tacoma and Duluth following close behind. Must we forever plod along in the old ways?

No Land on Which the Sun Shines

Possesses greater natural advantages than our own, but there are portions of the great grain-bearing west and fertile south where atmospheric influences prejudicial to health militate against them, in some degree, as places of residence. Heavy rainfalls and the overflow of great rivers, which upon their subsidence leave dank vegetation exposed to the rays of the sun, there beget malarial fevers, and there also the inhabitants are periodically obliged to use some medicinal safeguard against the scourge. The most popular is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a preventive that has for over a third of a century afforded a reliable protection to those whom experience in the futility of ordinary remedies for fever and ague has taught to substitute for them. Whether intermittent or remittent, miasmatic fevers are conquered and averted by the superb anti-periodic and fortifying medicine as they are by no other preparation in use. Use it and abandon impure local bitters.

CROSLEY PARK.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THIS SPLENDID ADDITION.

One year ago there was nothing at Lester Park but the depot and the Fish Hatchery. Crosley Park was not platted and all that section beyond London was almost wholly unimproved. Today Lester Park is nicely built up and hundreds of the best people of Duluth have built homes there. Within one year it has become one of the most fashionable and popular residence places at the head of the lake. Within that time streets have been opened and graded, sidewalks built and now water, sewers and electric lights are to be put in, so that people living at London, Lester Park and Crosley Park can have all the advantages of the city. In all these matters Crosley Park will keep step with the adjoining additions and already many good houses are being built. The advantage this addition has is that the property is cheap and lies beautifully. From nearly every lot in the subdivision you get a charming view of the lake and there are neither hills, ravines nor rocks to mar it. It is the cheapest purely residence suburban property about Duluth, and in the near future will become some of the most valuable. Then the charm of it is that you can buy on the easy payment plan---one-tenth down and the balance one per cent a week till paid WITHOUT interest. It is better than a savings bank, as it is ten times as profitable. The most liberal inducement will be offered to those who wish to build. For further information call on

Bicycles for the Boys.

This advertisement is for the boys---and the girls as well---of Duluth, and any one of them who doesn't read it, and act on it too, will lose a good vacation chance.

Now to business, without any wait, for it's too near the Summer to wait long for anything now. The Herald has made arrangements with Crawford Bros., sporting goods dealers of 205 West Superior street, so that it can furnish any boy or girl in Duluth, who actually wants it, a good safety bicycle. All it will cost you will be a little work, and the work you can do in two or three days probably

Bicycles for the Girls.

As to the bicycles, they are good substantial machines, what are known as "Youths' Machines," and cost $35 at any of the stores. You can't get them for less. We are going to let you have a pick of three styles, a boy's safety, a girl's safety, and a boy's with the big front wheel. They are just such bicycles as are in regular and steady use here and everywhere else every day. We want to say right here that Crawford Bros. will tell you all about them, just what they are and how good they are. And they'll do more, they agree to make good any damage that comes to the machines the first year, except that brought on by careless or wrong usage.

At the Herald office on Lake avenue you can learn just how many subscribers you will have to get to secure one of these good machines. The number is a good many less than you'd think. Come and see, now.

LOOK OUT.

The fearful storms which have just struck Lake Pepin and Lake Gervais, with such devastating and deadly effect, are rare in the region so far north of the cyclone belt covering the Ohio valley line. They are lurid signs of the abnormal atmospheric conditions prevailing along the great lakes this season. The extraordinary extent and sluggishness of what is known to meteorologists as the area of low pressure have been repeatedly noted of late, but the public generally has paid little heed to the ominous scientific observations, grumbling only at the uncommon discomfort of the early summer. And the warnings given by competent observers have not been as emphatic and timely as they should have been. With all the storm-breeding conditions apparent to the weather bureau, this national lookout should have doubled its vigilance, given anticipatory warnings and wired to the threatened points at the first signs of gathering danger. If sufficient provision is not made by appropriation for such service within the spreading limits of the cyclone belt, it should be made without any further delay, and the risk of such calamities as have just horrified the nation averted so far as skilled foresight and observation avail as safeguards.

And these shocking disasters warn all lake resorts also to keep a close watch at all times on weather changes, and to observe warning barometers far more carefully than is now attempted. Some local storms may gather and break so quickly that there is no time to prepare for safety, but proper watchfulness would no doubt ward off many of the disasters which fall so blackly upon the bright holiday life of the summer. To this national and private foresight and precaution too should be joined stricter and better enforced limitations of the carrying allowance of the present lake excursion boats, and proper inspection and guarantee of their construction and condition. If a weak and top-heavy boat is overloaded and storm-struck at the same time, it is no wonder that she capsizes and goes to the bottom with all on board. Some of the boats that are allowed to offer themselves to unwary pleasure seekers are wretched cockle shells, wabbling under a stack of top-hamper, and likely to prove death traps in any sharp squall for all who trust their lives to them. Guard the lakes and weed out the worst lake boats.

THE LAST CALL.

Regatta week is now close upon us and every preparation has been made by the energetic and devoted committees of the association to make it a banner week for the head of the lakes. The entries, both professional and amateur, are first class and in number and character the program of events will be a strong drawing card every day of the week. So much has been liberally given and so much public-spirited effort has been put forth to make the coming regatta the event of the sporting year and a cap of world-wide credit to the head of the lakes, that complete success is practically assured if all directly interested in this success now do their part to ensure it.

Careful estimates show that nearly $17,000 will be needed to cover the total expenses of the association for the week. Of this amount $14,000 is in hand or can be safely counted on, leaving $3000 to be made up. It is not fair to those who have already contributed liberally to look to them to strain their generosity further, and it is only common fairness that all who will have the profit and the pleasure of the week should contribute their share toward its necessary expenses. With a few signal exceptions that should be a spur to the backward, the saloon-keepers of the city have done little or nothing for the success of an enterprise that will count so much for them in the outside custom drawn in during the week to the head of the lakes. This is the more surprising because they are not usually slow to see their own advantage or stingy in meeting any fair call upon them to share expenses as well profits. The Herald believes that they will see the fairness of this call in time and will do their part to fill the regatta hat when it is passed to them, as it should be, by a stirring committee. Not singling out any other instance of backwardness The Herald would simply call in general upon all who have been slow in contributing now to recognize the present need that all should do something, however little, for the aid of the association and the credit of the head of the lakes to make up the deficit.

The call of the roads centering here for extra cars and their instructions to agents show how large a crowd of visitors they are counting upon handling, and many thousands will undoubtedly come in from all points during the week. All keepers of boarding houses and all who are willing to accommodate guests during the week are earnestly requested to communicate with the association or the working manager, W. H. Robertson, at The Spalding, and state how many they are prepared to receive and what accommodations can be offered. For the credit of the head of the lakes, everyone should be willing to help in caring for the comfort of the guests who will be drawn here by the widely-advertised regatta, in whose success the whole head of the lakes is concerned. For blame for any shortcomings as well as praise for desert will inevitably now touch the head of the lakes as a whole.

Gautier de St. Croix, whose letter to The Herald appears in this issue, has been making a careful personal survey of the Minnesota and Dakota wheat field, and reports a very favorable showing in all parts of the field, with the promise of a crop ranging from sixteen to twenty-five bushels to the acre. If this prospect is realized the Northwest will have a year of such prosperity as will offset more than one bad season, and the healthy boom of business and investment of all kinds at this distributing point will be beyond all previous record.

The total foreign value of our imports of iron and steel in the first five months of 1890, excluding iron ore, and including machinery, cutlery, firearms, and similar articles, the weight of which is not given in official figures, was $16,822,821, against $18,203,950 in the first five months of 1889. Of this tin plate imports decreased 34,000 tons or to 114,600 tons, steel plates and blooms from 53,000 to 13,000 tons, steel rails from 6000 to 150 tons and other articles likewise. Iron ore imports, however, increased from 294,000 to 624,000 tons, this being caused by shipments to the furnaces of the Pennsylvania Steel company and others from their own mines in Cuba.

The attorney-general of the new state of Washington has filed an opinion holding that "the right of way of the Northern Pacific, together with all superstructure of every kind erected thereon, is legitimate subject of state taxation and should be so assessed and taxed." In its grant of land to the Northern Pacific congress declared that "the right of way shall be exempt from taxation within the territories of the United States," but the state attorney thinks that this was not intended to apply to states. This claim of Washington is of very grave importance to the Northern Pacific, as it would not only apply to the lines through that great state, but also to those through Idaho, Montana and Dakota. It is hardly probable that such a construction of the act can be borne out at law.

SEEN AND HEARD.

"We'll have a club next year, me boy," says Jay Anderson, the irrepressible sport and ever jolly Jay. "You may depend on it, we'll have a club." And we all hope we will sure enough. I haven't seen a good ball game for several years and I want the fun again. But, after all, the question whether sports are in danger of being overdone is one that veteran racing men and yachtsmen are seriously considering. There can be no question in the mind of any close observer but that base ball is at present suffering from too much enthusiasm last year, and there are firm grounds for the belief that the recent extraordinary increase in the popularity of racing may also have a reactive effect. The new Monmouth race course is the most magnificent track in the world. Nothing approaches it in size or importance in England or elsewhere in the world. Racegoers find the tracks far in advance both of the attendance and importance of the races. Of course base ball is too, and hardly any of the clubs are going to make anything this year. Then pugilism is badly knocked out. Aquatic sports are about the only one that hold their own.

The physician, whose remarks in the Seen and Heard column of Saturday have been so widely commented on by Duluth people, and so generally believed to be sound doctrine, favors me with another free prescription. He says: "American naval officers who have adopted the cholera belt in the tropics find it so beneficial that they often retain it in all latitudes. It is simply a broad band of flannel, worn night and day the year, tight round about the waist, so as to protect the stomach from sudden changes of temperature. Those who wear the contrivance insist that it is an admirable promoter of digestion, and thousands regard it as well nigh an absolute preventive of stomachic disorders. Any person of sensitive abdominal nerves must recall the shock to the stomach that follows emergence from the dining-room even into air of moderately low temperature. The cholera belt protects one from this sensation."

Now that fashion has claimed for its own the black straw hat, the black necktie, the black kerchief and the black negligee shirt, perhaps the next step will be the application of burnt cork to the skin.

He was a fat man, and he mopped his beet-colored face with a large handkerchief. It was at the hottest part of yesterday afternoon and the fat man had halted at a lemonade stand. He looked ready to drop because of the heat. He drank one glass of ice-cold lemonade and then a second. "Gimme 'nother," said the fat man as he put down another nickel. He drank the glass. "Gimme 'nother," he said again. It took still another glass of ice-cold liquid before this man's thirst seemed to be appeased. Then he walked away. "He'll drop before he walks five rods," said a bystander. Everybody looked to see the fat man drop, but he did not, but kept right on with a firm pace.

IN LOBBY AND CORRIDOR.

Landlord Cullyford opened the St. Louis cafe today and a large number sampled the initial meal. The menu card contains all the delicacies of the season, and the place is assured a good patronage from the start.

What with carmen and opera folk the summer's gaiety has begun. Already the hotels are making arrangements for next week's enormous crowd, and halls and all vacant floors and rooms, be their ordinary use what it may, will be used for sleeping quarters. Of summer opera the repertoire includes eleven operas, among them "Nadjy," "Queen's Lace Handkerchief," Amorita," "Black Hussar," "Olivette," "Mascotte" and "Erminie." The season will last three weeks.

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

General Manager Ettenger: It is a big work to start up the car works and if we get all departments working nicely by the 1st of September I shall be satisfied. Work will begin in August.

Elevator builder for the Imperial mill: I have been building elevators in the South, New Orleans and other places, and for several years I have not seen such an oppressive day as Saturday.

Mayor Davis: I see one of the papers makes the assertion that there are more brothels and more drunkenness in Duluth at present than ever before, and that the 11 o'clock law is being openly violated. There have, however, been no complaints to this effect. If complaints are filed we will try and trace the matter up and see if the laws are being violated.

ADVICE AND GUESSES.

Mankato Journal: We have heard it said that the Alliance State convention, July 16, will nominate Gov. Merriam. We doubt if any one really seriously believes this.

Bird Island Union: Mark our prediction: The Farmers' Alliance do not put a full state ticket in the field this fall

Renville Union: It would be too bad if after all the assistance rendered by Gov. Merriam in organizing the Farmers' Alliances in the state, and his harmony with their pronounced convictions on the great question of tariff, etc., their state convention should nominate some other man for governor!

Houston Valley Signal: The Farmers' Alliance are hunting around for a man to head their ticket for governor; a man who will accept the honor and make the run. If the farmers will only hang together and vote as they think they have the power to revolutionize the politics of this state, and place one of their own number in the executive chair

ABOUT WOMEN.

Women have recently been admitted into Greenwich observatory and four have joined the staff of the astronomer royal. Their duties will require attendance at all hours of the night.

The summer corps of New York physicians, fifty in number this year, will be assisted by the King's daughters, who have undertaken to follow in their track. Last year these doctors visited 264,520 families in 34,511 tenements and found 16,148 sick persons to prescribe for. They also distributed health-instructing circulars and tickets for free excursions.

Mrs. Garfield lately sold a farm near Prestonberg, Ky., to speculators for $7,000, which General Garfield bought during the early days of the war for less than $700.

The little Princess Elizabeth of Austria, the daughter of the late crown prince, can't take outings with her mother, Princess Stephanie, because, by the will of her father she must always remain in the immediate neighborhood and under the eye of her grandfather, the emperor.

Princess Victoria, the Empress Frederick's youngest and favorite daughter, is rather pretty, having a nice figure, blue eyes and fair hair. She has always been fond of an out-door life, and enjoys exercise in any form. She is an indefatigable walker, an accomplished rider and lawn tennis player, and can drive four-in-hand in a masterly style. Her betrothed, Prince Adolph of Schaumberg-Lippe, is a handsome and intresting young soldier. The young lady's dowry amounts to $1,250,000.

Modest Marquette.

Marquette Journal: Marquette does not claim to be the handsomest, best built, best lighted and governed and probably wealthiest city in the upper peninsula, and that her people average highest in education and culture. In the matter of population she wants her just dues and no more.

Duluth Is Sat On.

Minneapolis Tribune: The Duluth republicans have pronounced against Merriam. This, however, was expected, and cannot be regarded as a severe damper upon the governor's aspirations.

No Significance, Eh?

Northwestern Miller: The Lake Superior Elevator company of Duluth, has lately completed the purchase of a controlling interest in the Northern Pacific Elevator company and the Red River Valley Elevator company of Minneapolis, and the elevators of these companies will hereafter be operated as feeders to the Lake Superior company's terminal houses at Duluth. The Northern Pacific company has 120 houses along the Northern Pacific road, and the Red River Valley company about forty in the Red River valley. The sale is of no special significance.

Expect Big Things of Us.

Railroad Record: And if things go on in this way for the next ten years, the census of 1900 will not only show Philadelphia to be third, but she will be fifth or sixth place, being surpassed by both Brooklyn and the Twin cities of Minnesota, with Tacoma and Duluth following close behind. Must we forever plod along in the old ways?

No Land on Which the Sun Shines

Possesses greater natural advantages than our own, but there are portions of the great grain-bearing west and fertile south where atmospheric influences prejudicial to health militate against them, in some degree, as places of residence. Heavy rainfalls and the overflow of great rivers, which upon their subsidence leave dank vegetation exposed to the rays of the sun, there beget malarial fevers, and there also the inhabitants are periodically obliged to use some medicinal safeguard against the scourge. The most popular is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a preventive that has for over a third of a century afforded a reliable protection to those whom experience in the futility of ordinary remedies for fever and ague has taught to substitute for them. Whether intermittent or remittent, miasmatic fevers are conquered and averted by the superb anti-periodic and fortifying medicine as they are by no other preparation in use. Use it and abandon impure local bitters.

CROSLEY PARK.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THIS SPLENDID ADDITION.

One year ago there was nothing at Lester Park but the depot and the Fish Hatchery. Crosley Park was not platted and all that section beyond London was almost wholly unimproved. Today Lester Park is nicely built up and hundreds of the best people of Duluth have built homes there. Within one year it has become one of the most fashionable and popular residence places at the head of the lake. Within that time streets have been opened and graded, sidewalks built and now water, sewers and electric lights are to be put in, so that people living at London, Lester Park and Crosley Park can have all the advantages of the city. In all these matters Crosley Park will keep step with the adjoining additions and already many good houses are being built. The advantage this addition has is that the property is cheap and lies beautifully. From nearly every lot in the subdivision you get a charming view of the lake and there are neither hills, ravines nor rocks to mar it. It is the cheapest purely residence suburban property about Duluth, and in the near future will become some of the most valuable. Then the charm of it is that you can buy on the easy payment plan---one-tenth down and the balance one per cent a week till paid WITHOUT interest. It is better than a savings bank, as it is ten times as profitable. The most liberal inducement will be offered to those who wish to build. For further information call on

Bicycles for the Boys.

This advertisement is for the boys---and the girls as well---of Duluth, and any one of them who doesn't read it, and act on it too, will lose a good vacation chance.

Now to business, without any wait, for it's too near the Summer to wait long for anything now. The Herald has made arrangements with Crawford Bros., sporting goods dealers of 205 West Superior street, so that it can furnish any boy or girl in Duluth, who actually wants it, a good safety bicycle. All it will cost you will be a little work, and the work you can do in two or three days probably

Bicycles for the Girls.

As to the bicycles, they are good substantial machines, what are known as "Youths' Machines," and cost $35 at any of the stores. You can't get them for less. We are going to let you have a pick of three styles, a boy's safety, a girl's safety, and a boy's with the big front wheel. They are just such bicycles as are in regular and steady use here and everywhere else every day. We want to say right here that Crawford Bros. will tell you all about them, just what they are and how good they are. And they'll do more, they agree to make good any damage that comes to the machines the first year, except that brought on by careless or wrong usage.

At the Herald office on Lake avenue you can learn just how many subscribers you will have to get to secure one of these good machines. The number is a good many less than you'd think. Come and see, now.

LOOK OUT.

The fearful storms which have just struck Lake Pepin and Lake Gervais, with such devastating and deadly effect, are rare in the region so far north of the cyclone belt covering the Ohio valley line. They are lurid signs of the abnormal atmospheric conditions prevailing along the great lakes this season. The extraordinary extent and sluggishness of what is known to meteorologists as the area of low pressure have been repeatedly noted of late, but the public generally has paid little heed to the ominous scientific observations, grumbling only at the uncommon discomfort of the early summer. And the warnings given by competent observers have not been as emphatic and timely as they should have been. With all the storm-breeding conditions apparent to the weather bureau, this national lookout should have doubled its vigilance, given anticipatory warnings and wired to the threatened points at the first signs of gathering danger. If sufficient provision is not made by appropriation for such service within the spreading limits of the cyclone belt, it should be made without any further delay, and the risk of such calamities as have just horrified the nation averted so far as skilled foresight and observation avail as safeguards.

And these shocking disasters warn all lake resorts also to keep a close watch at all times on weather changes, and to observe warning barometers far more carefully than is now attempted. Some local storms may gather and break so quickly that there is no time to prepare for safety, but proper watchfulness would no doubt ward off many of the disasters which fall so blackly upon the bright holiday life of the summer. To this national and private foresight and precaution too should be joined stricter and better enforced limitations of the carrying allowance of the present lake excursion boats, and proper inspection and guarantee of their construction and condition. If a weak and top-heavy boat is overloaded and storm-struck at the same time, it is no wonder that she capsizes and goes to the bottom with all on board. Some of the boats that are allowed to offer themselves to unwary pleasure seekers are wretched cockle shells, wabbling under a stack of top-hamper, and likely to prove death traps in any sharp squall for all who trust their lives to them. Guard the lakes and weed out the worst lake boats.

THE LAST CALL.

Regatta week is now close upon us and every preparation has been made by the energetic and devoted committees of the association to make it a banner week for the head of the lakes. The entries, both professional and amateur, are first class and in number and character the program of events will be a strong drawing card every day of the week. So much has been liberally given and so much public-spirited effort has been put forth to make the coming regatta the event of the sporting year and a cap of world-wide credit to the head of the lakes, that complete success is practically assured if all directly interested in this success now do their part to ensure it.

Careful estimates show that nearly $17,000 will be needed to cover the total expenses of the association for the week. Of this amount $14,000 is in hand or can be safely counted on, leaving $3000 to be made up. It is not fair to those who have already contributed liberally to look to them to strain their generosity further, and it is only common fairness that all who will have the profit and the pleasure of the week should contribute their share toward its necessary expenses. With a few signal exceptions that should be a spur to the backward, the saloon-keepers of the city have done little or nothing for the success of an enterprise that will count so much for them in the outside custom drawn in during the week to the head of the lakes. This is the more surprising because they are not usually slow to see their own advantage or stingy in meeting any fair call upon them to share expenses as well profits. The Herald believes that they will see the fairness of this call in time and will do their part to fill the regatta hat when it is passed to them, as it should be, by a stirring committee. Not singling out any other instance of backwardness The Herald would simply call in general upon all who have been slow in contributing now to recognize the present need that all should do something, however little, for the aid of the association and the credit of the head of the lakes to make up the deficit.

The call of the roads centering here for extra cars and their instructions to agents show how large a crowd of visitors they are counting upon handling, and many thousands will undoubtedly come in from all points during the week. All keepers of boarding houses and all who are willing to accommodate guests during the week are earnestly requested to communicate with the association or the working manager, W. H. Robertson, at The Spalding, and state how many they are prepared to receive and what accommodations can be offered. For the credit of the head of the lakes, everyone should be willing to help in caring for the comfort of the guests who will be drawn here by the widely-advertised regatta, in whose success the whole head of the lakes is concerned. For blame for any shortcomings as well as praise for desert will inevitably now touch the head of the lakes as a whole.

Gautier de St. Croix, whose letter to The Herald appears in this issue, has been making a careful personal survey of the Minnesota and Dakota wheat field, and reports a very favorable showing in all parts of the field, with the promise of a crop ranging from sixteen to twenty-five bushels to the acre. If this prospect is realized the Northwest will have a year of such prosperity as will offset more than one bad season, and the healthy boom of business and investment of all kinds at this distributing point will be beyond all previous record.

The total foreign value of our imports of iron and steel in the first five months of 1890, excluding iron ore, and including machinery, cutlery, firearms, and similar articles, the weight of which is not given in official figures, was $16,822,821, against $18,203,950 in the first five months of 1889. Of this tin plate imports decreased 34,000 tons or to 114,600 tons, steel plates and blooms from 53,000 to 13,000 tons, steel rails from 6000 to 150 tons and other articles likewise. Iron ore imports, however, increased from 294,000 to 624,000 tons, this being caused by shipments to the furnaces of the Pennsylvania Steel company and others from their own mines in Cuba.

The attorney-general of the new state of Washington has filed an opinion holding that "the right of way of the Northern Pacific, together with all superstructure of every kind erected thereon, is legitimate subject of state taxation and should be so assessed and taxed." In its grant of land to the Northern Pacific congress declared that "the right of way shall be exempt from taxation within the territories of the United States," but the state attorney thinks that this was not intended to apply to states. This claim of Washington is of very grave importance to the Northern Pacific, as it would not only apply to the lines through that great state, but also to those through Idaho, Montana and Dakota. It is hardly probable that such a construction of the act can be borne out at law.

SEEN AND HEARD.

"We'll have a club next year, me boy," says Jay Anderson, the irrepressible sport and ever jolly Jay. "You may depend on it, we'll have a club." And we all hope we will sure enough. I haven't seen a good ball game for several years and I want the fun again. But, after all, the question whether sports are in danger of being overdone is one that veteran racing men and yachtsmen are seriously considering. There can be no question in the mind of any close observer but that base ball is at present suffering from too much enthusiasm last year, and there are firm grounds for the belief that the recent extraordinary increase in the popularity of racing may also have a reactive effect. The new Monmouth race course is the most magnificent track in the world. Nothing approaches it in size or importance in England or elsewhere in the world. Racegoers find the tracks far in advance both of the attendance and importance of the races. Of course base ball is too, and hardly any of the clubs are going to make anything this year. Then pugilism is badly knocked out. Aquatic sports are about the only one that hold their own.

The physician, whose remarks in the Seen and Heard column of Saturday have been so widely commented on by Duluth people, and so generally believed to be sound doctrine, favors me with another free prescription. He says: "American naval officers who have adopted the cholera belt in the tropics find it so beneficial that they often retain it in all latitudes. It is simply a broad band of flannel, worn night and day the year, tight round about the waist, so as to protect the stomach from sudden changes of temperature. Those who wear the contrivance insist that it is an admirable promoter of digestion, and thousands regard it as well nigh an absolute preventive of stomachic disorders. Any person of sensitive abdominal nerves must recall the shock to the stomach that follows emergence from the dining-room even into air of moderately low temperature. The cholera belt protects one from this sensation."

Now that fashion has claimed for its own the black straw hat, the black necktie, the black kerchief and the black negligé shirt, perhaps the next step will be the application of burnt cork to the skin.

He was a fat man, and he mopped his beet-colored face with a large handkerchief. It was at the hottest part of yesterday afternoon and the fat man had halted at a lemonade stand. He looked ready to drop because of the heat. He drank one glass of ice-cold lemonade and then a second. "Gimme 'nother," said the fat man as he put down another nickel. He drank the glass. "Gimme 'nother," he said again. It took still another glass of ice-cold liquid before this man's thirst seemed to be appeased. Then he walked away. "He'll drop before he walks five rods," said a bystander. Everybody looked to see the fat man drop, but he did not, but kept right on with a firm pace.

IN LOBBY AND CORRIDOR.

Landlord Cullyford opened the St. Louis cafe today and a large number sampled the initial meal. The menu card contains all the delicacies of the season, and the place is assured a good patronage from the start.

What with oarsmen and opera folk the summer's gaiety has begun. Already the hotels are making arrangements for next week's enormous crowd, and halls and all vacant floors and rooms, be their ordinary use what it may, will be used for sleeping quarters. Of summer opera the repertoire includes eleven operas, among them "Nadjy," "Queen's Lace Handkerchief," Amorita," "Black Hussar," "Olivette," "Mascotte" and "Erminie." The season will last three weeks.

Eighteen Houses Contracted for

General Manager Ettenger: It is a big work to start up the car works and if we get all departments working nicely by the 1st of September I shall be satisfied. Work will begin in August.

Elevator builder for the Imperial mill: I have been building elevators in the South, New Orleans and other places, and for several years I have not seen such an oppressive day as Saturday.

Mayor Davis: I see one of the papers makes the assertion that there are more brothels and more drunkenness in Duluth at present than ever before, and that the 11 o'clock law is being openly violated. There have, however, been no complaints to this effect. If complaints are filed we will try and trace the matter up and see if the laws are being violated.

ADVICE AND GUESSES.

Mankato Journal: We have heard it said that the Alliance State convention, July 16, will nominate Gov. Merriam. We doubt if any one really seriously believes this.

Bird Island Union: Mark our prediction: The Farmers' Alliance do not put a full state ticket in the field this fall

Renville Union: It would be too bad if after all the assistance rendered by Gov. Merriam in organizing the Farmers' Alliances in the state, and his harmony with their pronounced convictions on the great question of tariff, etc., their state convention should nominate some other man for governor!

Houston Valley Signal: The Farmers' Alliance are hunting around for a man to head their ticket for governor; a man who will accept the honor and make the run. If the farmers will only hang together and vote as they think they have the power to revolutionize the politics of this state, and place one of their own number in the executive chair

ABOUT WOMEN.

Women have recently been admitted into Greenwich observatory and four have joined the staff of the astronomer royal. Their duties will require attendance at all hours of the night.

The summer corps of New York physicians, fifty in number this year, will be assisted by the King's daughters, who have undertaken to follow in their track. Last year these doctors visited 264,520 families in 34,511 tenements and found 16,148 sick persons to prescribe for. They also distributed health-instructing circulars and tickets for free excursions.

Mrs. Garfield lately sold a farm near Prestonberg, Ky., to speculators for $7,000, which General Garfield bought during the early days of the war for less than $700.

The little Princess Elizabeth of Austria, the daughter of the late crown prince, can't take outings with her mother, Princess Stephanie, because, by the will of her father she must always remain in the immediate neighborhood and under the eye of her grandfather, the emperor.

Princess Victoria, the Empress Frederick's youngest and favorite daughter, is rather pretty, having a nice figure, blue eyes and fair hair. She has always been fond of an out-door life, and enjoys exercise in any form. She is an indefatigable walker, an accomplished rider and lawn tennis player, and can drive four-in-hand in a masterly style. Her betrothed, Prince Adolph of Schaumberg-Lippe, is a handsome and intresting young soldier. The young lady's dowry amounts to $1,250,000.

Modest Marquette.

Marquette Journal: Marquette does not claim to be the handsomest, best built, best lighted and governed and probably wealthiest city in the upper peninsula, and that her people average highest in education and culture. In the matter of population she wants her just dues and no more.

Duluth is Sat On.

Minneapolis Tribune: The Duluth republicans have pronounced against Merriam. This, however, was expected, and cannot be regarded as a severe damper upon the governor's aspirations.

No Significance, Eh?

Northwestern Miller: The Lake Superior Elevator company of Duluth, has lately completed the purchase of a controlling interest in the Northern Pacific Elevator company and the Red River Valley Elevator company of Minneapolis, and the elevators of these companies will hereafter be operated as feeders to the Lake Superior company's terminal houses at Duluth. The Northern Pacific company has 120 houses along the Northern Pacific road, and the Red River Valley company about forty in the Red River valley. The sale is of no special significance.

Expect Big Things of Us.

Railroad Record: And if things go on in this way for the next ten years, the census of 1900 will not only show Philadelphia to be third, but she will be fifth or sixth place, being surpassed by both Brooklyn and the Twin cities of Minnesota, with Tacoma and Duluth following close behind. Must we forever plod along in the old ways?

No Land on Which the Sun Shines

Possesses greater natural advantages than our own, but there are portions of the great grain-bearing west and fertile south where atmospheric influences prejudicial to health militate against them, in some degree, as places of residence. Heavy rainfalls and the overflow of great rivers, which upon their subsidence leave dank vegetation exposed to the rays of the sun, there beget malarial fevers, and there also the inhabitants are periodically obliged to use some medicinal safeguard against the scourge. The most popular is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a preventive that has for over a third of a century afforded a reliable protection to those whom experience in the futility of ordinary remedies for fever and ague has taught to substitute for them. Whether intermittent or remittent, miasmatic fevers are conquered and averted by the superb anti-periodic and fortifying medicine as they are by no other preparation in use. Use it and abandon impure local bitters.

CROSLEY PARK.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THIS SPLENDID ADDITION.

One year ago there was nothing at Lester Park but the depot and the Fish Hatchery. Crosley Park was not platted and all that section beyond London was almost wholly unimproved. Today Lester Park is nicely built up and hundreds of the best people of Duluth have built homes there. Within one year it has become one of the most fashionable and popular residence places at the head of the lake. Within that time streets have been opened and graded, sidewalks built and now water, sewers and electric lights are to be put in, so that people living at London, Lester Park and Crosley Park can have all the advantages of the city. In all these matters Crosley Park will keep step with the adjoining additions and already many good houses are being built. The advantage this addition has is that the property is cheap and lies beautifully. From nearly every lot in the subdivision you get a charming view of the lake and there are neither hills, ravines nor rocks to mar it. It is the cheapest purely residence suburban property about Duluth, and in the near future will become some of the most valuable. Then the charm of it is that you can buy on the easy payment plan---one-tenth down and the balance one per cent a week till paid WITHOUT interest. It is better than a savings bank, as it is ten times as profitable. The most liberal inducement will be offered to those who wish to build. For further information call on SPECIFICS.

This advertisement is for the boys---and the girls as well---of Duluth, and any one of them who doesn't read it, and act on it too, will lose a good vacation chance.

Now to business, without any wait, for it's too near the Summer to wait long for anything now. The Herald has made arrangements with Crawford Bros., sporting goods dealers of 205 West Superior street, so that it can furnish any boy or girl in Duluth, who actually wants it, a good safety bicycle. All it will cost you will be a little work, and the work you can do in two or three days probably

Bicycles for the Girls.

As to the bicycles, they are good substantial machines, what are known as "Youths' Machines," and cost $35 at any of the stores. You can't get them for less. We are going to let you have a pick of three styles, a boy's safety, a girl's safety, and a boy's with the big front wheel. They are just such bicycles as are in regular and steady use here and everywhere else every day. We want to say right here that Crawford Bros. will tell you all about them, just what they are and how good they are. And they'll do more, they agree to make good any damage that comes to the machines the first year, except that brought on by careless or wrong usage.

At the Herald office on Lake avenue you can learn just how many subscribers you will have to get to secure one of these good machines. The number is a good many less than you'd think. Come and see, now.

SELL 4 PER CENT BONDS

The Park Board Sells its Authorized Bonds at 4 Per Cent.

Senators Retire From South Shore; Honoring a Resident.

After a deal of figuring and letter writing the issue of $300,000 park improvement bonds of the city of Duluth have been sold at a rate much bettter than has ever before been obtained for Duluth bonds. The best rate ever had heretofore was 4½ per cent, the bonds bringing such a premium as to equal a sale at 4 1-16, this, however, not being called equal, in financial circles, to the same rate at par. The city has but little leverage to work on in this sale of bonds, for it could sell bonds "the annual interest on which should not exceed $12,000." Four per cent bonds were aimed at and were finally secured, the sale being made to a very large New York banking house.

Of these bonds, only $50,000 will be issued this year, and these have already been signed. The rest will not be issued till next year. These bonds are to be used solely for the purpose of purchasing lands needed.

It is a remarkably creditable matter to sell Duluth bonds at 4 per cent, and great credit is due the park board and the city for doing it. In connection with this sale the last issue of county bonds may well be contrasted. The county has but little over $100,000 of bonded debt and a valuation of considerably over 30,000,000. It was unable to sell 4 per cent bonds a few months ago, and was forced to content itself with 4½. Had the same ability and acumen been used by Commissioner Jefferson, who had most to do with this bond sale, as by the sellers of these park bonds, the county could easily have got par offers for its 4 per cents.

SENATORIAL OFFICERS.

Senators McMillan and Brice Retire From Office on the South Shore Road.

Senator McMillan is about to dispense with the luxury of a private car. In other words, he has given notice that he will not accept a re-election as president of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railroad at the annual meeting to be held on July 17. When he was elected to the senate last year he sought to retire from the presidency of the road, but was not able to get so speedy a release from an enterprise with which he had been connected since its inception. He now finds that his duties as senator make it impossible for him, in justice either to the road or to himself, to continue to act as president and conduct the business from Washington. He will also retire from the presidency of the Marquette, Houghton & Ontonagon, of the Marquette & Western, and of the Sault Ste. Marie International Bridge company, all of which are kindred to the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic.

Mr. McMillan, together with his partner, ex-Congressman Newberry, Francis Palms and J. H. Hammond, undertook the enterprise of building a road across the upper peninsula of Michigan. Before the work was completed the three latter gentlemen died, leaving on Mr. McMillan's shoulders the task of carrying out the project. This he did, and the road is now in good shape. It is understood that Senator-elect Calvin S. Brice will retire from the vice-presidency of the road at the coming election.

IRON ORE.

Few Sales, Little Life; Docks Overcrowded and Sales Agents Appeal.

There seems to be a dearth of news or life in iron circles. The Iron Trade Review says that "as far as transactions are concerned, the market appears to be in a dormant condition, owing to the confidence of the sellers, who have good reason for expecting the sale of all their productions at their own figures, as well as on account of the peculiar condition of many of the furnaces, the owners of which do not know what course to pursue. Contrary to expectations the furnaces are still running, and yet it is well known that in many instances there remains but two or three weeks' supply of ore. There has been no perceptible improvement on the part of the railways in the forwarding of ore from the lower lake ports, and as far as Cleveland is concerned, the situation is worse. Freights remain dull as to ore, but the coal rates show a decided advance, which may materialize any day."

A notice to consumers of ore has been sent out by fifteen of the leading sales agents calling on them to rush ore forward to furnaces from the lower lake docks so that in "the present emergency each consumer may immediately increase shipping orders to the fullest extent that the impending demoralization of the trade for this year may be averted."

IS HIGHLY HONORED.

An Old Bay City Resident Who Comes to Duluth to Reside.

The Herald has noted the intended location in Duluth of Mr. Henry M. Bradley of Bay City. He is father of H. M. and E. L. Bradly of this city and comes to devote himself to iron interests, the Bradleys having bought several valuable Vermilion properties. Today Mr. Bradley and family arrived in Duluth.

Their departure from Bay City was greatly regretted, and at the conference of the Madison avenue Methodist church last week the following resolutions were adopted: Whereas, the conference has learned with deep regret that Henry Martin Bradley is about to move with his family to Duluth; and as he is the oldest living member of this conference, having held an official relation of about thirty-six years, filling all the offices of trustee, steward, Sunday school superintendent, teacher, class leader, treasurer and sexton, and as in all these years he has been the most loyal, staunch and unwavering friend of the church, and for loyalty and fidelity he has set an example that is worthy of our closest imitation—and in the giving of money, time and influence he was most lavish and free beyond any of his brethren, and the present standing of the Madison avenue church is due in no small degree to H. M. Bradley and his wife and family;

Resolved, That this conference loses a tried friend, a valued member, an able leader, a faithful steward and teacher. His loss we cannot soon make up, and causes most sincere regret. We will cherish his memory and good works, and will endeavor to imitate his fidelity and faithfulness. We tender to them our sincere regret at their departure and our best wishes and God-speed for their welfare and happiness in their new home, that these preambles and resolutions be spread on the minutes of the quarterly conference and a copy be sent to Brother Bradley.

FROM WEST DULUTH.

A Suicide Found; the Storm Damage; Notes of News.

The council held a meeting Saturday. Estimates were presented on work on Second avenue west by Zimmerman & Moore for $1080, allowed. Extra work on Grand avenue was allowed. The Iron Bay company asked that three hydrants be placed near their works. E. W. McCormick resigned as constable. Accepted. It was resolved that assessments be made for improvements. It was recommended that the fill taken from the grading on Cliff avenue be sold to Mr. Harrington at ten cents per foot. The council then went into committee of the whole to locate hydrants.

The Storm.

Saturday night's storm did great damage. The commission house of Lyness and Fisher was taken from its foundation and damaged nearly beyond repair. The new livery stable of A. C. Smith was very badly damaged. The incline engine house is a total wreck and will have to be rebuilt. The furniture factory is but a mass of broken lumber, everything having been leveled to the foundation. A part of the iron roofing of the Iron Bay works was torn off. No one is injured.

Evanson Found.

The body found near Fond du Lac has been identified as that of O. P. Evanson, who disappeared last Thursday. Mr. Evanson formerly kept a grocery store on Michigan street and later on Second street south. He sold out and opened the National hotel on First avenue west. He was in the habit of going away from home and saying that his family would never see him again. He had for a long time been despondent through financial troubles. He had obtained $500 a few days ago on his house, but the money cannot be found. This rather injures the suicide theory. He leaves a wife and several children.

Real Estate Opinions.

L. L. Marble: We made several new deals and closed several old ones. While there is no boom, business has been very fair.

Gogin & Luther: None of our real estate was moved by the cyclone. The week in real estate was very satisfactory indeed.

G. J. Mallory: Real estate moved fairly well last week.

G. F. Danforth: I have had several applications for loans. This shows that considerable improvement is to be made. Prices in real estate hold up well.

S. G. Wightman: Did something as I always do, but there has been no boom.

Brophy & Rockwell: The real estate market last week was a very fair one.

Injured by Dynamite.

Eddie, the 11-year-old son of Gustav Huard, living at No. 19½ East Fourth street, was quite seriously injured yesterday afternoon by the explosion of a dynamite cartridge, which he is supposed to have found near the new high school building. He was badly injured about the head and chest, the fingers of one hand were bably burned and he was otherwise badly injured. Louis Pinnut, a West End boy, met with a similar accident, which resulted in the loss of several fingers and other injuries.

But We're all Right.

The terrible cyclone storm which visited the central part of the state yesterday was the general topic of conversation in the city today, and nearly every body remembered that he had noticed peculiar-looking clouds, which seemed to be moving in different directions yesterday afternoon about the time the storm occurred below. Very few were heard to brag about the freedom of Duluth from such disturbances, as it is impossible to tell just where the next will strike.

SOME MATTERS OF SPORT

The Boat Club's Annual Races; Professionals Now Here.

Central Chips in; More Cash Needed; the Crowd to Come.

One week from today the great regatta opens with thirty-six professional entries and 140 amateur, and with enough other attractions to make the event unparalleled in the history of aquatic sports. Hugh D. Wise, who rows four with Hanlan, Teemer and Hosmer, arrived Sunday. Teemer getting here Saturday afternoon in time for the Duluth Boat club regatta. All four men are in fair condition, Hanlan weighing 162 pounds, Wise 166, Hosmer 142 and Teemer 166. Gaudaur's boat comes this morning. It was built in Boston, and weighs just 40 pounds.

Good for the Wisconsin Central road! In a letter dated July 11, Passenger Agent Eckstein writes the association that he is directed to say that "we will contribute 10 per cent of our earnings on such regatta business as we may do. We are thoroughly advertising the regatta."

The St. Paul boat club enters the following for the amateur events: Junior four, N. W. Smith, stroke; T. Lovering, No. 3; J. F. Flannagan, No. 2; C. A. Settingill, bow. Senior, single, O. M. Nelson.

William D. Hoard, Governor of Wisconsin, sends his regrets at being unable to attend the regatta. "Engagements of official character, greatly to my regret, will prevent."

The crowd attending the regatta will number not less than 25,000. What is to be done with it is a question that now engages attention. There are any number of families that will take guests during the week. Will all such please make it a point to inform the association at once of their addresses, leaving the same either at The Herald office or The Spalding. This is an important matter and should be attended to at once. Leave your addresses at The Spalding or at The Herald office.

The regatta needs more money. An estimated list of expenses foots up to $16,336. It has on hand—including sums to be depended upon—$14,000. The sum of $2336.50 must be yet subscribed. There are hundreds of business men in the city able and willing to subscribe who cannot be reached by the subscription committees, and for their benefit the following will receive subscriptions: Jay W. Anderson, Boyce & Totman, The Spalding, St. Louis and Merchants, all newspaper offices and banks, Mendenhall & Hoopes, Temple Opera. From the saloons the association expected large contributions, but only two have given anything. This $2800 must be raised this week.

The Club Regetta.

Saturday night occurred the fourth regatta of the Duluth Boat club. Several thousand people saw it. The double races between H. D. Pearson, Ed Smith and L. J. Hopkins, C. J. Kershaw was rowed in 9 minutes 13 secone and 9 minutes 29 seconds, respectively. The second race was working boats and the entries were Edward Moores and George Crosby. The race was a pretty one, Crosby finally winning by a single length; time, 5 minutes 30 seconds. In the fours the crew made up of H. S. Mahon, D. Mahoney, F. Lewis, Ed Smith won in 7 minutes 34 seconds. After the race Hanlan and Hosmer gave an exhibition heat and near the close Teemer paddled out and came down the home stretch with them.

A Fife Yacht for the Lakes.

BUFFALO, Jully 14.—A most beautiful craft arrived here last night from the coast via the Erie canal. The boat was the cutter Yama, owned by Allen Ames of Oswego. She was designed by William Fife of Fairlie, Scotland, designer of the celebrated forty-footer Minerva. She is 50 feet in length over all, 36 feet on the water line, 9 feet 2 inches beam, and draws 9 feet of water, her greatest depth being at the rudder post. Her keel is a single piece of lead weighing 19,000 pounds. Her bow is long and sharp and her stern quite narrow. She will have an immense spread of sail and make a beautiful appearance. She is entered in all the Lake Yacht Racing Association races for this season in the forty-foot class, and may quite possibly be taken to Duluth to the big regatta here.

DID NOT ENTER.

Neither Divisions Nor Band Took Part in the Contests.

George T. Hughes returned last night from the Knights of Pythias encampment at Milwaukee. The knights did not come back together, but have been straggling back since last Wednesday. He reports that aside from the hot weather and some other inconveniences about getting enough to eat on account of the large crowd, the encampment proved a very enjoyable affair. None of the Duluth divisions entered the competitive drill because none of them had the twenty-nine men required in the rules. Walkers band made a very favorable impression and would probably have secured a prize had they entered the contest.

The parade on Tuesday was a grand display, there having been fully 7,000 men in line. A great many Knights who were in attendance at the Encampment did not go into the parade. If they had all taken part there would probably have been at least 10,000 Knights in line.

French Lecture.

Prof. E. Sicard of the summer school, will deliver a French lecture in the High school, room A. at 3 p. m. to-morrow, subject: "La tour Eiffel" All lovers of the French language are cordially invited.

We have found that with the large trade we are having and the fact of our sales being all cash and therefore no losses (unless we lose it after we get it) that we can handle our goods on a smaller margin than we first supposed. And this we have decided to do. This will enable you to secure a carriage, harness, whip or robe at prices far below any that have ever been made in the city before. And we rely upon increased sales to cover these low prices. Call and see the figures and you will be surprised. For instance, a fine "Studebaker" surrey only $160. An elegant phaeton with wing dash, line rail, lamps and fundess at $140. And other goods in proportion. The above applies to our whole stock including harness, sets, whips and robes.

BIBLES FOR THE YEAR.

The Annual Meeting of the County Society; Burdick's Lecture.

The annual union meeting of the American Bible society of St. Louis county was held last evening at the First Presbyterian church. After scriptural reading by Rev. McClelland and prayer by Rev. E. M. Noyes, the minutes of the last annual meeting were read and approved. The report of the treasurer, W. S. Woodbridge, showed an indebtedness of $60 for bibles purchased.

Rev. O. S. Presbrey of Washington, publisher of Public Opinion, made a brief address. He said: "We are often surprised that we love such a book as the Bible. People have been burned and tortured for having it in their possession, yet it still lives and brings joy to the world. No person who ever went to it for comfort, appealed in vain. Destroy the Bible and you must call back every Christian missionary. Take it out of the government and you destroy all law. The American Bible society is now seventy-three years old. It has distributed over 51,000,000 Bibles since its organization and has had it translated and printed in 300 languages. An average of two complete Bibles has been printed every minute since the organization of the society."

Rev. Joshua Evans, district superintendent, gave some interesting statistics. He said that 1800 families in St. Louis, Lake and Cook counties had been visited during the year 400 of whom had been found unsupplied. An effort will be made this year to supply every one of the 9,000,000 children in the United States with a Bible. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, J. D. Holmes; vice-president, A. W. Bradley; secretary, M. W. Lewis; treasurer, W. S. Woodbridge.

Opening His Campaign.

P. A. Burdick opened his second temperance campaign last evening at the Temple with a large audience. The speaker delivered one of his characteristic addresses, using a number of personal reminiscenses for illustration. He described the scenes at Wausaw, Wis., where the saloon keepers, gamblers and keepers of houses of ill fame secured the greater part of the earnings of the lumbermen. He thinks that Duluth was never in a better condition to carry on an aggressive campaign than at present. He will speak every evening this week at the First Methodist church.

Peculiar

Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Wheat Dull but Steady; No. 1 White Winter Wheat Arriving.

Interesting Letter on Crops From Crookston; Other Reports.

The market was dull and steady here today, there being no disposition to trade. Other markets were in about the same condition. Chicago opened firm, sold off on report of receipt of 177,000 bu of new wheat at St. Louis, but firmed up again on an unexpected decrease in the visible supply.

The receipt of favorable crop news from Dakota continues. The published reports of severe hail storms in that state are believed to be greatly exaggerated and have no effect on the local market. Nearly 12,000 bu of new No. 1 white winter wheat were received today, coming from the Spokane country. The market closed very dull, July ½ under and September ½ above the opening, August remaining unchanged. December wheat was neglected entirely.

MR. STE. CROIX WRITES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Thursday I drove from Casselton about fifteen miles south. The road passes through the Maple valley, reported to be inundated, but of which there is not the least evidence. Prospects in this neighborhood could not well be better, although the plant is a little backward. The heavy storm of last week has done considerable damage to buildings, but not the least to wheat except south of Durbee, where 2000 or 3000 acres are damaged by hail from three to five bushels per acre.

Several larger farmers, representing a total of about 30,000 acres, expressed their opinion that crop never looked better, and they estimate harvest to commence Aug. 15 and to yield sixteen to twenty bushels. Friday from Casselton to Valley City. Crops are full of promise and generally heading out in grand shape. At Valley City a general picnic of Barnes county farmers allowed me to interview at least fifty from all parts of the county. Not an unfavorable opinion was expressed. They report wheat well headed, and look for harvest to commence Aug. 5, and estimate a yield of eighteen to twenty bushels right through.

From Glyndon to Crookston good prospects are the rule. Yesterday in a drive of fourteen miles northwest of here I saw wheat fields that almost defy description, the promise being excellent for the heaviest possible crop. There was quite a large gathering of farmers at Fisher's Landing. The general opinion expressed was universally favorable; "never as good before," was the average. Estimates vary from twenty to twenty-five bushels. Appearances fully confirm this. Harvest is expected to commence the second week of August.

NOT THIS YEAR.

Nothing Could be Done to Help Superior out till Next Year.

Major Quinn today answered by letter the Chamber of Commerce's request for information regarding the completion of the Rice's Point channel. Major Quinn when asked by a reporter about the matter said:

"Under any circumstances it would take at least till November first before any work could be done on the channel, and by that time the season would be too far advanced. Bids for the work must be advertised one month, and the other two months spent in arranging contracts. I hardly see how anything can be done until the River and Harbor bill passes the senate. Under any circumstances no work could be arranged for this year."

SEVERAL SUITS.

A $40,000 Suit Against the Eastern; Smaller Ones Also.

John J. Moran has begun an action against the Eastern Minnesota railroad to recover damages for injuries received by being thrown from a car on Aug. 17, 1889, due as alleged, to the negligence of the company. He lost an arm and was otherwise injured, but thinks $40,000 would make a good substitute for the lost member.

Mr. Krohn has filed a petition asking for the dissolution of partnership and settlement of accounts of the firm of Blumberg & Krohn, formerly doing business at Ely. The petitioner claims that his partner has drawn out more money than he his entitled to, and has made fraudulent entries on the books.

Edward Fiebiger has sued Frazer & Toole to recover $232.75 on a promissory note.

PRICES OF IRON.

Angles, Tees and Bars Advanced; a Steady Market.

PHILADELPHIA, July 14.—Manufacturers advanced the price of angles, tees and bars 1-10c per pound today. The mills have orders which will keep them busy until September 1, and the good demand for structural material warrants the advance.

Pig iron is not in so brisk a demand as it was last month, a number of mills which consume pig metal having shut down.

Steel rails continue in good request, some of light weight selling up to $34 per ton, but $31.50@32 is the general price for heavier rails at the mill.

The Other Side.

LANCASTER, Pa., July 14.—The furnaces of the Chestnut Hill Iron Ore company have shut down, owing to dullness of the market and a large stock on hand. A large number of men are thrown out of employment.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

President Pfeifer and cashier Jones, S. Dungan of the defunct Bank of America in Philadelphia, will stand trial. Senator John B. McFarlane the president of the wrecked American Life Insurance company is however, still a fugitive from justice and all efforts to secure some clue to his whereabouts have so far, been without avail.

The report of an alleged meeting of a National German American Prohibition League, purporting to have been held in Chicago last week, is pronounced a "fake." No such convention has been held or even contemplated, nor is any such movement afoot in German circles.

L. J. Honley the well known actor who had been engaged to support Mrs. Leslie Carter when she appears as a star in the dramatic firmament next fall has cancelled his contract. Friends say he has come to the conclusion that no self respecting actor of merit could be identified with such an organization.

To Investors.

We have, for three days only, 150 feet on lowet side of First street between Oregon and Montana avenues east, for $3600, one-third cash, balance in one and two years. This property does not all lie level, but partly in Oregon creek. To parties with means this is a magnificent location for a home. Look this up.

To be truly happy is a question of what we want, not what we have. For instance, "Fuel for Sunday Service," a fine remarque proof, price $24, we are now offering for $17, and you will be surprised to find how shallow a purse will carry away any of our pictures, for we must have room for purchases to arrive shortly. An Expert Mineralogist.

Professor G. Guttenberg, the famous Pittsburgh geologist, mineralogist and chemist, arrived in Duluth Saturday from the St. Paul convention. He started for the East at 1:55. "I have studied the geological formation of this district with great interest," said the professor to a Herald reporter. "I mean some day to take a jaunt through northern Minnesota. The country plainly shows the marks of the glacial epoch, and I have no doubt but that a careful search would reveal something new to geology. To the archæologist the north shore of this great lake tells the story of a people long since extinct, but whose implements show high civilization. This country is very old. This will not be my last visit to Duluth."

Choice Bostonique.

BOSTON, July 14.—Champion John L. Sullivan was this morning again asked regarding Muldoon's open letter reflecting on his courage. The big fellow flung down the paper, his hand striking the table with force enough to chip a large splinter off the top. "That snake in the grass," yelled John, "has hounded me without reason for weeks. He is a snivelling snipe, a frog, a viper and a scoundrelly blackguard. He calls me a liar. Why, his very letter proves him a liar of the deepest dye. When he says he did'nt write the letter to the Southern authorities he is a liar, as I saw the letter with my own eyes. As to my being a coward, a slur on my bravery from such a sneaking, cheap copper as he cannot hurt me. I have proven my courage. As for his offer to match Kilrain against me again, I have already refused to meet that little sneak, but if Muldoon can show $2500 in cash I might be tempted to essay the task. He is only a plain, simple liar."

Is Warm Again.

This has been another warm day, but the thermometer only reached 86°, 6° less than its highest point this summer. It will possibly not be so warm tomorrow.

Killed by a Passenger.

CHICAGO, July 14.—Christopher Anderson and George Kreitzonieir, shoemakers, were run down by a passenger train at South Englewood, late Saturday night, and received injuries that may result in the death of both. The two men were under the influence of liquor.

The barge Wahnapitae arrived Sunday morning, in tow of the propeller Oneida, with 1600 tons of railroad iron for the Duluth & Winnipeg. She will will load 1,200,000 feet of lumber at E. Hollenbecks for Tonawanda and Buffalo and will complete her load at Ashland. The Oneida will also load lumber.

Why Royal Baking Powder is the Best.

"The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, for I have so found it in many tests made both for that company and the United States Government.

I will go still further and state that, because of the facilities that company have for obtaining perfectly pure cream of tartar, and for other reasons dependent upon the proper proportions of the same, and the method of its preparation, the Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the Purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public.

Interesting Letter on Crops From Crookston; Other Reports.

The market was dull and steady here today, there being no disposition to trade. Other markets were in about the same condition. Chicago opened firm, sold off on report of receipt of 177,000 bu of new wheat at St. Louis, but firmed up again on an unexpected decrease in the visible supply.

The receipt of favorable crop news from Dakota continues. The published reports of severe hail storms in that state are believed to be greatly exaggerated and have no effect on the local market. Nearly 12,000 bu of new No. 1 white winter wheat were received today, coming from the Spokane country. The market closed very dull, July ½ under and September ½ above the opening. MR. STE. CROIX WRITES.

The Indications as to Crops in the Duluth Belt.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Thursday I drove from Casselton about fifteen miles south. The road passes through the Maple valley, reported to be inundated, but of which there is not the least evidence. Prospects in this neighborhood could not well be better, although the plant is a little backward. The heavy storm of last week has done considerable damage to buildings, but not the least to wheat except south of Durben, where 2000 or 3000 acres are damaged by hail from three to five bushels per acre.

Several larger farmers, representing a total of about 30,000 acres, expressed their opinion that crop never looked better, and they estimate harvest to commence Aug. 15 and to yield sixteen to twenty bushels. Friday from Casselton to Valley City. Crops are full of promise and generally heading out in grand shape. At Valley City a general picnic of Barnes county farmers allowed me to interview at least fifty from all parts of the county. Not an unfavorable opinion was expressed. They report wheat well headed, and look for harvest to commence Aug. 5, and estimate a yield of eighteen to twenty bushels right through.

From Glyndon to Crookston good prospects are the rule. Yesterday in a drive of fourteen miles northwest of here I saw wheat fields that almost defy description, the promise being excellent for the heaviest possible crop. There was quite a large gathering of farmers at Fisher's Landing. The general opinion expressed was universally favorable; "never as good before," was the average. Estimates vary from twenty to twenty-five bushels. Appearances fully confirm this. Harvest is expected to commence the second week of August.

Major Quinn today answered by letter the Chamber of Commerce's request for information regarding the completion of the Rice's Point channel. Major Quinn when asked by a reporter about the matter said:

"Under any circumstances it would take at least till November first before any work could be done on the channel, and by that time the season would be too far advanced. Bids for the work must be advertised one month, and the other two months spent in arranging contracts. I hardly see how anything can be done until the River and Harbor bill passes the senate. Under any circumstances no work could be arranged for this year."

SEVERAL SUITS.

A $40,000 Suit Against the Eastern; Smaller Ones Also.

John J. Moran has begun an action against the Eastern Minnesota railroad to recover damages for injuries received by being thrown from a car on Aug. 17, 1889, due as alleged, to the negligence of the company. He lost an arm and was otherwise injured, but thinks $40,000 would make a good substitute for the lost member.

Mr. Krohn has filed a petition asking for the dissolution of partnership and settlement of accounts of the firm of Blumberg & Krohn, formerly doing business at Ely. The petitioner claims that his partner has drawn out more money than he his entitled to, and has made fraudulent entries on the books.

Edward Fiebiger has sued Frazer & Toole to recover $232.75 on a promissory note.

Angles, Tees and Bars Advanced; a Steady Market.

PHILADELPHIA, July 14.—Manufacturers advanced the price of angles, tees and bars 1-10c per pound today. The mills have orders which will keep them busy until September 1, and the good demand for structural material warrants the advance.

Pig iron is not in so brisk a demand as it was last month, a number of mills which consume pig metal having shut down.

The Other Side.

LANCASTER, Pa., July 14.—The furnaces of the Chestnut Hill Iron Ore company have shut down, owing to dullness of the market and a large stock on hand. A large number of men are thrown out of employment.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

President Pfeifer and cashier Jones, S. Dungan of the defunct Bank of America in Philadelphia, will stand trial. Senator John B. McFarlane the president of the wrecked American Life Insurance company is however, still a fugitive from justice and all efforts to secure some clue to his whereabouts have so far, been without avail.

The report of an alleged meeting of a National German American Prohibition League, purporting to have been held in Chicago last week, is pronounced a "fake." No such convention has been held or even contemplated, nor is any such movement afoot in German circles.

L. J. Honley the well known actor who had been engaged to support Mrs. Leslie Carter when she appears as a star in the dramatic firmament next fall has cancelled his contract. Friends say he has come to the conclusion that no self respecting actor of merit could be identified with such an organization.

To Investors.

We have, for three days only, 150 feet on lower side of First street between Oregon and Montana avenues east, for $3600, one-third cash, balance in one and two years. This property does not all lie level, but partly in Oregon creek. To parties with means this is a magnificent location for a home. Look this up.

To be truly happy is a question of what we want, not what we have. It may or may not be a misfortune that you want a fine picture for the parlor; if so, price is no barrier to its acquisition if you call on us. For instance, "Fuel for Sunday Service," a fine remarque proof, price $24, we are now offering for $17, and you will be surprised to find how shallow a purse will carry away any of our pictures, for we must have room for purchases to arrive shortly. An Expert Mineralogist.

Professor G. Guttenberg, the famous Pittsburgh geologist, mineralogist and chemist, arrived in Duluth Saturday from the St. Paul convention. He started for the East at 1:55. "I have studied the geological formation of this district with great interest," said the professor to a Herald reporter. "I mean some day to take a jaunt through northern Minnesota. The country plainly shows the marks of the glacial epoch, and I have no doubt but that a careful search would reveal something new to geology. To the archaeologist the north shore of this great lake tells the story of a people long since extinct, but whose implements show high civilization. This country is very old. This will not be my last visit to Duluth."

Choice Bostonique.

BOSTON, July 14.—Champion John L. Sullivan was this morning again asked regarding Muldoon's open letter reflecting on his courage. The big fellow flung down the paper, his hand striking the table with force enough to chip a large splinter off the top. "That snake in the grass," yelled John, "has hounded me without reason for weeks. He is a snivelling snipe, a frog, a viper and a scoundrelly blackguard. He calls me a liar. Why, his very letter proves him a liar of the deepest dye. When he says he did'nt write the letter to the Southern authorities he is a liar, as I saw the letter with my own eyes. As to my being a coward, a slur on my bravery from such a sneaking, cheap copper as he cannot hurt me. I have proven my courage. As for his offer to match Kilrain against me again, I have already refused to meet that little sneak, but if Muldoon can show $2500 in cash I might be tempted to essay the task. He is only a plain, simple liar."

Is Warm Again.

This has been another warm day, but the thermometer only reached 86°, 6° less than its highest point this summer. It will possibly not be so warm tomorrow.

Killed by a Passenger.

CHICAGO, July 14.—Christopher Anderson and George Kreitzonieir, shoemakers, were run down by a passenger train at South Englewood, late Saturday night, and received injuries that may result in the death of both. The two men were under the influence of liquor.

The barge Wahnapitae arrived Sunday morning, in tow of the propeller Oneida, with 1600 tons of railroad iron for the Duluth & Winnipeg. She will will load 1,200,000 feet of lumber at E. Hollenbecks for Tonawanda and Buffalo and will complete her load at Ashland. The Oneida will also load lumber.

Why Royal Baking Powder is the Best.

"The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, for I have so found it in many tests made both for that company and the United States Government.

I will go still further and state that, because of the facilities that company have for obtaining perfectly pure cream of tartar, and for other reasons dependent upon the proper proportions of the same, and the method of its preparation,

the Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the Purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public.

Interesting Letter on Crops From Crookston; Other Reports.

The market was dull and steady here today, there being no disposition to trade. Other markets were in about the same condition. Chicago opened firm, sold off on report of receipt of 177,000 bu of new wheat at St. Louis, but firmed up again on an unexpected decrease in the visible supply.

The receipt of favorable crop news from Dakota continues. The published reports of severe hail storms in that state are believed to be greatly exaggerated and have no effect on the local market. Nearly 12,000 bu of new No. 1 white winter wheat were received today, coming from the Spokane country. The market closed very dull, July ¼ under and September ⅛ above the opening, August remaining unchanged. December wheat was neglected entirely.

MR. STE. CROIX WRITES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Thursday I drove from Casselton about fifteen miles south. The road passes through the Maple valley, reported to be inundated, but of which there is not the least evidence. Prospects in this neighborhood could not well be better, although the plant is a little backward. The heavy storm of last week has done considerable damage to buildings, but not the least to wheat except south of Durben, where 2000 or 3000 acres are damaged by hail from three to five bushels per acre.

Several larger farmers, representing a total of about 30,000 acres, expressed their opinion that crop never looked better, and they estimate harvest to commence Aug. 15 and to yield sixteen to twenty bushels. Friday from Casselton to Valley City. Crops are full of promise and generally heading out in grand shape. At Valley City a general picnic of Barnes county farmers allowed me to interview at least fifty from all parts of the county. Not an unfavorable opinion was expressed. They report wheat well headed, and look for harvest to commence Aug. 5, and estimate a yield of eighteen to twenty bushels right through.

From Glyndon to Crookston good prospects are the rule. Yesterday in a drive of fourteen miles northwest of here I saw wheat fields that almost defy description, the promise being excellent for the heaviest possible crop. There was quite a large gathering of farmers at Fisher's Landing. The general opinion expressed was universally favorable; "never as good before," was the average. Estimates vary from twenty to twenty-five bushels. Appearances fully confirm this. Harvest is expected to commence the second week of August.

Mr. Krohn has filed a petition asking for the dissolution of partnership and settlement of accounts of the firm of Blumberg & Krohn, formerly doing business at Ely. The petitioner claims that his partner has drawn out more money than he his entitled to, and has made fraudulent entries on the books.

PRICES OF IRON.

Angles, Tees and Bars Advanced; a Steady Market.

PHILADELPHIA, July 14.—Manufacturers advanced the price of angles, tees and bars 1-10c per pound today. The mills have orders which will keep them busy until September 1, and the good demand for structural material warrants the advance.

Pig iron is not in so brisk a demand as it was last month, a number of mills which consume pig metal having shut down.

The Other Side.

LANCASTER, Pa., July 14.—The furnaces of the Chestnut Hill Iron Ore company have shut down, owing to dullness of the market and a large stock on hand. A large number of men are thrown out of employment.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

President Pfeifer and cashier Jones, S. Dungan of the defunct Bank of America in Philadelphia, will stand trial. Senator John B. McFarlane the president of the wrecked American Life Insurance company is however, still a fugitive from justice and all efforts to secure some clue to his whereabouts have so far, been without avail.

The report of an alleged meeting of a National German American Prohibition League, purporting to have been held in Chicago last week, is pronounced a "fake." No such convention has been held or even contemplated, nor is any such movement afoot in German circles.

L. J. Honley the well known actor who had been engaged to support Mrs. Leelie Carter when she appears as a star in the dramatic firmament next fall has cancelled his contract. Friends say he has come to the conclusion that no self respecting actor of merit could be identified with such an organization.

To Investors.

We have, for three days only, 150 feet on lower side of First street between Oregon and Montana avenues east, for $3600, one-third cash, balance in one and two years. To be truly happy is a question of what we want, not what we have. It may or may not be a misfortune that you want a fine picture for the parlor; if so, price is no barrier to its acquisition if you call on us. For instance, "Fuel for Sunday Service," a fine remarque proof, price $24, we are now offering for $17, and you will be surprised to find how shallow a purse will carry away any of our pictures, for we must have room for purchases to arrive shortly. GENTLEMEN OF DULUTH,

As the heated season has only begun with July and August, in the future we are reminded of Charles Lamb's Essays, where he suggests "laying off one's flesh and sitting in your bones." We will please you from the stock, or supply you with a cold wave," which might gently carry you up and on, and finally (in your dreams) leave you happily seated near a trout brook among the snow capped summits of the Rocky Mountains. An Expert Mineralogist.

Professor G. Guttenberg, the famous Pittsburgh geologist, mineralogist and chemist, arrived in Duluth Saturday from the St. Paul convention. He started for the East at 1:55. "I have studied the geological formation of this district with great interest," said the professor to a Herald reporter. "I mean some day to take a jaunt through northern Minnesota. The country plainly shows the marks of the glacial epoch, and I have no doubt but that a careful search would reveal something new to geology. To the archæologist the north shore of this great lake tells the story of a people long since extinct, but whose implements show high civilization. This country is very old. This will not be my last visit to Duluth."

Choice Bostonique.

BOSTON, July 14.—Champion John L. Sullivan was this morning again asked regarding Muldoon's open letter reflecting on his courage. The big fellow flung down the paper, his hand striking the table with force enough to chip a large splinter off the top. "That snake in the grass," yelled John, "has hounded me without reason for weeks. He is a snivelling snipe, a frog, a viper and a scoundrelly blackguard. He calls me a liar. Why, his very letter proves him a liar of the deepest dye. When he says he did'nt write the letter to the Southern authorities he is a liar, as I saw the letter with my own eyes. As to my being a coward, a slur on my bravery from such a sneaking, cheap copper as he cannot hurt me. I have proven my courage. As for his offer to match Kilrain against me again, I have already refused to meet that little sneak, but if Muldoon can show $2500 in cash I might be tempted to essay the task. He is only a plain, simple liar."

Is Warm Again.

This has been another warm day, but the thermometer only reached 86°, 6° less than its highest point this summer. It will possibly not be so warm tomorrow.

Killed by a Passenger.

CHICAGO, July 14.—Christopher Anderson and George Kreitzonieir, shoemakers, were run down by a passenger train at South Englewood, late Saturday night, and received injuries that may result in the death of both. The two men were under the influence of liquor.

The barge Wahnapitae arrived Sunday morning, in tow of the propeller Oneida, with 1600 tons of railroad iron for the Duluth & Winnipeg. She will will load 1,200,000 feet of lumber at E. Hollenbecks for Tonawanda and Buffalo and will complete her load at Ashland. The Oneida will also load lumber.

Why Royal Baking Powder is the Best.

"The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, for I have so found it in many tests made both for that company and the United States Government.

I will go still further and state that, because of the facilities that company have for obtaining perfectly pure cream of tartar, and for other reasons dependent upon the proper proportions of the same, and the method of its preparation, the Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the Purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public.
